What the Girl Scouts Are Doing

The Girl Scout office announces that it is not yet too late to register for the second week of encampment at Camp-McLaughlin. According to word received from Mrs. Collier, camp director, many of the first week girls are staying over for the second week, and the girls are enthusiastic over the many activities which are offered.

Girls going in on Sunday are asked not to report at camp until 2:30 so as to give the out-going girls ample time to leave. They should also provide their own lunch if they plan to arrive at Lake of the Woods before 2:30 o'clock.

Those unable to furnish their own transportation to and from the camp should leave word at the office not later than Saturday afternoon. Information concerning time of leaving will then be given out.

NO WAR ORDERED ON COAST 'REDS'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—(UP)—The White House has no interest at present in the controversy between Pacific coast ship owners and unions, administration spokesmen said tonight.

A report that President Roosevelt had ordered the labor department to "smash Pacific coast reds" also was branded as false by high government officials.

The only interest the federal government has in the marine labor situation in the west is of a purely conciliatory nature, it was said. And the only action which the department of labor will engage at present is a series of conferences beginning Saturday with representatives of shipping unions and ship owners from the San Francisco area, labor officials asserted.

BUSINESS BETTER, INDUSTRY SPEEDED SAYS DUN REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—(AP)—A general expansion of business to a higher level this week than during the similar period of last year was found in a survey issued today by Dun & Bradstreet.

"Accelerated by the unexpected upturn in the pace of operations of some of the leading industries, far in advance of the usual period for expansion, more trends reached toward a higher level than was recorded at this time a year ago," it was stated in the review.

"Continuous high temperatures and new heat waves in some parts of the country gave retailers an opportunity to clear the remaining stocks of summer merchandise, making substantial sums of cash available for investment in fall inventories."

"Buying at wholesale was advanced by the rising current of consumer demand and the greater price stability."

Although retail trade continued at an excellent pace, it was declared, the estimated gain in sales for the country was held to a range of 10 to 30 per cent over 1934 because of the rising trend of a year ago.

"While the gains reported by some of the markets were small, general volume of wholesale continued to rise by a larger percentage over the comparative showing of last year," the review found.

"Price uncertainties during July led to the postponement of so much buying that most wholesalers are making preparations for an abrupt gain during August."

"The further advance of industrial operations has lifted the average from 15 to 25 per cent higher than it was for the corresponding 1934 week."

"Employment held generally steady, with slight gains at isolated centers, although the increase was not in keeping with the advancing rate of activity."

SEVEN OFF RELIEF AFTER REFUSAL OF WOODCUTTER JOBS

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 2.—(UP)—The state relief administration announced today that thousands of persons are leaving relief rolls in Oregon and obtaining seasonal and permanent employment.

The SERA warned that any recipients of relief who refuse employment offered them will be dropped summarily from relief rolls.

Multnomah county authorities removed seven persons from relief rolls this week when they refused to cut wood on Larch mountain.

Not only seasonal employment, but permanent betterment in conditions have reduced Oregon's relief rolls, SERA chiefs said. Those on relief up to July, for the past five months, are: February, 41,203 cases or 136,919 persons; March, 39,146 cases or 131,826 persons; April, 36,727 cases or 124,094 persons; May, 32,117 cases or 110,023 persons; June, 29,176 cases or 97,468 persons. July figures had not been tabulated tonight.

BEND AREA GETS SKI FACILITIES

BEND, Ore., Aug. 2.—(UP)—A winter playground with a ski jump, large headquarters building and numerous ski trails will be constructed in the upper Tumalo creek area, 10 miles west of Bend, Carl B. Neal, Deschutes national forest supervisor, said today.

Work on the Tumalo recreation area will start Monday, with 35 men from the Bend relief roll on the job. The following week the crew will be increased when the CCC stub camp of 25 men will be on the new grounds.

O. L. Beedon, ranger in charge of the Bend district, will supervise the project, with Roy Moore of Redmond as foreman. The new playground and building will be ready for use when snow flies this fall.

It was expected the new winter playground would to a large extent replace the skyliners' recreation center in the McKenzie Pass country, where a number of northwest ski mecca have been held in recent years.

LONGER TONGUED BEES, OBJECTIVE

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 2.—(UP) Stretching the tongues of honey bees is the latest diversion of federal agricultural department bee specialists.

Agriculturists have been working on developing a bee with a longer tongue, the better to gather nectar from red clover blossoms which have deep corolla tubes. Red clover can't pollinate itself and is not wind-pollinated, depending on bees for reproduction.

W. Rush (right), near Athol, Ida. The parents clung to hopes raised by a note which said the baby was "o.k." and the prediction of a medium the child would be found at San Diego. MARTIN ASKS AID FARM DEBT BOARD

SALEM, Aug. 2.—(AP)—In a telegram to President Roosevelt today Governor Martin urged proper financing of the farm debt adjustment committee. The telegram read:

"My attention has been called to technical difficulties in administrative adjustment threatening seriously to leave unfinanced our farm debt adjustment committee which have heretofore received nominal financial support from the emergency relief administration."

"Owing to the importance of this work and the splendid results being obtained in saving farmers from foreclosure and probable unemployment status I deem it worth your personal attention and trust some means may be found for reasonable budgetary aid."

STATE LIBRARY IN EXISTENCE 30 YRS.

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 2.—(UP)—An even 30 candles graced the state library's birthday cake this week as it celebrated the anniversary of its founding August 1, 1905.

Instead of the 2500 books available to 5400 borrowers that patronized the library in its beginning, the stocks in the supreme court building housed 350,000 volumes with a 400,000-person borrowers' list.

When the state library opened its doors in 1905 there were only two free public libraries outside of Portland—at Eugene and Salem. Subscription libraries existed at Baker, Astoria, Ashland, Grants Pass and Troutdale.

SHOWERS MODIFY MID-WEST HEAT

(By the Associated Press)
Scattered showers whittled down the size of the mid-west blast furnace area today but no definite break in the heat wave was yet sighted.

As the mid-west remained super-hot and heat deaths mounted to 130, the east suffered from wind and electric storms which claimed at least 10 lives. The picture was different in Montana, where snow fell, Arizona had cloudbursts.

Iowa, eastern Nebraska and northern Kansas cooled down a bit following showers last night. Scattered showers were forecast for Kansas and Missouri. If they materialized, temperatures were expected to drop slightly.

Showers would be but a temporary respite, A. M. Hamrick, Kansas City meteorologist, said.

NAZI REPRESSION FOREIGN WRITERS FOSTERS CRISIS

BERLIN, Aug. 2.—(AP)—The propaganda ministry's heavy hand fell today upon Dr. Ernst Klein, the Berlin correspondent of the Swiss Protestant newspaper, Basler Nachrichten.

He was ordered to get out of Germany within five days and the order was regarded as the first action in repressive measures threatened against foreign correspondents.

Coincidentally with Klein's expulsion, Roland Frielier, state secretary for the ministry of justice, intimated that a new criminal code will punish with the utmost severity any effort to insert or even "point at" the Nazi party.

Officials of the propaganda ministry have been busy for the last few days calling in foreign correspondents and telling them their reporting does not please the Nazi regime.

During previous months only younger correspondents who have not been in Germany long or who do not represent large and influential newspapers or nations were called on the carpet.

A number of foreign correspondents have been in close touch with their respective diplomatic missions during recent days and have been assured by their ambassador or ministers that they will stand solidly behind them. In the case of some nations, diplomatic interventions may not prove available.

Foreign correspondents generally are in agreement that their situation is becoming increasingly difficult.

TEXAS ATTORNEY SLAIN WHEN LOVE TRIANGLE SHOWN

BRYAN, Tex., Aug. 2.—(AP)—M. M. Riedel, 36, Houston attorney, faced murder charges today for the admitted slaying of Luther Broadway, 40, former county judge and attorney at Madisonville, in a hotel room where Riedel said he found Broadway and Mrs. Riedel together.

Broadway was tentatively set at $8,000, and C. L. Gustin of Madison county, father of Mrs. Riedel, had arranged to obtain sureties.

Riedel said he went to the hotel room yesterday and found Judge Broadway, clad only in underwear, and Mrs. Riedel only partially clothed. Broadway was armed with five pistol bullets in the head.

Justice of the Peace A. J. Buchanan said Riedel told him he had intercepted a letter last week from Broadway to his wife. He said the letter suggested that Mrs. Riedel, who was employed at Texas A. and M. college, meet him yesterday at the Hotel Bryan.

Buchanan quoted Riedel as saying he found what appeared to be a fictitious name on the hotel register, knocked at the indicated room and Broadway appeared.

Riedel said he saw his partially undressed wife and "couldn't restrain himself," Buchanan said.
