

FLAGSHIP DOCKS AFTER PACIFIC MANEUVERS

Completing a six-weeks trip to Alaska and Hawaii as flagship of the U. S. fleet, the U.S.S. Pennsylvania docked at San Diego, Calif., after completing war games in the Pacific. (Associated Press Photo)

GRAND COULEE RECLAMATION PROJECT BUSY SPOT

The great reclamation project of the Pacific northwest, the Grand Coulee dam site in southeastern Washington, is shown in this new aerial picture. It has been a busy place since construction started two years ago. The town on the left bank of the Columbia River is Mason City, built by the contractors. Across the city is Engineer's City, a government development. The west cofferdam, 3000 feet long is just above the latter. (Associated Press Photo)

PARKS RECEIVES GOLF TROPHY

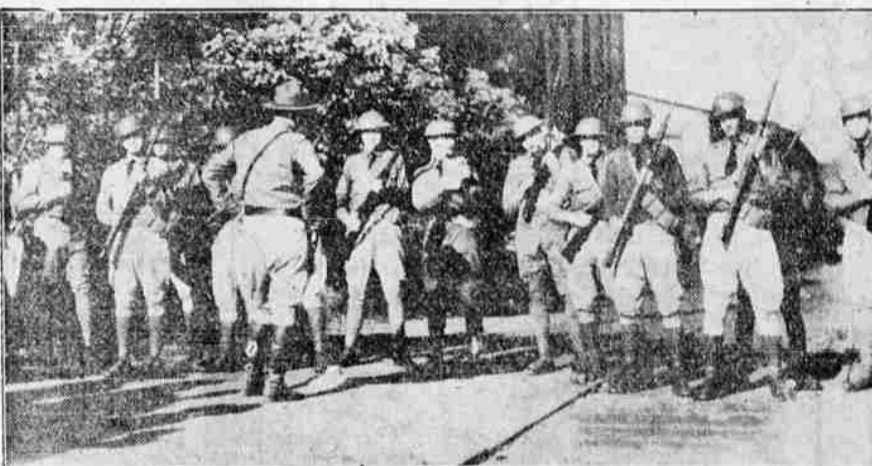

Sam Parks, Jr., (left) Pittsburgh professional, receiving the national open golf championship trophy from Prescott Bush, president of the American Golf Association. Parks scored a 299 total to win the tournament and title. (Associated Press Photo)

SERVICE SAVANTS STUDY KENTUCKY MYSTERY MINER

National Park Service Archaeologist Alonzo Pond and Museum Division Assistant Chief Louis Shellbach view a prehistoric miner in Mammoth Cave, Ky. Shellbach (right) holds a reed the miner used for a torch. The miner is under rock at left. (Copyright 1935 by The Associated Press)

NATIONAL GUARD CALLED OUT IN ILLINOIS STRIKE

Troops at the Stover Manufacturing and Machine plant at Freeport, Ill., after a battle between strikers and deputy sheriffs left several injured. The plant was closed six weeks ago when the company refused to recognize a newly formed union. (Associated Press Photo)

HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION AT HOME

Meet Jimmy Braddock, the kiddies and the wife, as they appeared in this quiet home scene at Bergenfield, N. J., a few hours before the contender for Max Baer's pugilistic crown faced the California Lethario in the ring. (Associated Press Photo)

SOUTH AMERICA JUBILANT AS CHACO WAR ENDS

It was a momentous hour to all South America when Bolivia and Paraguay agreed to end the three-year Chaco war. Representatives of the various countries who participated in the peace negotiations are shown after a session. (Associated Press Photo)

WILBUR GIVES OUT DIPLOMAS TO STANFORD CLASS

Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford, Calif., university and former secretary of the Interior in the Hoover cabinet, giving out diplomas at the 44th annual commencement of the institution. (Associated Press Photo)

'BIRD MAN'S' WINGS WON'T WORK

Wilson Spiva, rigged up with canvas webbing he hoped would allow him to soar, bank and turn at will like a bird, jumped from an airplane at 5000 feet, but, after dropping like a blown leaf for 2500 feet, he gave up and descended on a parachute. (Associated Press Photos)

FOUR DIE IN TEXAS WINDSTORM

A sudden windstorm which struck Texarkana, Tex., and vicinity left four dead and several injured. Damage done to the airport is pictured in the top and middle. Several residences were battered down by terrific winds. (Associated Press Photo)

Heads Kidnap Probe

Chapman Fletcher (above), director of the new field office of the department of justice bureau of investigation at Phoenix, Ariz., heads the government's renewed investigation of the kidnaping of little June Robles more than a year ago. (Associated Press Photo)

Wins Promotion

Nelson T. Johnson (above), of Oklahoma, present U. S. minister to China, has been nominated by President Roosevelt to be ambassador to China in the newly-created embassy. (Associated Press Photo)

GRILLED IN BIG BROOKLYN BANK ROBBERY

Quiet since last September when a well-planned robbery of a Brooklyn bank car netted $427,000, police made their first public move in catching these suspects in a raid on a New Jersey summer cottage. The men questioned were, standing, left to right: George Maiwald, James Bell, Joseph McCarthy, Louis Balmer and Ed Gaffney. Seated, left to right: Frank Fox, John Hughes and Arthur Gaynor. (Associated Press Photo)

HEAD MILITARY RULE IN NEBRASKA

Gov. R. L. Cochran (center), dictator of Omaha under martial law in the street car strike, conferring with Adj. Gen. H. J. Paul (left) and Lt. Col. Richard F. Stout, legal advisor of the military court. Governor Cochran took the street cars off the Nebraska city's streets after declaring martial law in the wake of fatal rioting. (Associated Press Photo)