HOWARD IS HEAD OF OSTEOPATHIC ASSN. FOR STATE

Dr. W. W. Howard, a successful physician in community since 1912, who was elected this year to the presidency of the Oregon Osteopathic Association, is manager of the new Osteopathic clinic and hospital which will be officially opened Thursday, August 1.

"I am very happy to have the pleasure of introducing to my practice and to the people of the Rogue River valley, Dr. Russell R. Sherwood, who became associated with me in practice last October. He has specialized in obstetrics and major surgery, which type of practice necessitates hospital facilities, and because such facilities were not open to us in this city it became necessary for us to open a place of our own, which we have done. We hope that it will meet with your approval. I have greatly appreciated your patronage in the past and will welcome it in the future," stated Dr. Howard.

Dr. Howard was graduated from the American School of Osteopathy at Kirksville, Mo., in 1912, and passed the Missouri and Iowa state board examinations.

After "landing" in his home in Joux with three dollars in his pocket, Dr. Howard decided to go west, and wrote to all the towns in Oregon for information. The letter he received from Medford was written by Judge Colvig, then secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who told of the beauty and opportunity of the valley so persuasively that Dr. Howard came here after passing his Oregon state board examination in 1912.

"I had a letter of introduction to Frank Rhodes," Dr. Howard recalled. "Who telephoned City Engineer Olen Arntsen, and together they took me for a ride, completely 'selling' me the city. I opened my office December 25, 1912, in the Garnett-Cory building, which is now the Liberty building."

After a discouraging start, Dr. Howard built up a highly successful practice. In 1919 he entered the Los Angeles College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons to specialize in eye, ear, nose and throat. Dr. Howard had as his instructor, Dr. T. J. Ruddy, originator of the tonal technique that Dr. Howard has used successfully for the past 15 years.

Dr. Ruddy will be in Medford for the opening Thursday.

OBSTETRICS AND SURGERY ARE IN SHERWOOD'S CARE

"It is with pleasure that I announce my association with Dr. Howard in this new venture, and I wish to thank my friends and patients for the many courtesies and the friendship shown me in the short time I have been in private practice in Medford," stated Dr. Russell R. Sherwood today when interviewed regarding the official opening Thursday of the new Osteopathic clinic and hospital on East Jackson boulevard.

Although Dr. Sherwood has been practicing in Medford only since last October, following his return in September, 1934, he is a resident of this community since early school days.

Born in Detroit, Mich., he came to Medford as a boy in 1908, attending Washington grade school and later joining a popular and active student of Medford high school. He joined the 7th company of Medford at the time of the World war, and after serving two years, part of the time overseas, returned to high school to graduate with the class of '20.

After five years of service with the California Oregon Power Co., Dr. Sherwood enrolled in the College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons at Los Angeles, and upon his graduation was interned for one year in the Los Angeles County General Hospital. He served there as resident physician for an additional three and one-half years.

Dr. Sherwood has been specially trained in obstetrics and surgery, which combined with Dr. Howard's special training in eye, ear, nose and throat, forms a complete clinic.

PORTLAND SEEKS KEY AIR BASE OF NORTHWEST AREA

WASHINGTON, July 30.—(AP)—Frankly elated at passage of the Wilcox air base bill, high-ranking army corps officers today turned their eyes toward maps to determine where to build six new air bases authorized by the measure.

Under the bill, which is awaiting presidential approval, the depots would be established at key points in six specified defense areas at a cost of $120,000,000.

Inasmuch as the bill simply authorizes, instead of appropriates, the funds, progress will depend upon the financial backing of the public works allotment board. But in the opinion of Rep. Wilcox (D., Fla.), author of the measure, funds will be made available this year for "at least one or two" bases.

Reports from an authoritative source indicate that Alaska will be chosen first. It was said that the need for an extreme northern air corps outpost, and a desire to experiment with cold weather flying are contributing factors. Fairbanks is leading the field as the most probable site.

The second area probably will be that including the Pacific northwest. Denver would like it, and so would Salt Lake City, Postville, Idaho, and Albuquerque, N. M., with the Rocky Mountain base serving largely in a secondary defense role as ammunition and supply depot for the west coast, a similar base is planned to assist operations along the Atlantic.

Several cities are seeking the base planned for the Rocky Mountain area. Denver would like it, and so would Salt Lake City, Postville, Idaho, and Albuquerque, N. M., with the Rocky Mountain base serving largely in a secondary defense role as ammunition and supply depot for the west coast, a similar base is planned to assist operations along the Atlantic.

GOOD SAMARITAN 'TAKEN FOR RIDE'

CHICAGO, July 29.—The body of John A. Holbrook, taken for a gang ride because he tried to be a "Good Samaritan," was found with a bullet through the heart at the entrance to Cook county hospital today.

Holbrook, a newspaper circulation man, was griefed because his friend, Thomas Ketcham, had become estranged from his wife. He sought to mend the marital rift and effect a reconciliation between Ketcham and Ketcham's pretty wife.

All he got for his pains, Mrs. Holbrook told police as she sought to aid them in their search for the killers, was threatening telephone calls and finally death. She recalled one mysterious call three weeks ago which she took. A man's voice warned her: "Tell Johnnie to keep his nose clean, and to keep it out of other people's business."

which she took. A man's voice warned her: "Tell Johnnie to keep his nose clean, and to keep it out of other people's business."

OREGON AWARDED $62,000 FOR CHECK CHRONIC DISEASE

WASHINGTON, July 30.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today allotted $5,450,000 of work relief funds to the public health service for a survey of chronic diseases.

The proposed expenditures for the survey by states includes: Oregon $62,000; Washington $73,000; California $259,000.

Surgeon General Hugh S. Cummings estimated that the three-fold study would give a year's employment to 3,500 white collar people now on relief rolls. His estimates said it would include:

1. A house to house canvass in selected urban and rural communities to determine the prevalence of long standing illnesses among the rich, the poor, and the middle class families.
2. Physical examinations in a small number of instances to check the accuracy of canvass reports, particularly for chronic diseases.
3. A survey of medical facilities, at the same time, Harry L. Hopkins, work progress administrator, announced that adult education classes—designed to provide work for needy teachers as well as an opportunity for self-improvement to grownups—would be continued under the work relief program.

Twelve hundred teachers are to attend summer schools in preparation for classes to be resumed in the fall, and Hopkins estimated that 2,000,000 adults—not necessarily for relief rolls—would take advantage of the academic and vocational training.

He added that at a cost of $21,024,220 during the past two school years, work had been provided 44,000 needy teachers who instructed 2,000,000 adults and 60,000 kindergarten-age children of destitute families.

Although relief funds were advanced to a few states for payment of rural teachers, Hopkins said that in general he avoided use of federal funds for the regular public school system "lest local initiative in supporting schools be broken down, or employed people thrown out of jobs in order to give relief teachers their places."

WIFE OF ORIENTAL ADMITS SHE SLEW MAN FOR $500 FEE

CHICAGO, July 30.—(AP)—Assistant State's Attorney Charles S. Dougherty today said Mrs. Evelyn Smith, former burlesque dancer, confessed early this morning that she alone killed Ervin Lang, out of his legs and with the aid of her Chinese husband, Harry Jung, threw his body into a swamp near Hammond, Ind., the morning of July 8.

Dougherty said he and Lieut. Thomas Kelly of the state's attorney police secured the admission of the crime in his office after eight hours of questioning during which Mrs. Smith was twice confronted by the slain man, and alleged instigator of the slaying.

Mrs. Smith at first denied Mrs. Dunkel's purported story that she had hired the former to kill Lang for a fee of $500 of which $100 was paid, Mrs. Dunkel was reported to have said, as a retainer.

The assistant state's attorney said the alleged confession corroborated almost completely the story he said Mrs. Dunkel told after her arrest July 10, when she was alleged to have admitted hiring Mrs. Smith to slay her son-in-law because of jealousy of Lang's attentions to other women since the death of Mrs. Dunkel's daughter, Mallie, in 1924.

Electricity—
Plays An Important Role In The Hospital of Today!
THE operation of a modern hospital calls for many uses of Electricity. . . . Light is of utmost importance in diagnosing and operating as well as in regular hospital routine. Much modern hospital equipment is electrically operated. . . . Telephones and room service signals are essential, water is quickly heated for sterilization; food is cooked and washing done electrically—even the heating equipment is operated electrically, while the ever important refrigeration problem is efficiently and economically solved by electricity.
Congratulations
Are due Dr. Howard and Dr. Sherwood upon the completion of their new Osteopathic Clinic and Hospital. . . . When you attend the "open house" of this institution Thursday, see for yourself the important part Electricity plays in its operation.
