YOUNG GUZZLERS CREATE PROBLEM FOR LAW FORCES

PORTLAND, July 19.—(AP)—The asserted necessity for a more vital interest on the part of parents and the public at large was stressed today in a hearing concerning the relation of children to the liquor problem.

The hearing, called yesterday by Circuit Judge L. P. Gilbert who declared he opposed the appearance of minors as entertainers in beer parlors and attacked the dispensing of beer to children, was held in the court of domestic relations here.

Austin Flegel, attorney for the Oregon liquor control commission, told the group that names of persons turning in information in regard to beer-selling establishments would be kept secret.

Mrs. Elizabeth Neth, of the court of domestic relations, said that "there has been an appalling increase in children, even as young as 12 years, over-indulging in intoxicating liquor."

Mayor Joe Carson and Chief of Police Harry Niles blamed the situation on the lack of responsibility on the part of parents. Niles said it was impossible for his force to watch all places at all hours to prevent serving beer to children.

Under present laws, it is no offense for a parent to buy beer and give it to his child, even in a public place, nor is it illegal for minors to appear as entertainers, without compensation, in beer parlors.

SALEM, July 19—(AP)—E. B. Aldrich, Pendleton publisher and a member of the state highway commission, named by Governor Martin today to represent him in the conference between an Oregon delegation and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace at Walla Walla next Monday. The governor said he would be unable to be present.

2 KILLED, 12 HURT WHEN TRAINS HIT

PASCO, Wash., July 19.—(AP)—An engineer and a transient were killed and 12 persons were injured 27 miles east of here last night in a head-on collision that telescoped the engines of a freight and local Northern Pacific train.

The dead.

Stanley Cowan, about 60, Pasco, engineer of the passenger.

Fred Madson, Portland, transient, who lived half an hour in the wreckage.

One other transient was reported killed earlier, but a later report placed him among the injured who were taken to a Walla Walla hospital.

Cowan had been with the railway company for 30 years. His widow and two married daughters survive.

Madson was crushed so tightly between the baggage car and tender that when his body was finally pulled free, one shoe had to be left squeezed in the wreckage.

Find Seven Dead.

VAN LEAR, Ky., July 19.—(AP)—Seven of the nine men entombed by a coal mine explosion here yesterday were found dead by rescue workers today, and all hope was abandoned for the other two.

COLUMBIA GORGE WIND IS DAILY FIRE HAZARD

VANCOUVER, Wash. July 18—(AP)—A crew of about 65 fire fighters were engaged today in battling a large blaze in the Laurel district of Klickitat county, east of the Columbia National forest.

District Fire Warden George Herger said the fire apparently was under control but that a period of considerable danger arises each day between noon and 3 p. m., when a wind sweeps down the Columbia gorge.
