

TOURING STUDENTS FORM LARGE PART OF CRATER TRAVEL

Groups From Throughout Country Enjoy Beauties of Natural Wonder—More Tours Booked for Week

CRATER LAKE NATIONAL PARK, Ore., Aug. 6.—(AP).—Another indication that tourist travel is now at its height is the arrival of Crater Lake of several student and teacher tours from Pacific coast, middlewestern and eastern states during the past fortnight.

Information gained during park visits by these instructors and students is disseminated to others over a wide area of the United States. As a rule, the tours spend from one to two days in the park, taking advantage of different field trips and lectures offered by the National Park Service to encourage a better acquaintance with the Oregon scenic wonder.

Among the recent tours arriving are included six buses of the University of Oregon, the Miami College of Oxford, Ohio, 30 students; Iowa State college of Ames, Iowa, 40 persons; University of Washington botany tour, 27 students; College of the Pacific, Stockton, Cal., 21 persons; Lolomi Lodge school for boys, Altadena, Cal., 17 members; American Tours, Pittsburgh, Mass., 21 high school and college instructors; and smaller tours.

Tours this week include 15 persons from Clark university, Worcester, Mass., and 23 persons on the Thompson Travel Tour from Kansas City, Mo. Between 20 and 30 persons have been arriving weekly at Crater Lake as members of the Burlington Railroad Tours, which began July 9 and will continue until August 20.

On the average of three small educational parties have been arriving weekly at Crater Lake and usually consist of one instructor and approximately 10 students. During the last few days, one party arrived from Canton, Ohio, and the other from Detroit, Mich. The majority of the parties spend two or three nights in the rim campground, recognized as one of the best of its kind on the coast, offering hot and cold water, free shower baths and free food.

MANY INQUIRIES RECEIVED BY C-C

An average of 30 letters a week are received by the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce inquiring about Medford and the surrounding territory as a place to live, build, enter business or mine. It was announced by that organization today. Aside from the 30 weekly letters, an average of 25 persons inquire in person at the chamber offices every day. It was learned.

Many other inquiries come in about places to vacation, fish or camp. These inquiries are answered either in person, or leaflets describing the advantages of this community are mailed out. In each it is pointed out that for those who have an income, this spot is ideal, but for those who have none, they are best off where they are now, as there is very little transient labor.

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Aug. 6.—(AP).—Forest patrol workers today were in control of the last of a series of week end fires which ravaged thousands of feet of timber.

ASTORIA LAUNCHES WAR TO COLLECT TAXES DUE; WILL SHUT OFF WATER

ASTORIA, Ore., Aug. 6.—(AP).—The city of Astoria, launching a war in which delinquent taxes are to be the spoils, today employed the old military strategy of shutting off water supplies to win its cause.

The council passed an ordinance permitting the city to shut off the water supply of anyone who has not paid the 1935 levy. Notice of 10 days must be given.

City Manager James Conville said the move was made after an agreement had been reached with the owners of the defaulted city bonds and after the tax levy was out in half. Only 32 per cent of the 1935 tax has been paid, he said, despite the decreased levy, and the funds for fire and police protection were dwindling.

CANFIELD TELLS PARK POLICY ON ENTRY OF BUSES

Promoters of Southwestern Teachers Tour Aware of Regulations Is Declaration of Superintendent

Position of the national park administration in regard to the alleged barring of 500 school teachers representing Southwestern Teachers' college from Crater Lake park was set forth yesterday by David H. Canfield, superintendent of the park.

According to Mr. Canfield, it has been the policy of the national park officials to bar from the parks all means of transportation operated for private profit and for this reason franchises have been granted in each park for transportation from railheads to the park area.

"There is no Southwestern Teachers' college except in the buses in which it travels," Mr. Canfield said. "Passengers were not necessarily teachers, but were recruited wherever they could be solicited. Two-thirds of the group did not visit the lake."

Promoters given blame. Promoters of the tour were familiar with the park regulation on transportation, Mr. Canfield said, and their buses and equipment were barred after all evidence had been submitted to the director of parks.

No attempt was made to keep individual members of the tour out of the park area and all would have reached the lake if the promoters had made proper arrangements with existing transportation facilities. Because members of the group were innocent victims, they were not charged.

Full rights for commercial transportation have been granted under the franchise and are under close government supervision, Canfield said. To prevent commercialization of national park areas, the regulation barring transportation enterprises for private profit has been enforced.

R. I. HEN INCLOSES EGG WITHIN EGG

Mrs. M. S. Cobb of 75 King street was surprised recently when she opened an egg into the frying-pan, to find that it contained a perfect miniature egg the size of a peanut.

Although rough, the shell of the tiny inner egg was hard, and when broken disclosed a second yolk, normal in color and consistency. The little egg was complete, even to the white skin directly under the shell.

The parent egg was larger than usual and of the Rhode Island Red variety. It was laid by a hen in the Cobb family's chicken yard that has heretofore produced only the usual one-shell type.

MATANUSKA HAS APPLICANT LIST

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Aug. 6.—(AP).—Don L. Erwin, manager of the Alaska Rural Rehabilitation corporation, said here today that 650 farmers throughout the United States have applied recently to fill vacancies in the ranks of the Matanuska colonists.

Some of the applicants, Erwin said, almost pleaded for a chance, advancing long experience "on farming frontiers" as reasons why they should succeed in the government's land settlement project.

"These persons want to take the place of any dissatisfied colonists quitting or applying to quit the Matanuska colony," Erwin said. "The farmers represent every state and claim to know their business."

HEAVY LIFE TOLL FEARED IN SECOND RUFKIEN TYPHOON

Huge Area Devastated As Storm Rips Inland From Sea—Wrecked Communications Shroud Details

AMOY, China, Aug. 6.—(AP).—Southern Ruffien province today was struck by a second typhoon which ripped inland from the sea, devastating a huge area.

Coming close behind yesterday's hurricane, the new storm caused officials to fear a terrific loss of life. The typhoon was regarded as the worst in a quarter of a century. The brunt of today's storm appeared to hit the coast 50 miles south of here, smashing inland over the heavily populated area.

All communications were destroyed, thereby shrouding the details of the death and destruction believed to have occurred.

The heavy winds on the fringe of the typhoon struck Amoy and wrecked fishing fleets close by. Fragmentary dispatches from Chuanchow stated yesterday's disaster there was the worst in the history of that area, eclipsing the great storm of 1905 when typhonic winds and rains similar to that of yesterday laid the whole area waste.

Valleys Flooded. Yesterday's storm flooded the valleys of the east and west rivers converging at Chuanchow. The depth of waters reached unprecedented levels and the reports which came through said numerous villages were submerged.

Haiwei, a small market town northwest of Chuanchow, was reported under 25 feet of water.

Heavy loss of life was reported there hundreds of persons were submerged under a wall of water that poured into a foreign Christian church where they had taken shelter from cyclonic winds. The water forced some of them into the open, where they perished.

Others took refuge in the pastor's house, which collapsed under the force of pounding waters. Reports came from Lungyen, 100 miles west of Chuanchow, that bubonic plague had broken out.

KERBY LANDMARK BEING TORN DOWN

GRANTS PASS, Aug. 6.—(AP).—A landmark of 80 years' history, dating back almost to the time when Oregon's first mining code was drawn at Sallo's Diggins, is being razed.

The old Sawyer hotel at Kerby, built in the late 1850's when Kerbyville was the seat of Josephine county, is making way for a service station and tourist cabins.

From the time William Sawyer and his brother Sam established the first hotel and store at Kerbyville, it has been one of Kerby's three oldest remaining structures. After several years new rooms were added to the front and the hotel was known as the Pioneer hotel, still in use 20 years ago.

The Sawyer family is credited with relating the first American flag in the county. Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Miller of Kerby are raising the landmark to make way for modern structures.
