AIR BOMBERS TO PRACTICE HERE

News Behind The News
 By PAUL MALLON
 (Copyright, 1935, by Paul Mallon.)
 WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—An ominous symptom behind the Rhode Island vote was that a good many voters who are taking President Roosevelt's relief money contributed their ballots to the majority against his relief program. In short, they indulged in a healthy chew on the feeding hand.
 Some astute politicians have been prophesying for a long time that such a political phenomenon would develop sooner or later. This is the first evidence.
 It confirms the suspicions of political women among the new dealers who have been fearing lately that the four billion dollar relief barrel would eventually prove to be a political hazard rather than an asset.
 The sensationalized defeat of the Democratic candidate for congress in one district of Rhode Island was only part of the story. Far more important, in the eyes of politicians here, was the statewide defeat of most of the 17 public works proposals.
 These were good projects, at least as good as the PWA is offering in any state. No boondoggling was involved, except possibly in two proposals to build beaches, whereas the state already has one of the best beaches on the coast. The other defeated projects, however, centered around needed expansion of state hospitals, reformatories, schools and such things.
 Instead of these, the voters favored a comparatively small amount for direct relief of the destitute. They were not for relief, but for spending. And this happened in a state where idle mill workers comprise the bulk of the vote, where maximum relief is needed if it is needed anywhere.
 Explanations would fill a book. For one thing, the new dealers misandered their campaign. Agriculture Secretary Wallace did not help matters any with his Bowdoin speech implying that New England textiles were winning. Also, a Boston Democrat (Curley) came out of the White House not long ago, after trying to get textile action, and suggested blandly that the President's office was a good jobbox in which to chill ideas. Furthermore, the Rhode Island state Democratic organization does not appear to have been of much assistance.
 But upon this inviting background of dissatisfaction, the new deal opposition built the thought that every-

130 MEN, 15 SHIPS COME AUG. 18 FOR FULL WEEKS STAY

Extensive Plans Formed For Accommodation And Entertainment—C-C Action Wins City's Selection.

Medford's municipal airport has been selected as the site for extensive bombing maneuvers of the 31st bombardment squadron of the United States Army air corps. It was announced in a radio program to Tom A. Culbertson, airport superintendent, received this morning from Major Everal L. Myers of Hamilton Field, San Rafael, Cal. The squadron, comprising 30 officers and 100 enlisted men and 15 large army planes, will arrive and set up camp at the airport August 18, for a full week of general bombing and flight practice.
 Final approval of Medford as the practice base was made by Lieut.-Col. C. L. Tucker, commander of Hamilton field, who last night received authority for the selection from General Arnold of the army air corps. Medford was recommended to Col. Tucker by Major Myers, who made a survey of the local facilities August 2, accompanied by Major D. T. Dunton and Major H. D. Smith. Covington, Cal., had also been considered as headquarters for the squadron.
 Prepare Program.
 Extensive arrangements have been started in Medford to receive, accommodate and entertain the squadron

POETS' BREAKFAST TODAY'S FEATURE WRITERS CONCLAVE

Ten Prize-Winning Poems Are Read—Interesting Speakers Heard—Trip To Caves Planned Saturday.

This morning was chiefly devoted to poetry by the members of the League of Western Writers in session here, beginning with a poet's breakfast at Hotel Medford over which Eugene T. Plinn of Santa Rosa, California, presided. A squash breakfast was enjoyed by the members, after which the ten prize-winning poems were read.
 L. E. Nelson read the poems written by those unable to attend, and the others were read by their authors. The ten prize winners were: "Night Fantasies," by Janet Partridge-Stone (Lotus J. Costigan); "The Steam Shovel," by Julia Boynton Green; "Last Days," by Snow Langley Housh; "Lady of the Snows," by Elizabeth La Dore; "Spice," by Elinor Lennen; "Ornithology," by L. E. Nelson; "A Fantasy of the Cascades," by Anna Hohn Pogue; "Forecast," by Nellie B. Prickett; "The Acropolis," by Rena Sheffield; "Starry Circle," by Irene Wilde; "Indian Basket Song," by Jessie E. Williams, and "Passage," by Nell Griffith Wilson.
 Following the reading of these poems a tribute was paid to the authors by Judge L. D. Mahone, president of the league. Later in the morning a "Poet's Roundtable" discussion was held in the mezzanine lounge, with Ben Field of Los Angeles presiding.
 Poems written by each of the 40 poets at the meeting were read, and the bursts of appreciative applause after each reading was indicative of the interest being taken in the work.
 The reading of an original poem by Col. Robert A. Miller of Portland, "Rainier," was roundly commended by Field, and the applause was deafening. On the insistence of the audience, Ben Field read a short 14-line poem from his new book, "The Sculptured Courtisan," to be released soon. Another whose short poem was read enthusiastically was Berntha Marena Mauermaier of Seattle, whose book of poems "Mosaic" has just been released by the Meter press in Boston. A short poem "Request," by Mrs. Ralph Delassey of Grants Pass was also heartily applauded.
 Field thanked the group for their discussion during the week of thanks for his fine work was extended Ben Field, and a motion was also put through to commemorate the memory of that unfor-

LOGGING CAMP OF SHAW BERTRAM IS SWEEPED BY BLAZE

One Of Klamath Region's Largest Lumbering Operations Entirely Destroyed—Uncut Logs Burned.

KLAMATH FALLS, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Although no accurate estimate of the fire damage at the Shaw-Bertram camp in Tionesta was available here this morning, lumbermen familiar with the operations indicated the loss was covered by insurance.
 Operations probably will be terminated for the balance of the year.
 J. R. Shaw of Klamath Falls, the owner, had not returned late this morning from Tionesta, which is about 85 miles south of Klamath Falls.
 The fire was extinguished early today.
 KIAMATH FALLS, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Fire, leaping up with the speed of the south wind which fanned it, swept through the Shaw-Bertram camp at Tionesta, northern California, last night and in a few brief minutes left ravaged beyond hope of repair the heart of one of the Klamath region's greatest logging operations.
 No estimate of the actual loss in dollars and cents or the origin of the fire was available here.

Eggs On Cupboard In Heated Kitchen Produce Chickens

DALTON, Ga., Aug. 8.—(AP)—For three weeks Mrs. Ed Smith thought nothing of some eggs she had placed on top of a cupboard in the kitchen of her farmhouse near Tunnel Hill.
 Then she heard a "cheep-cheep" and finally traced the sound to the forgotten egg basket.
 A fluffy baby chick had been hatched in the 104½ degree heat.

KELLAHER WAIVES HEARING, IS HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Action By Grand Jury Of Marion County Is Expected Early In September On Banks Parole Scandal

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Dan Kellaher, former state parole officer, through his attorney, J. R. Murphy of Portland, today waived a preliminary hearing on information charging him with agreeing to accept a bribe, and the case was bound over to the Marion county grand jury.
 Kellaher and Murphy both appeared in justice court here today before Judge Miller B. Hayden.
 When the appearance of Kellaher was called at 2 o'clock Attorney Murphy asked questions as to when a preliminary hearing might be held and how much time he would have to prepare for it.
 Justice Hayden replied he had been informed District Attorney William H. Trindle was ready for such a hearing as once, but that the case might be continued. After a whispered conversation with Kellaher the attorney announced:
 "We have decided to waive the hearing."
 The grand jury was expected to be called the first week in September.
 Kellaher was arrested here Tuesday after Trindle had filed information charging that Kellaher had agreed to accept $50,000 from L. A. Banks, lifer in the state penitentiary, should he succeed in obtaining a pardon for the prisoner. The information also pointed out that Kellaher had been employed as parole officer at the time he allegedly signed the agreement with Banks.
 Kellaher was cited to appear in court yesterday for a preliminary hearing and posted $3,000 bail at that time. The case was continued until today.
 POST, ROGERS GUESTS OF ALASKA GOVERNOR ON JUNEAU ARRIVAL
 JUNEAU, Alaska, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Cities along the Alaskan coast waited eagerly today for word from the mansion of Gov. John Troy about the plans of his two famous guests—Wiley Post of around-the-world fame and Will Rogers, humorist film star.
 Interest ran high in Juneau where through lined the docks late yesterday afternoon as Post landed his red pontoon-equipped monoplane in Gastineau channel and taxied to the Pacific Alaska Airways hangar eight hours and 15 minutes after taking off from Renton airport near Seattle.
 Post and Rogers spent the night in the home of Governor Troy who invited them to be his guests while they stayed in Juneau.
 Would Cordova about 450 miles in a direct air line from Juneau be the famous pair's next stop? Or would Post stretch the distance to Seward or Anchorage another 150 miles? These questions went unanswered for Post, as usual evasive about his plans, gave no indication. Flying conditions at Cordova as last reports were unfavorable, but so were they near Juneau when Post passed up Ketchikan yesterday and sped on north.

LIVING DEATH FOR 'TORSO' SLAYERS IS COURT DECREE

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Prison sentences of 180 years each were meted out today to Mrs. Blanche Dunkel and Mrs. Evelyn Smith for murdering Ervin J. Lang.
 The sentences were passed by Judge Cornelius J. Harrington, who yesterday heard the trial of the pair without a jury and found them guilty of slaying the 28-year old grocery clerk who became the paramour of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Dunkel.
 The state had asked the electric chair for both. Such a fate for a woman would have been without precedent in Illinois.
 Judge Harrington directed that the women be placed in solitary confinement every July 6, the anniversary of their crime.
 He said they showed cold indifference to death by the electric chair.
 "Such death, he added, would be a merciful end for you. That would be a better punishment than that which I am going to mete out to you."
 "Under the penalty I am going to give you, you will be suffering a living death."
 Mrs. Dunkel was in a state of collapse. She cried. Mrs. Smith stared boldly at everyone and smiled at photographers.

GOLD SUIT BAN IN SIX MONTHS PASSES SENATE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Senators McNary and Steiwer, Oregon nationalists, both voted against the gold clause resolution which swept through the senate today.
 WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The administration resolution to close the courts to gold clause suits against the government after six months was passed today by the senate.
 The measure, attacked by its opponents as a "reputation bill," now goes back to the house which already passed it, for consideration of senate amendments.
 As approved by the house, the resolution would have shut off gold clause suits immediately. The chief change made by the senate was to permit them for six months.

COUNCIL TO AWARD SEWAGE CONTRACT

A special meeting of the city council has been called for tonight to award the contracts for the new sewage disposal plant to be built here, it was announced today by City Superintendent Fred Scheffel. The bids previously submitted will be considered, and according to Scheffel, it is a foregone conclusion that the award will go to R. L. Stewart and Sons of Medford who submitted the low bid on July 12, of approximately $102,000.
 The contract is to be awarded by the council tonight, subject to the approval of C. C. Hockley, PWA head at Portland. There is no question of Hockley's concurring, Scheffel stated.

KELLY AND KELLY AND COUNTY GIVEN FEHL FUND SHARES

In an opinion handed down by Circuit Judge Carl E. Wimberly of Douglas county, in the interpleader suit of Niedermeyer, Inc., against Earl H. Fehel, now incarcerated in the state penitentiary for ballot theft conviction, his wife, Electa A. Fehel, his mother-in-law, Corintha E. Stalley, Kelly and Kelly, attorneys, T. J. Enright, attorney, Jackson county, and J. B. Thomas of Ashland, and Ted Holmroth of Griffin creek, for appointment of a receiver, judgment of $5372.43 in favor of the Fehels, against Niedermeyer, Inc., it is ordered that Kelly and Kelly, as attorneys for the Fehels, in the supreme court appeal "are entitled to a first lien against the $5372.43" and that Jackson county "is entitled to a second lien against said fund in the amount of $3982.23, and for costs of the Klamath county trial of Fehel."
 The opinion further states:
 "None of the other defendants is entitled to any relief in this suit and as to them this suit should be dismissed, without costs or disbursements, as to any of them."
 The court directs that Niedermeyer, Inc., pay the $5372.43 to the county clerk and it be disbursed as follows:
 That Niedermeyer, Inc., should be paid first for their costs and disbursements, the lien of Kelly and Kelly for $2000 should be paid next.

AUTOISTS FINED FOR PERMIT LACK

Clarence Joshua Geer, 316 West Jackson street this city, entered a plea of guilty yesterday before Justice of the Peace William R. Coleman to a charge of operating a motor vehicle on the Crater Lake highway without a PUG license. He was fined $10 and costs. The fine to be reworked upon payment of costs.
 Vine Stidham of Rogue River, charged with operating an auto without an operators permit, plead guilty, was fined $5 and costs and given 30 days to pay the costs, which amounts in all to $4.50.
 Frank DeSantos of Ashland, paid $5 and costs upon pleading guilty to a charge of non-possession of an operators license.

SEVEN KILLED WHEN ITALIAN PLANE FALLS

ROME, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Seven persons, including Luigi Razza, Italian minister of public works, were killed in an airplane crash, it was announced tonight.
 The other victims were two passengers and four members of the crew of the commercial plane, which was flying over the Egyptian desert.

J'VILLE'S WATER PLANS APPROVED

Authorization to proceed with the work on the new Jacksonville water system was received yesterday from C. C. Hockley, PWA head at Portland, by D. T. McDonough, engineer for the project.
 Work will start some time next week, McDonough stated today, on the laying of about two miles of new pipe, and the drilling of several hundred feet of tunnel through the rock, tapping a vast new resource of water for the city. Tests of the water already made show it to be as pure, if not purer, than Medford's own.
 Besides providing plenty of water for Jacksonville's use, and giving adequate fire protection, there will be plenty of water left for small irrigation purposes.

JEWELERS OFFICIALS ARE NAMED FOR YEAR

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 8.—(AP)—For another year Frank Heikemper of Portland will direct the affairs of the Oregon Retail Jewelers' association.
 Heikemper, pioneer Portland jeweler, was re-elected president of the organization here yesterday. A. A. Keene of Salem was re-elected secretary, and Herman J. Alstock of Portland will serve as treasurer.
 O. L. Skel of Eugene was one of the new vice-presidents elected at the annual meeting here.

PROSPECT SAWMILL PROJECT ANNOUNCED

PROSPECT, Ore., Aug. 8.—(Spl.)—A new saw mill is to be constructed soon at Skookum Gorge near here it was announced today. This mill will be located on the Vawter tract opposite Wildwood camp.
 Rumors which have been circulated for some time materialized when it was made known that timber has already been purchased in the Red-banket vicinity.

KIWANIAN'S ENJOY ROGUE ELK PICNIC

The Kiwanis picnic last night at Rogue Elk resort was a huge success, the members of the lodge are agreed today. Over 50 Kiwanians, their families and guests attended, and enjoyed the carefully arranged dinner, dance, picnic stunts and other features.
 On the entertainment program, Mrs. Philip Spiering and Mary Ann Brill delighted the group with several solos, and Sebastian Apollo played several piano numbers. John Bays baffled the crowd with his feats of magic in a good old-fashioned entertainment. The "Kiwans Kwartette" sang several old favorites.
 The picnic was so successful that the Kiwanians may repeat it this year.

by TRIBUNE REPORTERS

Ralph Woodford and Mill Ottomann returning from a fishing trip together, and each surprised and somewhat doubtful that the other had hooked "a nice steelhead."
 Sandy Green, sole support of at least one bandit in this district, reiterating a previous announcement that he doesn't like bandits, and they can stay away from his service station for all he cares.
 Dan Daniels and "Pick" Pickard including in a bit of postscript on their respective merits as top-shooters, and finally deciding to settle the dispute with shot guns at the house instead of with verbs at the court steps.

Skeeters Welcome Pair On Joe Knowles Stunt

TACOMA, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Two almost naked young men were matching their wits against nature in the wilds of the Olympic peninsula today after having slept their first night in the woods.
 The men, Tommy Viles, 23, and Graham King, 19, are going to show the world that they can live off nature for an entire month and come out of the woods at the end of that time to tell their story.
 A News-Tribune reporter searched the pair just before they leaped into the woods. Their jumping off place, decided without their knowledge, was on the North Skokomish trail, about five miles above the western end of Lake Clushman.
 The men were wearing trunks and gym shoes and each carried a cigar lighter, which will be used to start fires, a fish line and a long hunting knife.
 They ran into the woods about two feet ahead of a mosquito swarm which had gathered the minute they began to disrobe.

End of Masonic Lodges Decried by Hitlerites

(By Melvin K. Whiteleather (Associated Press Foreign Staff))
 BERLIN, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The end of all Free Masonic lodges in Germany and the abolition of more World War veterans organizations were announced today.
 Reichsfuehrer Hitler's newspaper, Volkischer Beobachter, stated that on Saturday the last Masonic lodge in the Reich, the State Lodge of Bawon, the Dresden Great Lodge and the "German Brothers Chain" of Leipzig will be dissolved.
 Secret police today dissolved the veterans' "Steel Helmet" formations in Berlin, Brandenburg, Pommern, and Eastern Mark. The territory along the western ridge of Pommern, Poland.
 The dissolution of the veteran units was accomplished on the basis of the law of February 28, 1935, for the protection of the people and the state. The property of the Steel Helmet units was seized.
 After dissolution of the old Prussian Free Mason lodge July 21 and the gradual disappearance of smaller lodges in a year-long campaign, the Free Masons in Germany—first so-called "state enemies"—thus would be wiped out completely.
 Hitler's organ, asserting the secret aim of free masonry was a Jewish world republic, said the forthcoming dissolution would "finish a special chapter in world history, and the guardian of the Nazi ideal will be alert."
