

SALMON FISHING CONTINUES GOOD

Despite predictions made some time ago that chinook salmon would be gone from the river long ago now, that fish is still to be taken in quantities, and most are of fine quality, according to ardent fishermen who have been on the stream during the past week. Salmon fishing is "wonderful" they declare. A good many jack-salmon are also being taken, and are said to be of great eating quality. Steelhead in great quantities are reported in the river. The steelhead is a very obliging fish, rising either to a fly or to "hardware," and fighting like a mad housewife. The waters between Bybee bridge as far up as Trail are yielding daily catches of this variety. According to the state police and other authorities, the big and little branches of the Applegate river are fine for trout now, as are both the Butte creeks. Rogue river is always a good bet for the trout fisherman. THE DALLES, Ore., July 12.—(AP)—W. Wray Lawrence, county agent, has estimated that an increase in AAA wheat allotment payments from 29 to 30 cents will result in Wasco county growers receiving about $26,000 more than the $180,000 paid to wheat ranchers here in 1934. LAW NOT WORRIED BY CASINO PIRACY

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—(UP)—United States Attorney Pierson M. Hall today tossed a legal bombshell into the investigation of pirates who looted a "gambling ship" off the California coast, by refusing to issue a complaint against Walter Miller, arrested in connection with the raid. Hall said the sea-going casino, "Raffles Carlo," had "operated outside the law in the past, and consequently it could not expect protection of state or federal laws." PENDLETON, Ore., July 12.—(AP)—J. K. Thompson, member of the Pendleton city council, was appointed eastern Oregon progress director of the work relief administration late yesterday. Announcement of the selection was made by E. J. Griffith, state administrator.

39 DRUNKEN DRIVERS LOSE PERMITS IN JUNE

SALEM, July 12.—(AP)—Forty motor vehicle operators' licenses were revoked during June, 39 of them for driving while intoxicated, the secretary of state's office reported today. Twenty-one suspensions were listed, 16 for reckless driving. CORVALLIS, Ore., July 12.—(AP)—The International Society of Microbiology has invited Dr. W. T. Johnson, poultry veterinarian at Oregon State college, to present a paper on "cockle disease in chickens and turkeys" at the international congress to be held in London next summer. Grant Extradition SALEM, Ore., July 12.—(AP)—Following a hearing today Governor Martin granted extradition papers for the return to Colorado of Gus Marcus, George Georgevich and Mary Georgevich, wanted in Denver on a charge of receiving stolen goods. The three were being held in Portland as fugitives. Colorado officials were here requesting their return.

AUTO SPEED RECORDS SET ON SALT FLATS BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, July 12.—(AP)—John Cobb, British racing driver, today covered 152.11 miles in an hour's driving over the salt flats west of Great Salt Lake, setting what were asserted to be six new world's marks and 12 new American records. Ashland, Ky., recently conducted a campaign to raise $10,000 by popular subscription for a public library.
