

20-30 WINS LAST BURRO BASEBALL TILT FROM STARS

An donkey baseball players, members of the 20-30 club proved "top" last night at the High School athletic field, when True Bunyon, centerfielder, bounced across the home plate aboard a fast-stepping jackass in the extra inning to break a tie and win the game by a score of 3-2 over the All-stars. It was the third straight victory for the 20-30 clubbers in the three game series.

The All-stars, boasting such celebrated burro-busters as Bill Bowerman, new Medford high coach, who incidentally got well acquainted with the dust there, and George Shreve in their lineup, lacked the experience of the 20-30 clubbers in attacking on top of the long-eared donkeys, but with runs brought in by Jack Hughes, pitcher, and Carl Reaser, they had the score knotted 2-2 at the end of the regular playing time of three comical innings.

The line-up:

20-30 club—Ivan Harrington, catcher; Alton Anderson, pitcher; Herb Brown, first base; Aubrey Sauter, second base; Del Cox, shortstop; Fred Underwood, third base; Doc Grimm, left field; True Bunyon, centerfield; Lyle Lindley, rightfield.

Lindley, who wrenched his knee painfully when bucked from one of the donkeys, was taken to a doctor for treatment, but was reported recovering as well as could be expected today.

The first event of the double-header ended in a 2-2 tie for the same 20-30 club lineup and a team composed of members of the Eagles' auxiliary drill team.

At the end of the regular playing time the score stood 1-1. When the extra inning was called, Babe Anderson, shortstop on the girls' team, swung at one pitched by her husband, Andy Anderson, and scurried around the bases to break the tie as the 20-30 club infield got rattled and failed to handle the ball. Then to get even with his wife, Andy himself stepped up to the plate for 20-30 club and whanged out a single, jumped aboard Bambo with the fans cheering wildly, and scored a home run to end the game at a deadlock.

The girls' line-up:

Elsie McEwen, catcher; Cecil Sullivan, pitcher; Eva Andrus, first base; Catherine Gillette, second base; Helen Hicks, third base; Maigle Croucher, shortstop; Neva Croucher, leftfield; Alta Croucher, centerfield; Verda Kendall, rightfield; Babe Anderson shortstop.

ROGUES TO PLAY COLORED CLOWNS HERE ON JULY 21

If the advance notices handed out relative to the Broadway Clowns, colored baseball club scheduled to play the Medford Rogues at the fairgrounds Sunday, July 21, can be believed, the locals are in for another drubbing. But allowing for a slight exaggeration in the announcement that "Little Boy" Blue, Clown pitcher, is another "Lefty" Grove, Manager Hoffard believes the Rogues will have a better than outside chance to win.

Hoffard pointed out that it is when the going gets toughest that the locals work best. The advance posters for the clown aggregation point out that Clifford Loukas, another Clown pitcher, is one of the "greatest pitchers of all time." "All time" covers a pretty fair amount of territory, so the going may get tough enough to make the locals into world series material.

Typical of touring baseball clubs, the Broadway Clowns are possessors of the "funniest man in baseball." In this case, the funniest man in baseball is John Sanders, the club's short stop. Other big-shots in the organization are "Lump" Williams, 220-pound catcher and home run king; Ollie Boyd, former Kansas City Monarch chucker; Bill White, the playing-pitcher catcher, and "Red" Gauder, and Louis Williams, hot corner ace.

Hoffard announced today that he will start Bouman on the mound against the Clowns, with Bouchard behind the hickory.

No season tickets will be honored at the game.

SEALS' DUMBNESS GIVES HOLLYWOOD 5 TO 3 VICTORY

(By the Associated Press)

An attack of mental deficiency in the seventh frame of the San Francisco-Hollywood baseball game, with the score tied gave the Stars a 5 to 3 win and the Seals an all time high for dumbness, or something.

Joe Di Maggio and Joe Marty started things with an "Alphonse and Gaston" act in right center, on Jolley's fly. After that every time a San Francisco infielder got his hands on the ball he thought he was playing for keeps and refused to throw it.

Mulligan bunted scoring Jolley.

Henceforth it has taken an act of congress to allow big lumbering Jolley to come home on a bunt, but that's what he did, and while Pitcher Ed Stults was wondering what to do with the ball, Mulligan reached first safely.

A few more boners and both Mulligan and Gene Desautels were perched on second base with Third Baseman Barker in possession of the ball. While he was monkeying around, Mulligan pushed Desautels off the bag and he returned to first safely.

Walter Beck, Red right-hander, chalked up his 15th victory of the season as the Mission downed Los Angeles 8 to 7. The big bat of Oscar Eckhardt, leading minor league hitter of the country, saved the day for Beck. Oscar got four for five, scoring two runs and knocking in two more.

Portland made it two straight over Sacramento last night in a 6 to 8 ball game that was not settled until the final pitch. Don Johnson popped out to end it with three mates on bases. Six hitters distributed 28 hits during the seven-inning battle.

Oakland evened its series with Seattle by pinning on Dick Barrett for 10 hits as they beat the tribe, 5 to 2. Jimmy Tobin held the Indian batters to 7 hits.

Return from Coast—Among those who returned early this week from vacations over the Fourth of July were Mr. and Mrs. Dean of North Central avenue, who enjoyed a few days' tour of the Oregon coast, accompanied by their daughters, Evelyn, Bess and Zeta.

ANGLERS INVITED HELP FORMATION OF CASTERS' CLUB

All interested anglers, whether they be novices or old time fishermen, are urged to meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the mezzanine floor of Hotel Medford, for the purpose of organizing a local fly and bait-caster's club. The change in meeting place from the chamber of commerce to the hotel was made due to the fact that another meeting had previously been scheduled for the chamber.

A group of ardent outdoor sportsmen of Medford and vicinity, led by Toggery Bill and Aubrey Norris, have determined that there is enough enthusiasm locally for an energetic club of fishermen, whose purpose in organizing would be to aid novices in learning how to become good fishermen, and to develop all-around angling conditions in southern Oregon.

Similar organizations have been formed in many sections of the state, and word received here indicates that the benefits have been remarkable in arousing interest in the sport. During the jubilee last year and in several other Pacific coast flycasting events, it was shown that Medford can boast several exceptionally skilled flycasters who will form the nucleus of the organization.

Competition, however, is not to be the only purpose of the new club, and although there will probably be contests from time to time, the veterans will devote much of their time to teaching beginners.

If there is a large turnout, officers will probably be elected and plans will be pushed for further meetings.

AUSTRALIAN TRIP TURNS UP 'OK FOR GRAPPLER M'WOOD

There are heartbreaks in the wrestling profession, but just as in most other walks of life they generally turn out o.k. in the end. At least that's the way it was for Johnny McWood, youthful gladiator from U. C. L. A.

Several weeks ago while McWood was appearing in a string of bouts at the Armory, he received word one day from the south that nearly laid him on the shelf from disappointment. He had been on a week's fishing trip in the mountains near Diamond Lake, out of touch with the outside world, and upon returning to Medford he was given a telegram he had been expecting, but which had been awaiting him for several days.

That was June 7. When he read the wire he learned that arrangements had been completed for a long-hoped-for voyage to Australia, with all expenses paid—a trip that he had set his heart on. At the bottom of the wire were the words, "Your ship sails June 6."

Johnny, a new man in the game and only a kid in comparison to many of the grizzled veterans, took it on the chin without wincing, and contented himself with staying in Medford for several engagements, living at his uncle's turkey ranch on the Crater lake highway. Then he returned to his wife and home in the south.

Word was received here today that Johnny sailed for Australia this week, with all his expenses paid, and with promises for a guarantee of 100 pounds for every engagement he has while on the island—a set-up that would look good to any wrestler and one which must have tickled the young ex-grid star pink.

June 6.

There will be no wrestling card tonight at the Armory, due to the fact that the promoter has been unable to secure talent which he feels would furnish the fans with a good three-hour evening's entertainment. Les Wolfe, who has returned here from Los Angeles, Pete Boleastro, recent winner of the Pacific coast junior heavyweight championship, Al Stecher and Floyd Wolfgang are being considered for appearances on next week's card.

Leave for North—Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Bestwell left this morning on the Suasta for Eugene and Portland, planning to visit in the former city with Mrs. Dorothy McCargar, and to attend a meeting of the association while in the Rose City. They will return over the week-end.

YANKEE COWBOYS WIN AT CALGARY

CALGARY, Alta., July 11.—(AP)—United States cowboys came to the fore at the Calgary stampee yesterday, winning the North American bucking horse riding and the North American calf roping contests.

"Buck" Buchanan of Boise, Idaho, took first prize in the bucking riding, while second money went to "Hub" Whitman of Fort Worth, Texas.

Calf roping honors fell to Irbly Mundy of Uteville, Colo., who had his animal roped and tied in 18 2-5 seconds. Ike-Rude of Mangum, Okla., was second with a 20 1-8 second performance.

Bob Crosby of Rowell, N. M., won the wild cow milking contest for the second successive day.

PERFECT BALL GAME IS HURLED BY TEXAN

GALVESTON, Tex., July 11.—(AP)—That goal of all pitchers, the perfect ball game and the first one in Texas league history, was hurled here last night by Edie Cole of the Galveston Blues.

Cole retired 27 batters in a row in a game with the Tulsa Oilers, which was won by a home-run with two out in the tenth inning, the final score being Galveston 1, Tulsa 0.

The young right-hander fanned eight. Tulsa got no hits, no walks and not an Oiler reached first base.

LITTLE COMING HOME FOR DEFENSE OF TITLE

LONDON, July 11.—(AP)—Lawson Little, husky flycatcher who last won the British amateur golf title for the last two years, was enroute for the United States and a defense of his American amateur crown today.

Little sailed yesterday on the Maestoc. On his arrival in America, Little plans to put himself under the tutelage of Tommy Armour, in an effort to iron out some of the rough spots in his play before going to Cleveland for the national amateur starting September 9.

McLarin To Wed Childhood Love

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 11.—(AP)—Jimmy McLarin, former lightweight champion of the world, will be married this evening to his Vancouver childhood sweetheart, Miss Edith Chubb.

The couple will start immediately on a honeymoon—probably be limited by two months by Jimmy's aspiration to regain his old title from Barney Ross.

NO WRESTLING MATCH AS TALENT LACKING

There will be no wrestling card tonight at the Armory, due to the fact that the promoter has been unable to secure talent which he feels would furnish the fans with a good three-hour evening's entertainment.
