GOVERNOR HEARS NEWBURY'S PLEA FOR REED PARDON

Medford Attorney Spends Over Hour Going Over Case—Ashland Officer's Evidence Perjury, Claim

SALEM, June 28.—(AP)—An appeal for the pardon of Albert W. Reed, Denver, serving a life sentence in the Oregon penitentiary for the killing of Police Officer Victor Knott in Ashland in 1931, was presented to Governor Martin late yesterday by Gus Newbury, Medford attorney.

In the governor's office for more than an hour, Newbury presented affidavits of prominent citizens attempting to prove that Reed at the time of the murder, was not at the scene of the crime. Reed was "wrongfully convicted on the perjured evidence of Roy Layman, prosecuting witness," he declared in his appeal.

Although Layman positively identified Reed as the murderer at the trial, Newbury said, he repeatedly had declared at the time of the crime that he could not identify either of the two men who had shot Knott in the car. Layman was with Knott at the time he was killed.

Layman "had perjured himself because somebody told him to. Who did I don't know, but Layman would not have done so voluntarily," Newbury charged. He pointed out as a "significant fact" that after additional evidence was obtained Layman was forced to resign from the Ashland police department.

Newbury said the evidence he submitted in his plea for the pardon was obtained after the trial. Judge H. D. Norton, however, had denied the new trial and the defense could not raise funds to take the appeal to the supreme court.

Among defense affidavits submitted new evidence was one by State Representative Moore Hamilton of Medford. George Alexander, deputy state police superintendent, testified the police had no previous criminal record against Reed, but that there was a possibility Reed may have been a lookout man or worked with or was one of the two men who allegedly committed the crime.

The two men with Reed the night of the crime, identified by the names of McQuade and Jackson, and who escaped in Reed's car, have not been apprehended.

The governor promised his consideration of the matter.

KILL INDICTMENTS MARION SHERIFF

SALEM, June 28.—(AP)—The two indictments against Sheriff A. C. Burk of Marion county, relative to escape of prisoners from the county jail, were quashed by Circuit Judge Fred W. Wilson here late yesterday.

The judge, without listening to extended arguments or asking for additional time for deliberation, not only quashed the indictments but ordered all facts concerning the sheriff's office resubmitted to a new grand jury in July.

By his order Judge Wilson sustained the motion of Burk's attorneys, who maintained that Judge L. H. McMahan of the Marion county circuit court had used improper influence in having the grand jury return charges against the sheriff.

WOMAN PAYS PENALTY MURDERING HANDY MAN

By WILLIAM SPEAR, (Associated Press Staff Writer) OSSINING, N. Y., June 28.—(AP)—A grave beside that of the handy man she murdered for $12,000 insurance awaited Eva Coo today.

She paid for his life with hers in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison last night.

Whether she actually would be buried in the plot she had selected for herself and Harry Wright in quiet Cooperstown, N. Y., was to be decided after word was received from relatives in Ontario.

Mrs. Coo went dazedly to her death with no last-minute denial of the crime—felling Wright with a mallet and then having an automobile shuffled across him by Mrs. Martha Clift, who was sentenced to 20 years in prison.

"Good-bye, darlings," was all she said.

She addressed two matrons who stood weeping before the chair.

clinging to the arms of a white-haired guard.

They formed a screen between the woman in the flowered blue print and 22 witnesses. The chaplain intoned the twenty-third psalm—"The Lord is My Shepherd" and the current cracked.

Leonard Scarnici, up-state gangster, was executed immediately after Mrs. Coo's body had been wheeled from the room. He shot Detective James Stevens during a bank holdup in Benaeslar.

He came in grinning widely, chewing gum and puffing a cigaret held with a steady hand.

"O. K. pard," he said just before the current was applied.

After a couple of minutes the bonds were loosed, and two doctors applied stethoscopes to his chest. They nodded to each other and one murmured, "pronounce this man dead."

"This way out," a guard called, and the witnesses were hurried out.

BRITAIN SUFFERS SETBACK IN ROLE OF PEACEMAKER

An arrangement of Ethiopia before the league tribunal as "unfit" to belong at Geneva or to claim the league's protection would be followed by a demand for an Italian protectorate over the empire.

With that course of procedure failing, Italy would invade Ethiopia to effect a "complete solution" of the border dispute by force.

Despite the forewarned failure of his mission to Rome on the Ethiopian question, Eden was considered to have achieved considerable success in his talks, both with Mussolini and Premier Pierre Laval of France toward early conclusion of an eastern pact to include Germany.

The French, however, were understood to want all four pending problems settled in a block, while the British government was eager to push an air Locarno to an agreement first, so that failure in any other move would not result in an entire collapse.

Italy, on the other hand, was understood to be most interested in a Danubian pact, wanting to see that signed before entering any other agreements.

While Italy, France and Great Britain were of separate minds on these matters, some quarters believed the whole European collective security system, of which they are integral parts, might be threatened in the next few months by Il Duce's "African adventure."

BUSINESS WOMEN GOLFERS BLOW UP

CHICAGO, June 28.—(AP)—America's two business women golfers, Miss Helen Hicks and Mildred (Babe) Diddis, both blew up today in the semi-finals of the women's western open golf championship.

Mrs. Opal S. Hill, Kansas City, conquered Miss Hicks, national champion in 1931, 2 and 1, while Mrs. S. L. Reinhardt, Wimpika, Ill., defeated the Texas Babe, 5 and 4.

Mrs. Hill, a veteran campaigner and former western champion, meets Mrs. Reinhardt in the 36-hole championship match tomorrow.

The surprising defeat of the business women golfers was due to the fact that the iron play and putting ability of their opponents was superior. Miss Hicks left the turn all square with Mrs. Hill, while the Texas Babe was three down to Mrs. Reinhardt.
