Community Hall Move Is Started At Beaver Creek

BIG APPLIGATE, June 28.—(Sp.)—Following a general need for a community hall in the Beaver creek district, residents there have initiated a movement for financing and constructing a hall which would be built on an acre of land donated by Ed Ripley. A committee, including Floyd Ripley, Omar Culy, and Jack Riley, are investigating the possibilities of such an undertaking, and have announced a community picnic Sunday for the discussion of plans. With the forest service donating logs for the building, only small donations of money would be necessary for purchase of flooring, the committee believes, and labor would be the principal requisite expected of each resident. Floyd Ripley will be foreman of the construction. With an orchestra being formed in the Watkins district, it is believed that need of a convenient place for community gatherings is becoming more imperative.
