

ROGUES SHELLACK KLAMATHITES 6-1 IN LEAGUE FINAL

The plan of the Medford Rogues to have a money wrench into the machinery of the Klamath Red Sox pennant chances worked with a vengeance yesterday, as the local nine slammed out a convincing 6-1 victory over the Reds from over the hump. Bauman, Medford chucker, pitched one of the greatest games of the year, despite advance dope that a left-handed hurler couldn't hope to hold the Red Sox batters.

Bauman walked Brooks, Klamath second batter, the first man up, and only walked one other man during the whole game. Shipman bunted Brooks to second, he took third on Bernardou's hit to left field, and came home on Wheeler's hit to center field, to score the lone run his club made during the afternoon. Klamath only got one man as far as second during the remainder of the day, while the Rogues were off to a Roman holiday.

"Hooter" Hoffer, grand old gentleman of the diamond, tore into three batters out of four jaunts to the platter to give his batting average another lift. In the fourth frame, Bouchard hammered out a 3-bagger with two on to vindicate Hoffer's proud confidence in the youngster's playing ability. Bouchard is only 18 years old, and already seemingly destined for the "big-time."

Besides doing a remarkable job in whiffing 10 batters, Bauman demonstrated that he could also handle the hickory and thumped out two hits out of three men at bat against Carlstrom, the Klamath chucker.

The Medford win, coupled with the 18 to 7 walloping of the Ashland nine by Grants Pass, puts the league back in a two-way tie, with Ashland and Medford gazing helplessly at each other from the side of the league cellar, and Klamath and Grants Pass glowering at each other from their tie at the top. Now Ashland and Medford are only two games away from the pennant themselves, and nobody seems to know what's going to happen next.

Hoffer, at least, doesn't seem to care, and has signed the Coquille Loggers for a game at Coquille next Sunday, leaving the league to struggle along as best it may without the Rogues. The Loggers lost to the Rogues earlier in the year, and they are anxious to avenge that defeat.

HARRY COOPER COPS ST. PAUL OPEN WITH PAR-SMASHING GOLF

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 22—(AP)—Harry Cooper has emerged from his private golf mine of golf again with a record strike.

The Chicago star led probably the greatest massed scoring spree in golf yesterday to win the St. Paul open championship and $1,200 first prize money with a record 72-hole total of 211 blows. The score smashed par by 17 strokes and the tournament record by seven shots.

His dazzling score, framed by successive rounds of 68-67-68-68 over the Keller course, won him the championship by a four-stroke margin over Horton Smith of Chicago and clear domination over the St. Paul show. In five starts in the tournament, "Light-horse" Harry has won two finals, tied for and lost another, and won a total of $6,933.33 in prize money.

The par 72 course was subdued completely by sub-par rounds by a field that almost duplicated that which competed in the recent national open at Oakmont. Sam Parke, the national open title holder, finished far out of the money with 209.

On his par breaking journey, Cooper, who holds a tournament average of less than 72 shots a round for five years of competitive play, fell over par on but six holes, shot 22 birdies and one eagle.

The Mohammedan year is a lunar one, about 11 days shorter than the Christian.

The Indian reported on the 14-cent United States postage stamp is Hollow Horn Bear.

WOODS RETURNS AS TOP-NOTCHER IN MAT RANKING

A meteoric climb from the bottom to the top in the ranks of middleweight wrestling was told here today by Curly Woods, boyish mat star who learned the game in Medford. He returned Saturday for a few weeks' stay after an absence of six years.

When Curly, who appears to be not over 20, but is really 28, last trod the canvas in Medford he was a beginner, promising but green. Later he won the Pacific coast middleweight championship, a coveted title which takes in western Canada and Idaho, holding the championship belt until he was thrown by Ernie Arthur, Canadian grappler, whom he allowed to enter the match a few pounds overweight.

Curly wrestled for three years in Medford, learning the game from Bailor Jack Woods, who impressed upon his youthful student the importance of footwork. He was then an amateur, and it was not until some time later that he picked up the professional slants from Hassan Mohammed, "The Terrible Turk."

Since that time he has appeared in approximately 900 matches, wrestling a string of 52 main events in Centralia, Wash., without losing once. Besides many well known middleweight grapplers, he has also defeated many who weighed in above his 157 pounds. Robin Reed, famous middleweight, was thrown by Woods in 5 seconds, which Reed himself admits is the fastest fall he ever lost.

Woods specializes in speed, employing most frequently the flying head scissor. Regarding his choice of opponents, he says "The tougher they are, the better."

He is a drop-kicker of no mean ability, also adept at other leg holds, for he is a great believer in the advantages of leg work. He considers Robin Reed and Henry Jones, when in their prime, the best middleweight wrestlers of all time.

Woods came to Medford to visit an aunt here, and plans to spend part of his time fishing along the Rogue river, which he said he "knows" almost from one end to the other. He will be seen in action Thursday night in the opener of the Armory wrestling card.

SERAPHS CONTINUE SLIDE TO CELLAR

(By the Associated Press)

A playoff series for the 1935 Pacific League baseball championship is becoming increasingly probable as the Los Angeles Angels gather momentum in their current cellar-ward slide.

The Angels, last year's titleholders and winners of the first half of the split season by a big margin, last week lost their first series in three years to Oakland and skidded into sixth place in the standings.

The Oaks clinched the series victory by slugging out a 3-to-1 victory in the first game of yesterday's doubleheader. The second game went into extra innings with the score tied at 4-all and then was called off in the twelfth to let the Angels catch a train. A 6-3 victory in Saturday's

GIANTS AND CARDS IN CRUCIAL SERIES

ST. LOUIS, July 22—(AP)—The league-leading New York Giants, rapidly being overhauled by the St. Louis Cardinals, limped into town today for a six-game series that will go a long way toward deciding the winner of the National League pennant race.

To fans the meeting is a repetition of the famous "little world series" between New York's and St. Louis' American league representatives—the Yankees and the Browns—back in 1923.

In that year, the Yankees, trailing as the Cardinals now are, beat a faltering Browns' crew, somewhat resembling today's Giants, and went on to win the pennant by an eyelash.

For the opener of the crucial series, Manager Frank Frisch has nominated Bill Hallahan, again the "sweet William" of old, with five successive victories marking his comeback effort. He will draw Hal Schumacher, the New York ace, as his opponent in the box.

GERMANS EVEN SCORE IN DAVIS ZONE SERIES

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 22—(AP)—Baron Von Cramm scored a third set victory over Wilmer Allison today and enabled Germany to draw level with the United States at one match all in the interzone Davis tennis final. The scores were 8-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Don Budge of Oakland, Cal., gave Uncle Sam a lead in the series Saturday with a four set victory over Heiner Henkel, a team mate of Von Cramm's.

Admits Killing Father

George E. Turnbo (above), of Placerville, Calif., was said by 71-year-old father, C. E. Turnbo, police to have admitted killing his own father when he sought the younger man. The elder Turnbo had shot and killed their housekeeper, Mrs. E. M. Ray, 60. (Associated Press Photo)

Started Wrestling Here

Curly Woods (above) was last seen in action here six years ago as a greenhorn wrestler who was making Medford his training headquarters. Even then he gave promise for exceptional speed and stamina, which qualities have carried him like a comet through 900 matches, in one of which he stripped Martin Barrackman of the belt signifying the Pacific coast middleweight championship. He later lost the belt to Ernie Arthur of Canada, whom he allowed to "come in" a few pounds overweight.

BELCASTRO, WOLFE, LETHERS, STECHER MIX ON NEXT CARD

When Promoter Mack Lillard was confronted this week with the task of lining up four big-time grapplers who actually demanded appearance Thursday night at the Armory, he solved the difficulty by pairing the star muscles in a double main event.

Aggressive Pete Belcastro, Italian drop-kicker, is scheduled to tussle for one hour or two out of three falls with Les Wolfe, limber Texas matman, in a return engagement that promises more of the same type of colorful, exhausting wrestling; these two boys dished out when they wrestled to a draw here recently. That match, one of best ever seen here, should be surpassed when Pete and Les meet again.

Sad Sam Lethers of Texas, supple southerner with the famous educated legs, is pitted to meet Al Stecher, veteran Canadian, in the other half of the main event. Sad Sam has been on the shelf for the past several weeks, after one of Belcastro's drop-kicks, in a recent bout at Klamath Falls.

but is now back in shape and ready to impress local fans with his prowess by trimming the stocky-ex-Canadian champ.

A treat is in store for the fans in the opening bout, when Curly Woods, 157-pound speedmerchant who learned the art of grappling here nine years ago, and Roland Warren, 160-pound Copeco engineer from Klamath Falls, tussle for one fall or 20 minutes.

Woods returned to Medford over the week end from the north, bringing with him a reputation for amazing agility. He held the belt for the middleweight championship of the Pacific coast.

Channel buoys

WHAT would modern navigation do without the channel buoys—those floating markers that keep ships off the shoals? In a very real sense, the advertisements in this paper are channel buoys, placed for your protection—for the safeguarding of the family expenditures.

These advertisements are the signed statements of reputable firms who seek your patronage on the single basis of giving value for every dollar spent. They are honest statements, the only kind an advertiser can use and remain an advertiser.

People who get the most for their dollar in the market-places are those who keep an eye on the channel buoys. Day by day, they follow the advertisements to learn what and where to buy to the best advantage. Make this a habit. Study the advertisements, in the interest of shrewder buying.

The advertisers in this paper have charted the channels of buying for you. Keep to the course.
