BIG OIL DEAL MAY AID ARISTOCRATS RECOVER CLAIMS

Hungarians Whose Lands Confiscated Have New Champion in Fight to Regain Hundred Millions

By GEORGE KALDOR
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 BUDAPEST (UP)—Hungarian aristocrats whose claims against the Rumanian government total approximately $100,000,000, have a new champion in their fight to win compensation for confiscated lands.

Prince Rene of Bourbon and Parma, younger brother of the former Empress Zita, is working on a plan to thaw frozen claims. It is strictly a business proposition which would profit the prince handsomely if he is able to put through a deal whereby Sir Henry Deterding, "oil king," would take over the claims of the aristocrats.

When the Hungarian province of Siebenburgen became part of Rumania under the peace treaty of Trianon, the population was accorded the right of option between Rumania and Hungary. Those who chose Hungary as their country, as the majority of the landed aristocracy did, lost their estates. However, they were permitted the right to seek financial compensation for their confiscated lands through a court of arbitration.

For various reasons the once wealthy families thus far have been unable to win any damages.

At one time Alexander Staviaky, ill-famed hero of France's greatest financial scandal of modern times, took an interest in the affair and is said to have offered to buy the claims at 10 per cent of their nominal value. Before the deal materialized the lofty cloud castle of the ingenious swindler collapsed.

According to Hungarian press reports, one important claimant, Count Paul Szekonicz, recently succeeded in obtaining $500,000 for ceding his claim of about $5,000,000 to the French banking firm of Harpy.

Through a number of other major claimants approached, Prince Rene to find a purchaser in western Europe for a total of about $70,000,000 in claims.

If the prince, who resides in Paris and is a collaborator of Sir Henry Deterding and through him has many valuable connections, succeeds, he is certain to receive a large commission on the deal.

According to rumors, Sir Henry himself is said to be willing to take over not only these, but other claims as well.

Hungarian friends of the prince are hesitant to confirm this report, but they admit that Prince Rene has discussed the deal with Deterding.

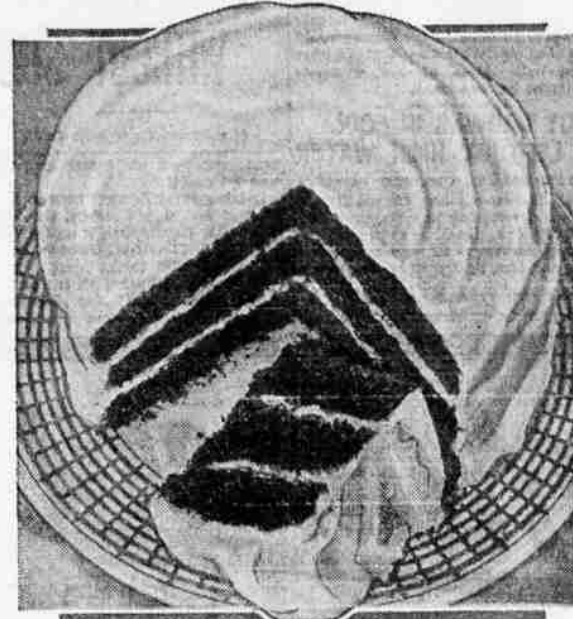

As the estate of the late Duke Henry was divided among his 17 children, of whom Rene was the 12th, the latter owns no wealth of consequence.

The success of the proposed transaction would, therefore, mean a real boon to him. His nephew "Emperor" Otto, at Siebenburgen, might also hope that the Hapsburg cause would profit if his uncle succeeds.

Chocolate Peppermint Cake
 3 cups sifted cake flour
 1 teaspoon soda
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup butter or other shortening
 1/2 cup sugar
 1 egg, unbraten
 2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
 1 cup milk
 1/2 cup thick sour cream
 1 cup milk
 1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour once, measure, add soda and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together well. Add egg and beat very thoroughly; then choco-

This New Chocolate Cake Makes Guests Beg Recipe!

At your next party you'll get a real thrill out of serving this new cake and having your friends beg for the recipe. It's as easy to make as it is gorgeous looking. The mellow-smooth chocolate layers take only one egg. And the crowning flavor surprise is the peppermint frosting, which can be either pink or white, just as you prefer.

late and beat well; then add sour cream and beat thoroughly. Add remaining flour, alternately with milk, beating well after each addition. Add vanilla. Turn into two greased 9-inch layer pans and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 45 minutes, or until done. Spread Peppermint Frosting between layers and on top and sides of cake. Decorate with a 1-inch border of chocolate flakes. Double recipe for three 10-inch layers.

Peppermint Frosting
 Prepare your boiled frosting. Add coloring to hot frosting to give a delicate shell-pink tint. Just a tiny speck of coloring on the end of a knife, or a few drops of liquid coloring is enough. Remove from fire, add peppermint, and beat until thick enough to spread. Spread on cakes. While frosting is still soft, but cold, sprinkle chocolate flakes around top of cake to form 1-inch border.

SPOT WHERE WAR BORN IS MARKED BY TINY PLAQUE

Marble Marker Only Designation of Serajevo Scene Which Plunged World Into Greatest of Wars

SERAJEVO, Yugoslavia.—(UP)—A small marble plaque on the wall of a building at a street corner is the only marker today that designates the spot where two shots on June 28, 1914, plunged the world into the greatest war in history.

At 11:15 a. m. on that fateful day 21 years ago a 19-year-old Bosnian school boy, Gavrilo Princip, fired two shots from a pistol into a royal automobile. Within an hour, Archduke Franz-Ferdinand of Austria and his bride, the Countess Sophie of Hohenberg, were dead.

Chaufeur's Error Blamed.
 The assassination scene was laid when the chauffeur of a police car made a wrong turn. The automobile in which the Archduke and Countess were riding followed, the cars, moving at walking pace, approached the corner where Princip stood. When the royal machine was within a yard of him he fired. The Archduke slumped. His bride rose to shield him. Princip coolly took deliberate aim and fired again. The Countess fell over her husband.

Less than an hour before, the first attempt on the life of the heir presumptive to the Austro-Hungarian throne had been frustrated. The official cars were en route to the town hall where a ceremony to mark St. Vitus day was scheduled.

Halfway along the embankment of the Miljacka, Nedjelko Gabrinovic, another Bosnian youth, threw a crude bomb at the royal car. The infernal machine, a square tin container filled with explosive, bounced off the side of the automobile. Then it exploded, injuring Lieut. Col. Merizzi and several watchers. In the tumult, the youth started to flee, but was captured.

Princip standing within a few blocks distance, heard the bomb explode and saw the royal car pass by swiftly. Realizing that the plot had failed, he was about to depart when he learned the procession would return by the same route after the ceremony at the town hall.

Then he was further aided when the car leading the procession made a wrong turn. From that moment until November 11, 1918, Europe was in turmoil.

FRANCES PORTER, 17, INJURED IN SMASHUP AT STREET CROSSING

Frances Porter, 17, who gave her residence as the Holloway orchard in the Voorhies district in the Sacred Heart hospital today suffering from severe shock and bruises sustained yesterday at 5 p. m. when the car in which she was riding, turning from South Central street onto 12th street, was in collision with a car driven by C. W. Ellis of Ashland.

According to city police who investigated the accident, Miss Porter was riding in the rear seat of a sedan driven by Betty Shannon of Medford. The Shannon car was returning from Ashland, and was followed closely by a machine driven by Ben Nixson of Ashland.

Nixson told police he slowed to allow the Shannon car to turn. Ellis, coming up from behind, swung around the Nixson car, he told police, and struck the first car sideways. He stated that the second car blocked his view of the turning Shannon machine.

Ellis was given a traffic ticket and ordered to appear this morning before Judge Allen D. Curry of city court on a charge of "hazard at an intersection," but due to the fact that Judge Curry is ill in a hospital and unable to hear the case, appearance was postponed indefinitely.

APPLEGATE AUTOIST RECKLESS, FINED $25

George Coffeen, of the Applegate, entered a plea of guilty before Justice of the Peace William R. Coleman to a charge of reckless driving and was assessed $25 and costs, which was paid. Coffeen admittedly turned over his auto on the Jacksonville hill while traveling at high speed Wednesday night.

C. L. Peart, a truckman, was fined $5 and costs on a charge of operating a truck without clearance lamps. A charge against Peart of operating a truck without a P. U. C. permit has been set for July 20.

Roy E. Wilton was assessed $5 and costs for operating a trailer without a license plate. The cost was remitted and the fine revoked by the court.

Lusitania Treasure Aim Of Salvage Ship

GLASGOW, July 12.—(AP)—The lure of treasure in the strong rooms of the S. S. Lusitania, torpedoed by a U-boat in 1918, called the S. S. Ophir to sea today.

She was manned by a crew of 29 including three survivors of the ill-fated passenger vessel. They will try to recover the specie and valuables which were frozen to have been aboard the Lusitania.

Stetsons To Top Oregon Soldiers Instead Of Caps

PORTLAND, Ore., July 12.—(AP)—Oregon state troopers today were publicly bemoaning their fate, but privately it was suspected they were rather tickled.

The moans followed an official order changing their top-pieces from the flat-topped garrison caps in favor of broad-brimmed Stetsons, famed in song and story of western lore.

"Just a headache," was the description one lieutenant had for the new piece of apparel. But the wise-cracking was tinged with something like a satisfied humor.

10 UNDER ARREST IN PORTLAND BEER PARLOR BOMBINGS

PORTLAND, Ore., July 12.—(AP)—Captain of Detectives John J. Keegan today indicated he believed the mystery of a long series of beer-parlor bombings was near solution, as a result of the arrest of ten members of the local teamsters' union following two window-breaking episodes before dawn this morning.

The ten arrested included Jim Scott, business agent for the gangsters, who police said rented the car from which a beer bottle was thrown and a shot-gun fired at two places of business early today. Two windows were broken.

Police patrol cars had been patrolling the streets in increasing numbers since the bombing of a beer parlor here July 3. Not until shortly after midnight last night, however, were their efforts to apprehend suspects rewarded.

Captain Keegan also indicated the reason for the lack of the arrests previously lay in the confidence he had reposed in the union which provided him with the license number of cars which assertedly were to help police in apprehending hoodlums. Such cars, he said, were given virtually immunity. Now, he declares, it has been ascertained that some of the machines were actually those which vandals had been using.

Keegan said he would ask the International Teamsters' union to revoke the local charter.

TEXAS LAW CASE WORDIEST EVER TRIED IN STATE

HOUSTON, Tex.—(UP)—A ruling for the plaintiffs by the supreme court of Texas recently ended the longest case ever tried in state courts.

The case—Palmetto Lumber Co. vs. F. Gibbs—required 24 weeks in court and resulted in 4,500 typewritten pages of verbal testimony.

A district court's opinion in favor of the lumber company was upheld by the supreme court.

More than a week was required to read the "briefs" in the case, the plaintiff submitting 1,076 pages and the defendant 1,341. A. C. Word, plaintiff's witness, gave testimony for 31 days.

Exhibits filled 801 bound pages for the plaintiff and 967 for the defendant. There were approximately 1,000 sheets of loose exhibits.

The Palmetto Lumber Co. entered into a contract with Gibbs in 1907 to borrow $196,000 to purchase and divide a tract of timber.

The contract provided that the company would pay such expenses and interest, carrying charges and taxes. The company dissolved in 1927, ten years after contract, and asked for division of profits, and was told interest had consumed its share.

The firm's suit asked for an accounting and $1,110,000.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb.—(UP)—John Roll claims title to the oldest apple tree in eastern Nebraska, a section noted for its fine orchards. His tree is 63 years old and was planted by Roll's father, Nicholas Roll.

Recovery Note.

No Clue In Holdup Joseph Postoffice

LA GRANDE, Ore., July 12.—(AP)—State police and postal authorities who have been investigating a holdup and robbery of the Joseph, Ore., postoffice a week ago this morning, were still without definite clues, according to reports today.

Two masked men entered the postoffice, slugged Postmaster Vernon Fairchild and escaped with $214.65 in cash.

ENJOY MORE SUNNY DAYS

Your moods, your actions, your very personality—all are influenced by the state of your health. Avoid common constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals. This ailment may cause headaches, loss of appetite and energy. It takes the color out of living.

Kellogg's All-Bran, a natural native food, furnishes you with this needed "bulk." Within the body, it absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass. Gently, this clears out the intestinal wastes.

The "bulk" in All-Bran remains effective with continued use. Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor. Isn't this cereal food better than patent medicines?

All-Bran also provides vitamin B and iron. Serve it as a cereal with milk or cream, or cook into muffins, breads, waffles, etc. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's.
