LYNCH THREAT FOR DAW'S SLAYER

News Behind The News
 By Paul Mallon
 WASHINGTON, July 29.—A conspiracy of nature appears to be foiling the economists. They thought this was going to be an unencouraging summer. Their only hope has been for fall. But it seems that every time their pessimism is about to be realized, something uncharitable and unexpected arises to offset their dreary calculations.

You can get the best idea about it if you will look behind what has happened lately in steel. Three weeks ago everyone was expecting a sharp slump. During the July 4 holiday week, input operations were down to one-third of capacity. Nothing encouraging was in sight. Then, without advance notice, operations began to pick up until the rate got up to 45 per cent, and remained there. (It was only 40 per cent in June).

The only explanation of this phenomenon was that fabricators underestimated their demand. They have been working very close to their margin on stock. Unexpected orders started them to work unseasonably. The orders came from automobile makers, residential construction, machine tools, all somewhat unexpected.

The riddle may not be as hard to solve as economists believe. The fact is that the depression influence has been removed from the business mind. In its place has come an alert conservatism, a tendency to underestimate expectations, to keep stocks of goods to a narrow margin, an eagerness to get after business actively at first sign of demand, instead of remaining frozen in fearful restraint.

SIDE GLANCES by TRIBUNE REPORTERS

"Spud" Stuart as the middleman in a matron unloading chain precariously catching a large metal, turning without looking to toss it to the next man, and almost whooping an old gentleman in the chaps before he could catch himself.

Several budding merchants, who set up shop near the chamber of commerce, ages 10 to 12, in imminent danger of their business collapsing, because they all insisted on sampling their wares—punch, at two cents a glass.

Ned Wold, court secretary, getting a weary look in his eye after two weeks spent in clipping and pasting law changes in a big book.

Ralph Cowgill, down for a few days, and highly elated over the success of his new fish ladder at Savage Rapids.

John Yauza exhibiting angry teeth marks from a police dog, on his arm, and upon being advised to report it to the police, so that the dog could be killed or the owner made responsible, replying—"I thought of that, but it's my dog!"

Wayne May, formerly just another Medford boy, now a big shot with United Airlines, and making all his old cronies jealous by appearing with a tailored uniform.

Kerwin Maruyama, Joe Demman, Ray Lewis and Bob Estinger going through their paces as a "pony" backfield on the high school lawn, under the watchful eye of Coach Ryserman as Referee "OK" Deal looks on.

Charley Elliott, absent-mindedly putting his pipe in his pocket, and after smelling smoke for some time, calmly reaching down and putting out the conflagration by merely pinching out the fire.

Pinto "Mickey Mouse" Colvig back to his old haunts, reminiscing with Sgt. Elmsberg about when they used to trot horns in the O. S. C. band, and when Pinto and Curt McCreedy used to shin apples for a living.

KILLERS GUESTS TRANSIENT HOTEL SATURDAY NIGHT

Pair Also Caused Trouble
Klamath Falls Year Ago
—Search for Fugitive to South—Captured Bandit to Yreka.

KLAMATH FALLS, July 30.—(AP)—John Bechen, director of the federal transient bureau, said today that both Robert Miller and C. L. Johnson had registered here last Saturday.

Bureau officials declared that the two men were also in Klamath Falls a year ago and had caused trouble. The nature of the trouble was not recalled.

They also said either Johnson or Miller had been a patient at a veterans' hospital at Savelle in southern California.

State police in Klamath county today continued to check highways and shake down freight trains in an effort to trace Robert Miller, wanted at Dunsmuir in connection with the slaying of Chief of Police Daw.

Sheriff Lloyd Low of Klamath county is still in northern California with a deputy aiding in the manhunt. The officers led here yesterday with Jack Linchenbach and Linchenbach's police trained Doberman pincer.

DUNSMUIR, Calif., July 30.—(AP)—Search for the second of two men who shot and killed Chief of Police F. B. Daw north of here yesterday turned toward the south today when a dog trained in tracking led policemen on a trail in the direction of Cholla.

One of the men who engaged in the fatal gun battle with the dead officer and Traffic Officer George Malone, who was slightly wounded, was taken into custody less than an hour after the shooting. He gave his name as C. L. Johnson, and said his companion was Robert Miller, 30.

Outspoken threats of lynching caused authorities to transfer Johnson a few hours later from Dunsmuir to the county jail at Yreka.

The shooting occurred when Chief Daw and Malone attempted to arrest the two men on the outskirts of Dunsmuir as suspects in the robbery the night before at a restaurant at Castella, 20 miles south of here.

As Daw and Malone stepped out of their car, the two men, who had been walking along the highway, suddenly opened fire. Daw fell pierced by three bullets. Malone, although creased on the scalp by one bullet, fired at the men as they dived into underbrush and fled.

The traffic officer rushed Daw to a hospital here, where he died shortly after, and then gave the alarm.

Johnson, less than an hour later, was captured by two Dunsmuir citizens, Charles Tracy and Stephen Agbaroff. He was carrying a pistol, officers said, from which several shots had been fired.

Johnson was quoted by the authorities as confessing the Castella robbery, but declaring his companion had fired the shots which killed Daw. Johnson said he was 24 years old and had lived in Reno, Nev., and Klamath Falls, Ore.

DAW VISITED IN CITY LAST WEEK

Chief of Police F. B. Daw of Dunsmuir, killed early yesterday morning by thugs he was attempting to arrest near Dunsmuir for participation in an armed robbery of the Castella Inn, was in Medford visiting with the R. A. Skinner family only a week ago Sunday, Eskinner said today.

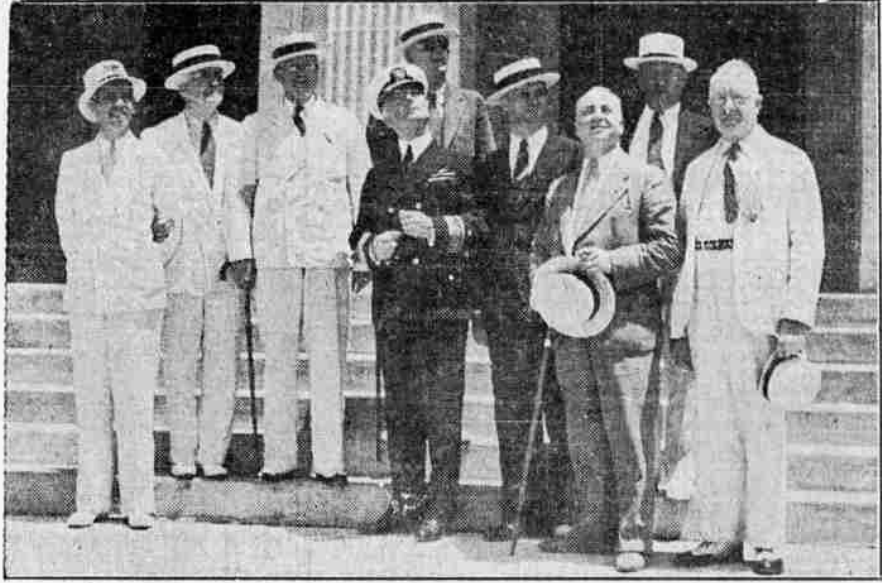

The visit came while Daw and his family were taking a two weeks' vacation, making the loop trip over the Redwood highway to Crescent City down the coast to San Francisco. It was only a few hours after returning from this vacation that he was killed.

In a letter from the Dunsmuir News to this paper today, it was learned that Mrs. Daw is the former Helen James of Medford, Ore., with her family lived on Laurel street here for many years and is well known. The Harry Skyrman family are also close friends of Mrs. Daw.

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., July 29.—(UP)—Police Lieutenant R. S. Berry arrested A. E. Davis on charge of intoxication. When they arrived at the station Berry found his watch gone. A search of Davis' pockets revealed the keychain. Davis got a punch in the nose and a $5 fine.

REPRESENTATIVES VISIT WEST COAST AIR BASE

Among congressmen of the naval affairs and naval appropriations committee visiting Moffett Field, home of the ill-fated dirigible Nautilus, during their tour of West Coast air bases were (left to right) Representatives Byron Scott and J. J. McGrath, both of California; Glover H. Gary, Kentucky; John O'Connell, Rhode Island; Admiral Edward H. Campbell, commander of the 12th naval district; Representatives Colgate W. Darden, Virginia; William H. Suthin, New Jersey; Melvin J. Maas, Minnesota; William L. Higgins, Connecticut. They discussed the feasibility of maintaining the Nautilus, Calif., base as a heavier-than-air base for naval operations. (Associated Press Photo)

DU BARRY CLAIMS GRUDGE BACK OF INSURANCE SUIT

Star Witness Unreliable, Defense Shows in Curry County Self-Mutilation Action.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 30.—(AP)—Defense witnesses today challenged the motives of star witnesses for the Aetna insurance company which brought suit to discontinue disability payments to "Count" George Hay Du Barry.

The company in its federal court suit contends that Du Barry purposely maimed his hands with a shotgun blast and necessitated their amputation.

Mrs. F. M. Pentecost and Jack Douthitt testified that W. O. Hemlich, who swore Du Barry plotted to injure himself to collect insurance payments, had a grudge against Du Barry and had profanely threatened to collect money he alleged Du Barry owed him. Douthitt said Hemlich declared if he didn't get the money from Du Barry, he would get it from the insurance company.

State Representative Roy E. Carter, Gold Beach gasman who employed Hemlich, declared that Hemlich was unreliable and bore a poor reputation for truth telling.

Carter offered testimony that Du Barry was in financial straits prior to the accident by declaring Du Barry promptly paid a bill for services just prior to the accident and that he had boats and equipment at Gold Beach worth more than $5000.

Another defense witness, Victor Capeloto, testified that he sold Du Barry a $1000 insurance policy shortly before the accident and that Du Barry refused to increase the sum. The Aetna company had testified that Du Barry sought to increase his insurance policies just before the mishap.

The company made monthly disability payments of $125 for several months before discontinuing them.

EX-ASHLAND TOT TRAGEDY VICTIM

ORLAND, Cal., July 29.—(AP)—Arlen Reigel, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Adin Reigel of Orland, was drowned near there last night when he fell into an irrigation ditch a short distance from where his parents and other members of the family were swimming. The parents recovered the body.

The family formerly lived at Ashland, Ore.

PLAN ALL OREGON EMPLOYABLES OFF RELIEF IN MONTH

PWA to Open Drive for New Projects—Ask Early Application Filing by Counties.

PORTLAND, July 30.—(AP)—The SERRA will remain in charge of private projects until the end of August so the works progress administration may concentrate on getting new projects underway. E. J. Griffith, Oregon PWA director, announced today.

Griffith said a special drive would be made to get as many new projects as possible underway within the next 30 days, in an effort to get all employable persons in Oregon off relief rolls by September 1. WPA workers will be taken from relief rolls.

By waiting until later to take over SERRA projects, more time will be available for WPA directors to speed the start of new projects. It was pointed out.

The state administration is asking city and county officials throughout the state to submit their applications at the earliest possible time.

MOSCOW REPORTS COAST DOCK WAR NEXT SEPTEMBER

MOSCOW, July 30.—(AP)—New labor troubles among the seamen and port workers on the Pacific coast of the United States were predicted today by an American delegate, Sam Darcy of San Francisco, speaking before the communist international.

He said a bitter "struggle" is likely to ensue in September, when an agreement between workers and shipowners expires, and that it could well start an unprecedented strike movement.

The outcome of the struggle will depend, he said, "not only on our work on the western coast but on the efforts of all sections of the comintern to obtain the cooperation of seamen and port workers in all countries in a general and decisive fight against the bourgeoisie."

WASHINGTON, July 30.—(AP)—Officials of the seamen's and longshoremen's unions urged Pacific coast locals by telegram today to accept the labor department's invitation to peace conferences.

Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, invited the locals to send representatives to conferences here with shipowners and labor department officials. A new agreement to submit disputes to labor relations boards before striking is the objective.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 29.—(UP)—At the same time Fireman Jack Kaskaske was injured in an automobile collision, another car killed his dog, Pedro. In another part of the city.

EX-MEDFORD MAN HURT IN CRASH; BURNS TO DEATH

Oil Explodes When Truck Hits Pole at Ar buckle, Calif.—Scores See Horror, But Helpless.

Frederick E. Frye, 25, of Klamath Falls, formerly of Medford, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Frye of 736 Oak street here, was burned to death today at Ar buckle, California, when the truck he was driving, belonging to his brother Bob of Klamath Falls, crashed into a telephone pole while avoiding another machine, and the oil drums caught on fire.

Frye is a former local resident, coming to Medford when but eight years old, and living here until two years ago when he joined his brother in Klamath Falls. He is well known here, and his many friends will be shocked to hear of his death.

The remains are being forwarded to the Conger funeral home here, and burial will be announced later. He is survived by his parents in Medford, and three sisters, Mrs. J. E. Pullerton of Victorville, California, Mrs. J. W. Everett of Medford, and Mrs. Nell Newland of Medford, besides his brother in Klamath Falls.

ARBUCKLE, Calif., July 30.—(AP)—Pinned in the cab of his truck when it crashed into a telephone pole and caught fire on the main street here, Frederick E. Frye, 25, Klamath Falls, Ore., was burned to death while scores of onlookers watched the tragedy, unable to aid.

A load of oil drums aboard the truck exploded a few moments after the impact, transforming the wreckage into an inferno. Frye was wedged tightly between the engine and semi-trailer body, and it was half an hour before firemen were able to cut through the demolished cab and reach the body.

An inquest was ordered.

PASS VOTES BOND FOR JUNIOR HIGH

GRANTS PASS, Ore., July 30.—(AP)—Voters of school district No. 7 today were voting on a $117,000 bond issue for construction of a new junior high school building here.

It is proposed that the district obtain a $200,000 federal loan and grant from the public works administration to cover the cost of the building and equipment. The district would repay $117,000.

RED TAPE BLOCKS CRATER LK. VIEW FOR 500 TEACHERS

Regulations Prevent Georgia Buses From Entering Park—Concession Rights Involved—Tour Proceeds.

BEND, Ore., July 30.—(AP)—Five hundred Georgia school teachers who came into Oregon to view Crater Lake today without having seen Oregon's scenic gem, according to information here.

Managers of three caravans, each group moving a day apart, said regulations prevented entrance because the park management had granted four concessions to the Sightseeing Bus corporation in Oregon.

Specific instructions from Washington, D. C., forced the chief ranger of the national park to deny admission to the teachers' caravans, managed by University Tours, Inc., of Southwestern Teachers' college, Atlanta, Ga., stated William R. Ross, one of the caravan managers.

The caravans came to Bend from Rainier national park after visiting Glacier and Yellowstone national parks. In previous years, the caravan management said, tours were welcome at Crater Lake.

Information received here today from the national park service in Washington, D. C., indicated that only sightseeing buses which are granted a concession may be operated in Crater Lake park. There are a few exceptions, one of which provides that cars or buses chartered exclusively for a tour of the park by any group or organization may be admitted.

FARLEY EXPECTED TO ANSWER KNOX NEW DEAL BLOWS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—(AP)—California's political sounding board hummed today from an attack on the Roosevelt administration by Colonel Frank Knox of Chicago while Democrats looked forward to the expected arrival tomorrow of their party's national chairman, Postmaster General James A. Farley.

Colonel Knox, the latest of nationally prominent republicans to visit Mr. Hoover, declared in his address at a meeting sponsored by the republican assembly, a party organization, that the key issues of the next campaign would be "defense of the constitution," a balanced budget, stabilized currency and a "sound" farm policy.

He predicted that a republican president would be elected to take office in 1937 on a platform opposed to "planned economy" which he contrasted with what he said was the "competitive philosophy" visioned by the framers of the United States constitution.

Colonel Knox, who denied that he had any aspirations for the republican nomination, left by airplane last night for Chicago.

Gold Fish Poisoned. KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 30.—(UP)—Mrs. Lillian Eddy bled Mrs. Margaret Braun into court, and charged her with poisoning the Eddy's goldfish. Mrs. Braun countered that Mrs. Eddy had broken up her home. Judge James H. Anderson ignored the goldfish murder and gave Mrs. Eddy a lecture and a $50 fine.

Legal Ethics. MACON, Mo., July 30.—(UP)—When asked to defend a destitute man in district court today, Attorney Mike Edwards said: "I will not take a defense of a man charged with a murder but not a man low enough to steal chickens."

PROSPECT MONEY AVAILABLE SOON, THEN WORK OPENS

Boost in PWA Loan Means More Complete Disposal Project—Contract Already Let.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—(AP)—Increased allotments for a long list of projects in different sections of the country were announced today by the public works administration. They included:

Oregon—Medford, loan and grant of $100,000 for sewerage treatment plant increased to $120,000.

A telegram from Washington was received here yesterday by Mayor George Porter, stating that the increase in grant from $100,000 to $120,000 to cover the increased cost in building the proposed sewerage disposal plant here, had been approved and awaited only the final approval of the public work board. That approval was made today, according to the Associated Press.

It is surmised here that the money will be available within a short time, and that work will start as soon as possible on the building of the disposal plant. Although it was deemed possible to construct a plant for the $100,000 originally authorized, it was recommended by those active in the work that an increase of only $20,000 would provide a much more complete and satisfactory plant.

When contractors submitted bids some time ago, the low bid was entered by R. I. Stuart and Sons of Medford, but the bid covering the complete specifications was higher than the money available. Alternate bids for a less complete plant were also entered by Stuart, however, and were within the $100,000 limit.

ALLOT HUGE FUND FOR CCC FORCES

WASHINGTON, July 30.—(AP)—Allotment of $370,000,000 of work relief funds for a wide variety of projects, including $200,000,000 for the Civilian Conservation Corps, was recommended to President Roosevelt today by his works allotment board.

The recommendations included $28,000,000 for the national youth administration to aid students by useful work. Of this sum, it was proposed that an average of $6 a month be spent for 250,000 high school students from families on relief rolls; an average of $15 a month for 100,000 college students; and an average of $30 a month for 4000 college graduates to complete post-graduate courses.

The board set aside $95,000,000 for continuation of direct relief and work relief by the relief administration during August.

Fined Himself. OKLAHOMA CITY, July 30.—Police Judge Mike Postler found a traffic tag on his automobile. He investigated the progress of the traffic documents and found he would have to appear before himself and paid the $1 fine.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

DURANGO, Colo., July 29.—Towns are like people, they are proud of what they have. Trinidad, Colo., with enough coal to melt the North Pole down till it runs. Then Wiley hit a beeline over the tops of the mountains to Durango, a beautiful little city, out of the way and glad of it. Gold, silver, and Mesa Verde cliff dwelling ruins where civilization flourished before it started to go backwards. Then Wiley flew over Breece canyon, Zion canyon, down and through the Grand canyon, Hoover dam's new lake. No wonder American people are filling roads, train and air. There is so much to see. What we lack in reading we make up in looking.
