an international political and religious investigator he has delved into the causes of social unrest. Having made two trips to Europe and Russia within the last year, Mr. Blomgren claims he has found that the safeguards which so many nations claim to have thrown around themselves are but a mirage of the past. In bringing his message he will en-

HERE FROM CANADA

Evelyn M. Olsen, youthful Canadian Evangelist enters her second week of special meetings at the Full Gospel Church, tonight. Her subject this evening will be "Flaming Youth or Youth Aflame", a message of the times, especially for the young people but interesting to all. In a startling wood picture of world conditions now existing, Miss Olsen will answer such questions of vital interest as, "How long will this last age last?" "What great catastrophe lies just ahead?" and "Can a young man or woman live godly in this present civilization?" Being a young woman herself, Miss Olsen is deeply interested in the problems of modern youth, and speaks with an understanding and sympathetic heart. Pastor Weston urges all to attend this great evangelistic rally tonight at 7:45 p. m. There will also be special services every week-night except Saturday.

deavor to expose some of the means and methods used by a secret world to penetrate, dominate and destroy the better portions of all classes. Irrefutable evidence of a particular example of subterranean workings has come into his possession, he claims. Mr. Blomgren claims the Soviet has become a nation of 172 million slaves ruled by 547 of the world's worst capitalists, the central officers of the government.

Church of the Nazarene
Central of the Nazarene
The church of the Nazarene was organized in Medford on April 22, 1922, with a charter membership of thirteen. It was through the ministry of Divine providence and the untiring labors of Rev. C. M. King that the organization was perfected. It was during the beginning of his pastorate that the building in which the church now worships, was erected, at the corner of Central Ave. and Jackson.
The ministers who served the church since are, Rev. G. O. Crow, Rev. J. T. LaRose and their present minister, Rev. Fred M. Weatherford, who has served the church during the past year.
Growth of the Church
The church has enjoyed a steady growth from the time of its organization. During the year just ended, the church experienced a greater numerical growth than during any previous four years combined. Sixty-nine new members affiliated themselves with the church during the past year ending June 23rd.
It was during the pastorate of Rev. J. T. LaRose that the four lots just opposite the Junior High school were purchased by the church; located at the corner of N. Holly and Central streets. The erection of a new church edifice.
Future Plans
Last week a group of seven to nine workers donated their labor for two days in felling the first trees from which to build the new church. Mr. Tom Norris is the very generous donor of the raw timber to the church. Though not a member of the local church of the Nazarene, he has a genuine interest in the spiritual and moral life of Medford and its environs.

COOS BAY TOWNS VIE TO SEE WHICH CALLED 'COOSBAY'

MARSHFIELD, Ore., July 27.—(AP)—With both towns entranced by some strange lure in the seven-letter word, "Coosbay," Marshfield and North Bend have joined in a mad race to see which can be first in formally and legally changing the official designation of the town to that name.
A proposed merger of the adjoining towns under a single administration—the consolidated city to be known as "Coosbay" failed this week. North Bend rejected the consolidation plan, and then decided it would change its name to "Coosbay," the spelling is located on Coos bay which is written as two words.
Now, in a formal legal notice, Marshfield has decided to call a special election August 10 for a charter amendment to change the city's name from Marshfield to Coosbay. Residents of the town believe they can beat North Bend to the change by a week or so, inasmuch as certain legal difficulties would make it impossible for North Bend residents to swing into action within 30 days.

From Klamath Falls—Miss Betty Zimmerman of Klamath Falls is visiting today with Miss Dorothy East.
