

ROAD COMMISSION HEARS PLEAS FOR FUND ALLOCATION

ing out a definite program to the engineers. The program must also be approved by the bureau of public roads before final approval will give the signal for awarding contracts.

Three funds were being allocated, federal grant for roads and the sum for grade crossing eliminations in the amount of $3,500,000, which carry with it the strict labor restrictions with 50 per cent of the labor to be taken off the relief rolls for both. The third fund is the regular federal aid money which will permit a higher standard of construction. The balance of this fund is $2,400,000.

These funds will be allocated separately, the combination plan being abandoned. Assistance in the construction of roads with grant money to permit more efficient results will be sought from the counties, Cabell stated.

R. H. Baldock, highway engineer, announced it would be late tonight or tomorrow before a tentative allocation could be announced. Recently the commission allocated about $1,200,000 of the regular federal aid which is now up for approval by the bureau of public roads.

Douglas Delegation Present
Two Douglas county delegations, the county court and Reedsport citizens requested funds for three projects—straightening Turkey Hill on the Pacific highway, three grade crossings south of Sutherlin and near Roseburg, and the improvement of the Reedsport-Scottsburg section of the Umpqua highway. The commission declined to make any commitments.

Grade crossing elimination in the city of Klamath Falls was urged by another delegation. The Wallawa county delegation urged the completion of the Enterprise - Clarkston highway. Astoria urged the improvement of city streets, as did the representatives from Ashland. Completion of the South Santiam was asked by Linn county.

A large delegation from Clatsop and Tillamook counties reminded the commission of a four-year agreement for construction of the Cannon Beach-Neah-Kahnie Mountain short cut on the coast highway, while Multnomah county again requested money for the Wolf Creek road to the sea. Cook county delegations asked for several improvement jobs near Marshfield, and the suggestion of accepting the 120 acres timber land at Golden Falls for a state park in return for a logging road.

Ask Grade Crossings
The Dalles officials asked for funds to be earmarked for construction next year of two grade crossings in the city, and Malheur county presented a list of projects desired. A six-page agenda will face the commission following the appearance of more delegations during the afternoon. Possible cancellation of the La Grande undercrossing project because of right-of-way difficulties, will be considered. Expenditure of $3,000 to increase storage facilities at the highway shops at Salem was on the program for settlement.

ARNSPIGER DOVE A TEACHER'S PET

"That white pigeon will starve to death," was the opinion expressed today by H. W. Keese, junior high school teacher, who believes he is the owner of the large white bird which fluttered down the Olin Arnsperger chimney Sunday. The bird, said Keese, is a tame one, raised in a pen, and never released on his own until a few days ago. Keese, who lives at 28 South Peach street, has several pigeons. The white one is one of the largest of the flock, weighing nearly two pounds, and knows nothing of rustling for himself. He has always been hand-fed, and is a great pet. One fear is that the bird will be shot by small boys with air rifles before he finds his way home, or will fall down a chimney in which a fire is burning, thus rendering the necessity of finding food unimportant.
