COURT FINDINGS ON CAR LOAN LAW UNDER 1931 ACT

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 2.—(AP)—The Oregon supreme court opinion this week which specified what small loan companies could and could not do relative to loans on automobiles will be applicable to the 1931 law under which the case involved was brought. Justices of the court decided today.

The four-to-three opinion, written by Justice J. O. Bailey, declared unlawful any loans made by small loan companies on automobiles unless they also had licenses under the motor vehicle finance act. The amendment by the 1935 legislature stated that loans could be made on automobiles under the motor vehicle act at a rate of interest not to exceed 2 per cent a month on sums of $500 or under. Brokerage charges likewise were permitted. Previously a rate of 10 per cent a year was permitted on loans up to $500.

The case involved in the opinion and which itself was overshadowed by the principle brought out was that by C. J. Ford against William H. Bates in a suit to foreclose a mechanic's lien for labor and material upon an automobile upon which a loan of $125 had been made by the local loan company. The lower court in Multnomah county sustained the plaintiff, but on appeal to the court by the defendant the majority opinion reversed the decree. Chief Justice J. V. Campbell and Justice Kelly concurred with the majority opinion while Justice Rosen wrote a specially concurring opinion. Justice Henry J. Bean wrote the dissenting opinion.

MELON CODE COST HELD EXORBITANT

SALEM, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Complaint that the Oregon melon and tomato code committee had been extravagant in their expenditures was filed with Governor Martin here today by a delegation of Douglas county tomato and melon growers. It was alleged that the committee expended between $50,000 and $65,000 last year and that even larger expenditures were proposed during the current 12 months. The complainants charged that the benefits from the code were not commensurate with the present costs of operations. Governor Martin indicated he would conduct an investigation.

Neil Hamilton In Dramatic Role On Craterian Screen

Now a young veteran found health and happiness in a peaceful California seacoast community provided the intriguing plot of "Keeper of the Bees," which won popular acclaim of a crowded house last night at its initial local showing at the Craterian theater.

The new photoplay tells of a shell-shocked war veteran who steals away from a government hospital when he learns that he has but six months to live. He starts to hitchhike his way to his native city for a final fling with his last resources, but is detoured by a pretty fate, which leads him to the little town of Peaceful Bay, where he immediately becomes involved in the tranquil existence of a bee keeper, and discovers romance under extremely mysterious circumstances, which are only solved by the finale of the gripping plot.

Playing the leading role is Neil Hamilton, who gives one of the finest performances of his successful career. Appearing opposite him in a part which should assure her of permanent fame, is pretty Betty Furness, while extremely sympathetic handling of other important roles can be credited to Hobart Bosworth, Emma Dunn, Edith Fellows, Helen Jerome Eddy, Marion Shilling, James Burtila, Barbara Bedford, Lyle McKeen and George Cleveland.

Zane Grey Picture On Roxy's Program

A picture which tops any western drama George O'Brien has yet filmed, is scheduled to arrive at the Roxy theater for tomorrow only. This is "The Dude Ranger," described as a thrilling saga of the Arizona cattle lands. The fact that Zane Grey is the author of the new film in itself promises far more than usual for local audiences in the way of excitement, romance and authenticity of background. This time Grey tells the story of Ernest Selby, sophisticated but sturdy young easterner, who comes to Arizona to claim a ranch inherited from his uncle. Here he has an opportunity to make his identity known to the ranch manager, his suspicions are aroused by the disappearance of several hundred head of cattle.

Coming Sunday

There's a song for everybody in Shirley Temple's "Curly Top," the star's happiest and most tuneful picture, which comes Sunday to the Craterian theater. In the hit score of five numbers, there are three tunes for Shirley, topped by "When I Grow Up" and "Animal Crackers in My Soup." John Boles, who supports Shirley, sings "It's All So New to Me," and Rochelle Hudson vocalizes "The Simple Things in Life."

Shirley's role in "Curly Top" is that of a lovable orphan child who rewards her benefactor by helping him to win the girl he loves. John Boles is the benefactor. Finding Shirley in an orphanage, he adopts the child to get the benefit of her charm and happiness. But in getting her, he also has to adopt her pet pony and duck, and her lovely governess, Rochelle Hudson.

The little child, transported to society's haunts at Southampton, breaks through the frosty exterior of blue-bloods with her facile charms. And, when the romance of her sister and John Boles is threatened with disaster, Shirley comes to the rescue and manages to effect a happy climax.

FIREMEN BATTLE 11 GRASS FIRES

The Medford fire department, while getting a much needed respite in answering only 11 grass fires during the month of July as compared to 30 for that month over a 10-year average, at least had calls enough to keep them busy when they made a total of 25 runs during July, ranging from false alarms up through telephone pole blazes to apartment house fires.

A tabulation issued today by Fire Chief Roy Elliott shows that besides the 11 grass fires there were three false alarms, two rubbish blazes, one laundry fire, three sawdust fires, one rooming house conflagration, one telephone pole (caught from a grass fire at the base), one motorcycle call, one residence and one out-of-town call. The loss, while not yet completely tabulated, will run in the neighborhood of $1300, Elliott said.
