OKLAHOMANS BUY MILLER PROPERTY ON SARDINE CREEK

GOLD HILL, July 12.—(Sp.)—Announcement was made today of the sale of the Curtis Miller property on Sardine creek to F. N. Tygart of Bayre, Okla.

The sale was made by Mrs. C. D. Elhart of Ashland, who inherited the property from her uncle, the late Mr. Miller. Preliminary negotiations for the transaction were handled by Mrs. Elhart's sister, Mrs. Perry Wait of Sardine creek. Terms of the sale were not disclosed.

With his wife and two children, Mr. Tygart came to Oregon a few months ago, driven out of Oklahoma by the dust storms. The family settled temporarily in Klamath Falls, but became interested in this section of the state through Mrs. Tygart's sister, Mrs. Larence Kirtley.

The Kirtleys, also former residents of Bayre, settled on Sardine creek a couple of months ago, purchasing the John Ritter property on the right fork. They have been enthusiastic about this section of Oregon and recently, when the Tygart came here for a visit, they also decided to settle on Sardine creek.

The Miller property consists of 80 acres, a small residence and several outbuildings. About 10 acres of the land are cleared, seven of them being in fruit trees. The Tygarts plan to farm the land, Mr. Tygart being an experienced farmer.

Mrs. Tygart and the children have taken up residence at their new home and will be joined by Mr. Tygart as soon as he completes his business in Klamath Falls. The children, Mary Lucille, 11, and Henry Maurice, 6, will enter the Sardine creek school in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Reed, also of Bayre and the parents of Mrs. Kirtley and Mrs. Tygart, will soon become residents of Oregon too, according to a telegram received today by Mrs. Kirtley. The telegram stated they had left Bayre for Oregon, coming via Los Angeles. They plan to make their home in Gold Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirtley's son Herman, who was here for a visit recently, has arrived back in Bayre, a telegram today said. It is probable that later he will also make his home here, Mrs. Kirtley stated.

NEW OWNERS COMING TO TAKE POSSESSION SARDINE CREEK HOME

GOLD HILL, July 12.—(Sp.)—Mrs. Irene Moreland is expected to arrive within the next fortnight to take possession of the old Dow property on the left fork of Sardine creek. She will be accompanied by her parents, who will live with her.

The Dow property was acquired late in 1933 by the C. L. Studwells, who came here from New York City. They made several improvements, including the erection of a caretaker's house and spacious 10-room log house. Before they completed their plan of modernization, however, they moved to Seattle, and now they are residing in Kalispell, Mont. While here, Mr. Studwell served as sub-chairman of Oregon's Diamond Jubilee mining committee.

Last January, Mrs. Moreland came here from Jaconville, Ind., in search of property. In March she purchased the Sardine creek property from the Studwells. She then returned to Jaconville to dispose of realty holdings. Recent floods in the midwest have delayed her return to Oregon. She and her parents will travel by motor-car.

The property here comprises 180 acres, about 12 of which are cleared. The log residence is considered a showplace of its kind and a model of the house was exhibited last spring at the Chamber of Commerce in Medford. Most of the work was done by hand. The logs were all hand-hewn, all the doors and window frames were made by hand, and the hardware, fashioned like blacksmith, was wrought by a Gold Hill blacksmith. A unique feature is the partitions, as well as the exterior, are logs. The house was constructed by J. D. Bowditch, Medford builder.
