

HOWARD RODGERS, BELOVED PIONEER OF VALLEY, DIES

In the passing of Howard Edward Rodgers this valley lost one of its best known and beloved pioneers. His parents crossed the plains and settled at Hartshurg, Oregon where he was born Sept. 28, 1868. When he was three years of age the family moved to the Beagle district where Mr. Rodgers resided until five years ago when he and his family moved to the Table Rock district where he passed away July 6.

Mr. Rodgers was a man of sterling character and was known for his honesty and integrity as well as his sense of humor and patience which did not desert him during his long and trying illness. He was a member of the Baptist church and took an active part in Sunday school and church affairs until his illness prevented.

On the 29th of Sept. 1904, Mr. Rodgers was united in marriage with Ada Henderson and to this union were born three daughters and a son, Mrs. Gladys Hart, Burnus Rodgers, Mrs. Delise Holst and Hubert Rodgers.

Besides the immediate family Mr. Rodgers leaves two sisters, Mrs. Emma Houston of Central Point, Mrs. Lillie Carter of Cold Hill and two brothers, Frank of Cold Hill and John of Medford.

CAVES CITY WILL REGISTER AUTOS

CAVES CITY, July 11.—(Sp.)—Out-of-state motor vehicles entering Oregon by way of the Redwood highway will be registered at Cave City as soon as road signs are set up by the highway department, work promised for the next few days. It was announced at a meeting of the local chamber of commerce Tuesday evening.

Complete office equipment for registration has been received from the secretary of state in Salem, and has been installed in the chamber of commerce rooms in the new Brookings-Hussey building. Although autos may be registered at the present time, Dr. E. E. Brooks, chamber president, said the office will not be officially opened until the highway signs are put up.

Registration will be under the supervision of the local chamber, and will be handled by Elwood Hussey and L. E. Bidache, both residents of the Illinois valley for many years. Displays will feature the Oregon Caves, 20 miles distant.

STATE OFFICIALS VISIT WIMER CCC

CAMP WIMER, July 11.—Edward M. Paulsen, state superintendent of transient camps, and Thomas L. McCullough, superintendent of the Saven Creek transient camp, inspected Wimer today. The visit was for the purpose of exchanging ideas in camp arrangement.

Paulsen is building a new camp which will make nine transient camps in Oregon. There are 1,000 transients now living in the eight camps already established. The state superintendent estimates that there are at least a hundred homeless riding each freight train traveling in Oregon. This roving population, ineligible for regular relief or for enrollment in the CCC, finds the transient camps a welcome refuge.

Capt. Guy W. Saunders conducted the visitors over the camp, explaining in detail the special features which have been put into operation at Wimer.

BOXER CONFESSES SLAYING WAITRESS

LONDON, July 11.—(AP)—A police officer testified in Lambeth police court today that Raymond Henry Bouquet, 30, Winnipeg boxer, who has been fighting here under the name of Del Pontaine, had confessed the murder of Hilda Meeks, 21, a waitress, and wounding of the girl's mother, Mrs. Alice Meeks.

The crime took place in South London last night and Bouquet appeared in court today, charged with the murder of Miss Meeks, and with the wounding of the elder woman with intent to murder her. Mrs. Meeks is in serious condition. Preliminary hearing was adjourned for eight days.

MEDFORD SPARED USUAL TORRIDITY OF SUMMER SUN

The temperature mounted to 86 yesterday for the highest mark reached yet this month, but even though Old Sol did exert himself to that extent, the July average this year has been far below normal with unusually cold weather for so late in the summer prevailing, according to the weather bureau.

Looking back through the records, the weather man disclosed that the lowest mark so far this month was 42.9 on July 6, which will probably stand during the rest of July and August. This mark is exceedingly low for the generally warm month of July, and the records revealed that since the weather bureau was established here the mercury in July has very seldom dropped below that point. The all-time low record of the month is 39 degrees, reached in 1921. Other low marks were 42 degrees recorded in 1926, 1929 and 1932, only 9 of a degree lower than last Saturday's recording.

Due to the fact that there have been very few days with uncomfortably warm temperatures, the summer so far has seemed much cooler than usual. Records during the first of the current month have been below the average, but the weather man reported that the average for June has been very close to normal.

The maximum average was, in fact, slightly above normal during June, the weather man said, but the weather lacked the sudden climbs in temperature during continued heat. The minimum for June averaged 49.3, within 2 of a degree of the average low mark during the course of the past several years.

The precipitation during June, however, was only a trace, a rare case which has only been recorded officially once before, in the year 1919.

DRIVERS TO TAKE EXAMS TOMORROW

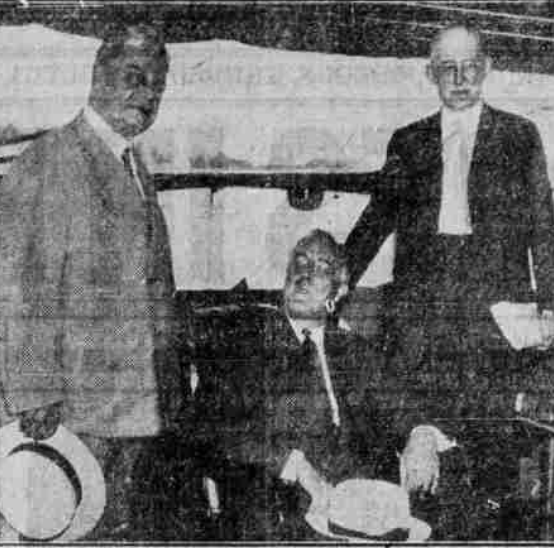

Those who have not yet applied for their driver's license may do so tomorrow or Saturday at the city hall, when Ward McReynolds, assisted by Harry Moore will be in Medford on their regular visit. It is estimated that hundreds will flock to the office to take their examinations.

Only those who have never had a license, or those over 70 years of age are required to take the examination. All those who had a license last year need only obtain a blank from the state or city police, or from the Mail Tribune office, and send it to the secretary of state at Salem, accompanied by a remittance of $1. The old license should not accompany the application.

When McReynolds and Moore were here two weeks ago, cars lined up for four blocks, waiting their turn with the examiners. Between 90 and 90 are given the tests each day, but so large was the throng last time that many were forced to wait until tomorrow before they could be interviewed.

OLDS TAX SUIT SLATED FRIDAY

Hearing before Circuit Judge H. D. Norton of the suit of the Owen-Oregon Lumber company against Millard D. Olds, for payment of $7,470.13, assertedly due under terms of a contract of purchase, will start in circuit court tomorrow.

The suit has been pending for more than 19 years, and the money involved represents Jackson county taxes for the last half of 1924, with interest.

Olds sold his mill, timber land and railroad holdings to the Owen-Oregon company for $1,700,000, papers filed in the action revealed. The transaction was based upon the property being free from all taxes and other encumbrance. The plaintiff contends that the $7,470.13 tax money is due from Olds under terms of the contract.

The defendant holds that under the contract he is not obligated for the payment, and that when he discovered the discrepancy he asked that the contract be changed, which was never done.

Olds, with his son-in-law, Robert Burnham, arrived today from Sheboygan, Mich., for the hearing.

ASHLAND DEFICIT FOR CELEBRATION IS ONLY $188.07

ASHLAND, July 11.—(Sp.)—A deficit of only $188.07, about half as large as at first estimated by committee members was incurred in the Fourth of July celebration here, according to figures released today.

With nearly $400 pledged in a preliminary financial drive, it was pointed out that close to 60 per cent of the subscriptions from business firms could be refunded.

Largest single item of revenue was $465 for concessions, including $300 paid by the Stephens Superior show. The Shakespearean Festival earned $271, more than any other local attraction, the figure only netting $104.40 and costing $206.81.

Biggest expenditure was for the beautiful fireworks display, on which was spent $351.15. Only $9.10 was expended on the Donkey baseball games, and $80.10 accrued to the celebration fund.

A survey of the financial outcome of the celebration was made at a meeting of the committee Monday night, when the possibility of keeping a permanent Fourth of July organization working the year round, was discussed. Whether or not this will be probably rests with the organizations of the city which initiated the event this year.

Final budget figures follow:
Receipts:
Donkey baseball $ 80.10
Concessions 465.00
Standard Oil Co. 10.90
Fights 194.40
Medford subscriptions 125.00
Shakespearean Festival 271.00

The Owen-Oregon company is represented by Attorney A. E. Reames; the defendant by Attorney George M. Roberts.
