

CHICKEN MARKET DULL IN PORTLAND

PORTLAND, Ore., June 21.—(AP)—Extreme dullness was generally suggested in the market for live chickens with some recent price shading reported. There was a real shortage of small broilers and for that reason most operators were willing to drag more or less, although no further price changes were suggested for the day. Demand for turkeys was rather slow with suggestion of poor quality as a rule.

While there were no further changes for the day in the butter market, eagerness was suggested in the price structure as a result of the late decline and increasing supply. Egg market suggested a merely steady tone locally and practically without price changes for recent days. Pullet laying was suggested as the chief reason for recent increase in the supply.

Wall St. Report
 NEW YORK, June 21.—(AP)—The stock market today enjoyed one of its sharpest rallies in a number of months as bullish forces shed their new tax fears and reached for desired equities.
 Numerous new highs for the year or longer were recorded with gains ranging from 1 to around 5 points. The close was strong.
 Transfers approximated 1,000,000 shares.
 Secondary utility and rail bonds were in demand. Most foreign exchanges were firm in terms of the dollar.

Lullaby Supper

LITTLE children, tired with play and nearly ready for bed, should have light, nourishing, easily digested foods for their evening meal.

Kellogg's Corn Flakes, eaten before bedtime, help children sleep. Scientific tests conducted in a large university have proven this. Children who had Kellogg's for supper slept 30% more soundly than those who ate heavier foods.

Kellogg's restore energy without overloading small stomachs. They're pleasant, appetizing. Children love their crispness and delicious flavor.

All grocers sell Kellogg's Corn Flakes. Ready to serve from the WAXITTE bag inside the red-and-green package. Economical. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
