Albany College Head To Speak At Presbyterian

Rev. Thomas W. Bibb, D. D., president of Albany college, will speak in the First Presbyterian church next Sunday at 11:00 a. m. Albany college is Oregon's Presbyterian college and is doing a splendid piece of educational work. Everyone who can should hear President Bibb's message which will be "Christian Education in a New Day." At 6:30 p. m. he will speak for the young people in their service in the church parlors. The Christian Endeavor topic is—"How Selfishness Reacts Upon Us," and Dr. Bibb will take as his subject, "Love Your Own Life."

The young people voted to support this publicity in behalf of Albany college and are proposing to attend in the morning as well as in the evening. A cordial welcome awaits all who can avail themselves of the opportunity offered to hear this noted educator at either one or both of these services.

PAUL WESLEY TAYLOR PASSES SUDDENLY IN K. F. HEART ATTACK

Medford lost a beloved figure Wednesday upon the death of Paul Wesley Taylor of a heart attack in Klamath Falls. A resident of Medford for the past eight years, he had been in business since 1927 with J. R. Bierma in the Bierma-Taylor Typewriter Supply business. For some time he has been managing the branch at Klamath Falls, and on Tuesday, his 44th birthday, he talked to his wife here by telephone, and seemed in perfect health...

Either Tuesday night or Wednesday morning he passed quietly away, but was not found until Wednesday afternoon. Partially paralyzed some years ago by a hip and spine injury, he was nevertheless known as one of this city's most cheerful citizens, and his loss will be deeply felt.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Victorine Taylor of Medford, and two brothers, Alfred of Westwood, California, and William of Reno. He was a member of Medford Lodge No. 1169, B.P.O.E. and the Lakeview Lodge No. 71, A.F. & A.M.

He was born in Lakeview, Oregon, in 1891, and spent his boyhood in Sebastopol, Calif., going to Westwood about 1912. In 1913 he married Victorine Barnes, and they moved to Reno until 1927, when he came to Medford.

The funeral will be held at Sebastopol, Calif. at 3 p. m. tomorrow afternoon.

GIRL SCOUTS GO TO CAMP SUNDAY

Girl Scouts who are in need of transportation to Camp McLaughlin Sunday for the first week at camp are asked to be at the headquarters by nine o'clock with baggage. A truck will pick up all baggage there and anyone who would like to have their baggage taken care of in this way may leave it there by 9:00 o'clock. Car transportation will be furnished for the girls, and any volunteer service will be appreciated.

It has been announced that there will be straw available at camp to fill ticks if desirable. Also girls are asked not to buy bathing caps until their class is determined at camp as colors will indicate the different classes of swimming ability.

This method has been arranged to insure waterfront safety while at camp.

FULL GOSPEL EVANGEL DRAWS RECORD THROUG

Evangelistic services being conducted at the Full Gospel church continue with increased interest. Thursday evening there was a record week night attendance. Evangelist Evelyn M. Olsen spoke on the subject, "The Ascending Master and the Descending Power." At the close of the message the meeting was turned into an old fashioned altar service where tears of sorrow and of joy were mingled as individuals prayed through to personal experiences with God.

Last night the local assembly was happily surprised when Rev. Donald Fee, pastor of the Ashland Full Gospel Temple, came over with a large representation from the Ashland church. Advance notice has been received that a similar delegation from Grants Pass will attend the service tonight. Reverend Weston, local pastor, reports that these union services are especially enjoyable, and invites all who care to be present. Miss Olin's subject this evening will be "Feasting in the Time of Famine." Song service commences at 8:00 o'clock.

NESTLES MILK IS HOME PAYROLL AID

In line with the policy established by the Safeway Stores to feature Oregon products, the two Medford stores are opening a campaign this week to further the sales of Nestles milk, a product of the Nestles Milk Products company. This well known milk manufacturer, marketing under the Nestles and Alpine labels, uses Oregon milk and packs and ships in southern Oregon boxes. Box shook products when the Timber Products company of Medford is purchased in large quantities, materially contributing to payrolls of this community. It is estimated by Floyd Hart of the Timber Products company that the Nestles Milk Products company purchases annually approximately $50,000 worth of Medford-made boxes and in the past few years, the total purchases from this local manufacturer has contributed a half million dollars to Medford payrolls.

"We feel that we are assisting in stimulating Medford and Oregon industry when we feature Nestles milk," J. P. Hase, manager of Safeway store at 113 North Central said today. "The Nestles company is deserving of support from southern Oregon housewives because of their generous contribution to payrolls of this area as well as the dairy industry of the state."

TOMATO PROSPECTS SEEN BEST IN YEARS

Harvesting of the Rogue River Valley tomatoes, according to W. A. Gates, will start before September 1. "A big crop and a good crop," is predicted by Mr. Gates, who also states "the crop is better than it has been in years." The tomato acreage this year is 390 acres.

In some of the early patches, the tomatoes have started to reddon, but this is not general. Weather conditions are ideal, particularly where rain has fallen the past week.

Trial of Enright Slated For 5 p. m.

Tom Enright, Medford attorney who plead not guilty Wednesday to a charge of reckless driving, will come to trial in city police court before Judge Allen D. Curry at 5:00 o'clock this afternoon. Enright has indicated that he will have a witness who will attempt to prove that he, Enright, was not driving his car in a reckless manner at the time that he was arrested Monday night.

COL. KNOX ADVOCATES BALANCED BUDGET AS KEY PLANK FOR G. O. P.

LOS ANGELES, July 26. (AP)—Hurling a stinging rebuke at the Roosevelt new deal administration, Col. Frank Knox, publisher of the Chicago Daily News, advocated a balanced national budget as the key plank of the 1936 republican presidential platform. Col. Knox, prominently mentioned as a possible G.O.P. presidential nominee, charged in an address last night before the Los Angeles county republican assembly that President Roosevelt had betrayed his oath of office to uphold the constitution of the United States.

He accused the president and his advisers of promoting the enactment of laws "for the deliberate purpose of undermining the power and prestige of the supreme court."

"With a full sense of the meaning of my words," Col. Knox declared, "I ask, are such acts in accord with the sacred oath taken not only to defend and to protect, but to preserve the constitution?"

First Little Lady Of Films Starts On Real Vacation

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., July 26.—(AP)—Bound on her first real vacation since she became the first little lady of the screen, Shirley Temple was sailing toward Honolulu today.

With much giggling and great excitement, Miss S. Temple (that's the way she's booked) clambered aboard the Matson liner Mariposa last night with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Temple, for a five weeks stay in the islands. "The trip marks her first visit out of California, and her mother readily agreed that Shirley did an unusual amount of bounding about at their Santa Monica home since last night before she was taken to the boat."
