Ye Smudge Pot

Science is amazed at the feat of a Los Angeles doctor, who from a monkey stiff, left the animal in that condition for five days, and then restored it to life. The same results, without the restoration, can be obtained by attempting to tell a painfully proper lady a Mae West story she has already heard, or making fun of her new hair hat.

As the Pendulum Swings

IN LOOKING over our files the other day, we happened to hit upon an editorial which struck us as being extremely timely at the present moment. It was written in answer to the criticism of a subscriber and ardent supporter of President Roosevelt, who asked us to forget our narrow partisanship and at least give the administration a fair chance.

Personal Health Service

Signed letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene not in disease diagnosis or treatment will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Letters should be brief and written in ink. Owing to the large number of letters received only a few can be answered. No reply can be made to queries not conforming to instructions. Address Dr. William Brady, 265 El Camino, Beverly Hills, Cal.

Good Luck, Scouts!

CONGRATULATIONS to those citizens of Medford who made this trip to Washington, D. C., by the local Boy Scouts possible, and even heartier congratulations to the lucky boys selected to represent this district at the National Scout convention.

Flight 'o Time

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY August 7, 1925 (It was Friday)
Barrett's first picking starts in the Willow Springs district. Bartlett's left in Portland for $3 per box.
"Mrs. Will Brown has been doing considerable work lately fixing up the auto park." (Eagle Point Items).

Personal Health Service

After all, you would think it ought to be a simple matter to settle this controversy over the permeability of the skin. Why not apply the substance in question to the skin of some innocent subject and determine whether it is absorbed? I have offered my skin, and it is still available, for any such test, which scientific or medical authorities may choose to make. What's more, I'll undertake to abide by the result in future teaching or attitude. But for some reason or other the opposing side prefers to leave the question in the air. Guess the reason.

As the Pendulum Swings

IT SEEMS the Mail Tribune had criticized the administration for going into the manufacturing business and competing directly with private business, and this protest from the ardent Roosevelt supporter was the result. In answer to that brick bat, we declaimed and deposed at some length, the nub of the matter being in the following condensation—

"The Mail Tribune has the same attitude toward the present administration it had toward all administrations. It supports it when it believes it to be right, opposes it when it believes it to be wrong. In this manufacturing business it believes it to be wrong. It is to the right, and has also said so. We predict the time will come when not only President Roosevelt's extreme popularity will wane, but when many of those waving their hats and declaring he can do no wrong, will be throwing 'dead cats' and declaring he can do no right. When that time comes, we also predict, the Mail Tribune will be giving the President far more loyal support than many of those so eager to give him lip service now,—perhaps far more loyal support than those who are its critics now."

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—(By Rex Beach) re-visiting Alaska for the first time since he proclaimed that frozen world in his novel more than 20 years ago. It was there he found inspiration for such themes as The Barrier, The Spoilers, The Silver Horde and others. The jaunt will be a sentimental one in many ways. It was in Alaska he met the former Edith Crater, to whom he has been so happily married. She had gone there on a quixotic barnstorming expedition from boarding school, with her sister, Alison, who is now the equally happy Mrs. Fred Stone.

Communications

A Modern Barbara Fritchler?
To the Editor:
As history is measured, it was not so long ago in old Frederick town that a patriotic woman faced the confederate troops and held aloft the Union Flag.
The words that she uttered have become immortal as also the gallant command of General Jackson, "Times change, but the quenchless desire for public service carries on from generation to generation. Public spirited women of today are opposed by forces that are not so simple. They must confront the onslaught of a controlled press; they must look unflinchingly into the muzzles of machine guns loaded with false propaganda; they do not face the clean bullets from the columns of rebel rankers, but they do face a steady barrage of misrepresentation that issues forth daily from the columns of the press.

PRINCE ALEXIS MDIVAN, ex-husband of Barbara Hutton, is killed in an automobile accident in Spain. He was driving with a pretty young woman when the accident occurred. He died as he had lived.
INTERESTING headline: "Nazl Chiefs Start Drive on Reporters. Foreign Correspondents in Germany Face News Muzzles."
Why? Well, the chances are they printed something the Nazi chiefs didn't like.
When that happens under dictatorships, the reporters get into trouble.
ALONG the same line, here is an interesting dispatch: "Robert Wagner, commissioner for the state of Baden, speaking in Berlin to an audience of 70,000, said: 'He who in the future attacks national socialism—the philosophy of the German nation—is our enemy. He will be treated as such.'
" 'We are able no longer to indulge in clemency.' "
