CLUB, GAS TACOMA MILL PICKETS

By PAUL MALLON
(Copyright, 1935, by Paul Mallon)
WASHINGTON, June 24.—The political frosting was so thick on President Roosevelt's wealth-taxing program that some confusion has developed as to what is in the cake underneath, if there is a cake.
The best tax economists outside the government have been carving on it among themselves to separate the froth from the substance.
What they have found is that, no matter how you slice these wealth-sharing suggestions, they still amount to little more than good campaign slogans. Not only from them, but also from good new deal sources, you can learn off the record that this phase was intended primarily as a little political sweetening for Huey Long, who has been sour on the new deal lately.

Mr. Roosevelt wisely neglected to mention any rates for his wealth-sharing inheritance taxes. This makes it difficult but not impossible to get a good idea of what to expect from them.
The only rate guide you have is the one offered by Treasury Secretary Morgenthau a few weeks ago. When the bonus was up, he suggested a schedule of extra-heavy inheritance rates, matching existing surtax rates. He estimated they would raise $300,000,000 a year, possibly more. President Roosevelt does not want to go that far, so, if you take the $300,000,000 revenue expectation from this source, you will have an optimistic advance guess.
If you slice this up among 120,000,000 people, you will find that your slice would be $2.50 a year, which you would not get because it would be applied to reduction of the federal debt.
And if you apply it to a $29,000,000,000 debt and compare it with a $2,500,000,000 budget, you can see that Mr. Roosevelt will have to go out and slay a lot of millionaires fast to get the books balanced that way.
The truth is that the government may break up a few hundred fortunes this way, but that the great bulk of the wealth of the country does not lie in these budding reservoirs.
To get it another way: 134 estates were paid in 1933 on estates valued at more than a million dollars each. The net taxable worth of these estates was $284,000,000; the federal tax paid $28,000,000. If the government had seized these estates entirely by a 100 per cent tax on them, it would have received only $28,000,000 more than it did. No one is proposing to go more than half that far, including Mr. Roosevelt.

Since the froth off the plan for taxing more heavily the incomes of more than a million dollars, and you will find the same thing. In 1933 there were exactly forty-six persons in that class. (In 1929 there were 46.)

GENERAL STRIKE MAY BE CALLED IN RETALIATION

National Guardsmen and State Police Scatter Union Lines to Permit Reopening of Lumber Plants

EUREKA, Calif., June 24.—(AP)—Tension eased noticeably today in the lumber strike area here as several hundred longshoremen who walked out in sympathy with mill workers returned to their jobs and William Kaarte, 42, picket, slain in Friday's rioting, was buried with complete absence of demonstration.

PORTLAND, June 24.—(AP)—An attitude they described as "most hopeful" was taken by union officials here today after a series of conferences designed to end the disastrous lumber strike.
The expression was made by A. W. Muir, spokesman for the striking Sawmill and Timber Workers' union, and by D. E. Nickerson, chairman of organized labor's strike strategy committee.
Both men and their co-workers had said earlier in the day that the one thing they are seeking to settle is the controversy at the earliest possible moment, and that the day should bring results.

TACOMA, Wash., June 24.—(AP)—Steel-helmeted National Guardsmen, armed with bayonets and state police swinging clubs and throwing tear gas bombs scattered pickets and permitted reopening of Tacoma sawmills today.
Summoned hastily, the Tacoma central labor council was reported to be considering a general strike in retaliation for the attempted break-up of the two-months' old strike.

MULTNOMAH DEMOS WOULD OUST BECKMAN AS COUNTY CHAIRMAN

PORTLAND, June 24.—(AP)—The revelation that John J. Beckman, chairman of the Multnomah county Democratic central committee, has been appointed attorney to handle affairs of the state corporation department's building and loan association, was stirring up a new brand of political gossip here today.
For several months Beckman has been under fire by a certain element in the Multnomah county central committee. The opposition, headed by H. J. Lange, secretary of the committee, has declared Beckman has imposed a "boss rule" over local Democratic affairs, and that application of political patronage has been considerably less than satisfactory.
Lange and others have taken the attitude that by accepting the attorneyship with the state corporation department, Beckman has disqualified himself as chairman of the county committee.

WILL ERECT MILL AT PROVOLT MINE SOON

PROVOLT, June 24.—(Sp.)—Final plans have been completed for leasing of the gold quartz mine owned by Glen Provolt of this community and Z. B. Truxell of Greenville, Cal. The mine, across the Applegate river from Provolt, has been taken over by T. M. Darnell, P. C. Dresser and W. G. Reynolds of Indiana.
Within 30 days, they expect to erect a mill at the cost of several thousand dollars.

C-C Mining Committee Has Important Status

The mining committee of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce is one of the most important in the organization. It was announced by officials this morning. Although perhaps its work is not given the publicity which is received by other committees, nevertheless its activities are vitally important.
The purpose of the mining committee is three-fold:
1. To encourage legitimate mining.
2. To discourage illegitimate mining.
3. To advertise mining possibilities here by giving only the true facts.

By virtue of the fact that there is no up-to-date survey available relating to minerals in this section, the work of this committee is made more difficult, it was stated.
Last year the committee recommended a project to the Public Works Administration for a chrome survey to be made in southern Oregon and northern California. In order to determine what mines are operating in this territory and also to be in a position to bring buyer and seller together if necessary, two sets of questionnaires were published by the committee for the use of those who have mines and may like to dispose of them. These questionnaires are available at the Chamber of Commerce office and are gone over by the committee very thoroughly when filled out.

WILMER ALLISON OUT OF TOURNEY

LONDON, June 24.—(AP)—Wilmer Allison, of Austin, Tex., top ranking American player, was eliminated from singles competition in the Wimbledon championships today when he dropped his first round match to Vivian McGrath of Australia, 6-4, 6-3, 7-9, 7-8.
The American star was the first seeded player forced out of the men's championships.
Allison staged several game rallies during the four-set match, but his frequent misjudging of distance was costly.
Most of the other leading players, including Sidney B. Wood and John Van Ryn of the United States; continental; Fred Perry, British and American champion and H. W. (Bunny) Austin, the tournament's fourth ranking player, advanced easily into the second round, but Roderich Menzel, the big Czechoslovakian, was forced to go four sets to defeat L. C. Cater of England.

DEPOSIT INSURANCE EXTENSION APPROVED

WASHINGTON, June 24.—(AP)—A senate banking subcommittee today approved a joint resolution extending for one year from June 30 the temporary deposit insurance law guaranteeing individual deposits up to $5000.
The full committee will consider the proposal tomorrow.
Subcommittee members were reluctant to discuss the action, but several insisted it did not mean the pending administration bank bill was going over until next session.

ROOSEVELT WANTS WEALTH TAX BILL PRESENT SESSION

Congressional Leaders Told President May Insist On Action — Senator Bora's Backing Lends Hope

WASHINGTON, June 24.—(AP)—Congressional leaders were informed today, just a few hours before talking with the president himself, that Mr. Roosevelt would like to have his wealth tax program enacted this session.
The word was conveyed to them by a close friend of the president, who talked with him today before arrangements were made for the leaders to discuss the situation with the president.
One of the leaders, asked whether his understanding was that Mr. Roosevelt would insist the taxes be acted upon before congress adjourns, replied:
"I assume so."
Senator Bora's declaration that President Roosevelt's proposal for new taxation on wealth is "sound in principle" lent encouragement today to a group of legislators fighting to put such a plan across this session.
The group, in which Senator La Follette (Wis.) is prominent, gave notice that unless the administration pressed a separate bill at this session to carry out the Roosevelt program they would force the issue by offering it as a rider to a pending resolution—extending $500,000,000 in "nuisance" taxes.

STOCKTON MILLING PLANT IS BURNED

STOCKTON, Cal., June 24.—(AP)—The Stockton plant at the Taylor Milling company, including all machinery and a considerable amount of grain in the two buildings, was destroyed by fire early today.
H. E. Bosa, manager of the plant, said he could not estimate the loss, because all records not contained in the fire are in the company's main office in Los Angeles. Unofficial estimates placed the damage at about $400,000.
Breaking out about 4 a. m., reportedly due to spontaneous combustion, the flames swept a two-story warehouse filled with poultry feed and other mill products and spread to the company's five-story machinery building adjoining. Four hours later the plant was a total loss.

FRUIT GROWERS MEET WITH ROTARY TUESDAY

The meeting of the directors of the Fruit Growers league and orchardists scheduled for tomorrow noon at the Medford hotel has been changed, it was announced this morning by J. B. Kirz, president of the Fruit Growers league. The meeting will be held with the Rotary club instead, in order to present Dr. George W. Peavy of the Oregon Agricultural College a larger audience.
All directors of the league and orchardists who intend to be present at the meeting are urged to notify the Chamber of Commerce immediately so that the necessary reservations can be made.

ASK BAPTISTS TO CONDEMN EVILS OF MODERN WAYS

Immoral Motion Pictures, Gambling, Liquor Traffic and Ads Included in Resolution at Assembly

By Frank Ewing
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., June 24.—(AP)—Resolutions condemning immoral motion pictures, gambling, liquor traffic and advertising, repression of religion, child labor and a host of other elements committment styled evils of modern society, were placed before northern Baptists in annual assembly here today.
Accompanying the far reaching resolution committee report were nominations for 1937 convention officers and officials of a dozen general church organizations.
Dr. J. H. Franklin, president of Crozer Theological Seminary, Chester, Pa., was nominated president of the 1937 convention, considered tantamount to election since the convention seldom votes counter to recommendations of the committee.
Officers will be formally elected tomorrow and resolutions voted. Dr. Franklin recently retired as foreign secretary of the American Baptist Foreign Mission society.
Striking at repeat without mentioning it by name, the resolution report stated "a larger number of automobile accidents, increased bootlegging, and rising consumption of strong drink among all ages are the reappearance of devastating evils always accompanying the liquor traffic."
The temperance resolution deplored the "increase in liquor advertising in newspapers and magazines and on the radio with its attendant demoralizing influence upon the American home."
Anti-lynching legislation was recommended strongly so that "lynching may be punished as effectively as the kindred crime of kidnapping."
He shot birds at the second, ninth and eleventh.
With a score of 80, two over par, Mrs. J. B. Gilmore of Seattle, took an early lead in the qualifying round of the Pacific Northwest Women's golf championship at Broadmoor.
Right on her heels came Mrs. B. E. Eva of Portland, with an 81, and Miss Barbara Beach Thompson of Palo Alto, Calif., with the same score.
Other scores included Marian McDougall, Portland, defending champion, 83.
BOISE, Idaho, June 24.—(AP)—Mrs. Eva Coe, waded and nerve wracked after nine months in Sing Sing prison's death house, was near collapse today as she awaited her execution Thursday night.
The state says Mrs. Coe, Osteo county roadhouse keeper, must die for the "insurance murder" last summer of her handyman, Harry Wright. Only executive clemency can save her from becoming the fifth woman electrocuted in New York.

DOOMED WOMAN NEARS COLLAPSE

The nine months in the death house has turned her blond hair to gray. She has lost from 25 to 30 pounds and complains of intense headaches and nervousness. Because of the headaches and nervousness, she has abandoned her only activity, embroidering handkerchiefs for friends.

WILL SPEAK HERE

Dr. W. P. Shepard, of San Francisco, nationally known physician, will be main speaker at a forum luncheon at the Hotel Medford Thursday noon sponsored by the Jackson County Health association, Jackson County Medical association and the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce.

HOG SLAUGHTERING LESS THIS SEASON

WASHINGTON, June 24.—(AP)—A prediction that fewer hogs will be slaughtered this summer in the United States than for many years was made today by the department of agriculture.
It said stocks of pork on June 1 were smallest for that date in 20 years, and stocks of lard were the smallest in 12 years.
Inspected hog slaughter in May was reported at 2,172,000 head, about 48.3 per cent smaller than in May last year, and the smallest for that month since 1896.
For the eight months of October-May, hogs slaughtered under federal inspection totaled 24,016,000 head, 24 per cent less than the corresponding months in 1933-34.

Business Upturn Slated Say Wall Street Seers

NEW YORK, June 24.—(AP)—If business follows the same pattern of intermediate cycles it has pursued since the spring of 1933, Wall Street analysts say the next few months should see a pronounced upswing.
Since the banking holiday in March, 1933, there apparently have been three small cycles or waves of business activity, each of about nine months duration.
It appears that business activity is now around the bottom of the trough between the third wave, and a fourth or oncoming wave.
Measuring these cycles by the monthly index of industrial production compiled by Standard Statistics Co. and based on 1926 as 100, the first nine-month cycle started from a level of 55 in March, 1933. It reached its crest in July at 88.4, and sloughed through November.
The second wave started in December, 1933, from a trough at 67.1 or substantially above the previous bottom. It worked up to 79.5 in May, 1934, falling to get as high as the previous crest, then slid down through August.
The trough from which the third wave started was 62.2, in September, somewhat below the previous one, but still well above the 55 level on which the first wave started. The upward sweep carried into last March, when a crest of 84.3 was reached, which again failed to top the crest of that first steep wave.
Just where the third wave ends is yet to be determined decisively. If the nine-month pattern is to be followed precisely, the low point should be this month. Standard Statistics Co.'s preliminary estimate of its index for this month is 74.2, well above the bottom of previous troughs.

TACOMA, June 24.—(AP)—Trial of Mrs. Margaret Waley on charges of kidnaping and conspiracy in the $200,000 abduction of 9-year old George Weyerhaeuser, was set by Judge E. E. Cushman in federal court here today for July 5.

EGAN LEADS FIELD IN NORTHWESTERN BY SUB-PAR GOLF

SEATTLE GOLF CLUB, Seattle, June 24.—(AP)—H. Chandler Egan, former national champion and Walker cup team member of Medford, Ore., shot his way into the hole lead of the Pacific Northwest championship this morning with a 71, two under par.
Egan was over par on but one hole of the eighteen, the seventeenth. There, he three-putted.
Coming to that hole the gallery figured the brilliant veteran, by equaling par and then getting a birdie at the comparatively easy eighteenth, might get a sparkling 69; but he couldn't make it.
He shot birdies at the second, ninth and eleventh.
With a score of 80, two over par, Mrs. J. B. Gilmore of Seattle, took an early lead in the qualifying round of the Pacific Northwest Women's golf championship at Broadmoor.
Right on her heels came Mrs. B. E. Eva of Portland, with an 81, and Miss Barbara Beach Thompson of Palo Alto, Calif., with the same score.
Other scores included Marian McDougall, Portland, defending champion, 83.

DRIVERS SLOW IN GETTING PERMITS

SALEM, June 24.—(AP)—Only about one-fourth of the automobile drivers in Oregon have obtained new operators' licenses or renewed their old ones, it was announced by the state department. It was estimated there were about 360,000 operators in Oregon.
The time for use of old permits ends at midnight next Sunday, after which arrests will be made by state police for violations of the law. The new licenses will be good for two years. Extra crews were put on by the secretary of state to handle the rush for permits this week.
Under the law only persons over 70 years of age, new drivers and those who have had suspensions or revocations, after the periods are up, are required to submit to examinations.

METHODIST CONFERENCE IN SALEM DURING WEEK

SALEM, June 24.—(AP)—Approximately 150 ministers and a like number of lay delegates will meet here this week for organization of the 83rd session of the Oregon annual conference of the Methodist church.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., June 22.—Mr. Roosevelt went to see Yale race Harvard in boats today. Funny he didn't go to see the big league row at Poughkeepsie. These Western colleges can drag an anchor and beat Yale or Harvard.
They are seating a new senator today. The whole argument is whether he is 30 years old or not. West Virginia keeps no records and they can't remember back that far. Funny thing about being a United States senator. The only thing the law says you have to be is 30 years old. Not another single requirement necessary. They just figure that a man that old has got nobody to blame but himself if he gets caught in there. Yours,
Will Rogers.
