

ROTARIANS GIVEN INSIGHT ON PLANS FOR PORT ORFORD

A description of the development program now under way in the Port Orford area was presented before the members of the Medford Rotary club by Gilbert E. Gable, president of six companies, active in the promotion of this section of Oregon. The Rotarians and guests who attended today's luncheon at the Hotel Medford heard Mr. Gable tell of the potentialities of the vast area which he termed "America's Last Frontier."

Mr. Gable heads the Oregon Engineering Corporation, The Port Orford Dock & Terminal Corporation, The Trans-Pacific Lumber Corporation, The Trans-Pacific Lumber Sales Corporation, The Last Frontier Realty Corporation, and the Gold Coast Railroad. He holds an honorary membership in the American Museum of Natural History of New York for his explorations in the Painted Desert.

The speaker introduced his interesting talk in a brief description of Navajo tribal ceremonies on the Painted Desert, followed by facts concerning the mineral and timber resources of the vast territory surrounding Port Orford where his companies are active. He predicted great future prosperity for "America's Last Frontier," backed by a long period of research in southwestern Oregon.

"Ten percent of the standing timber in the United States lies within the radius of 100 miles of Graveyard Point," according to Gable. "Tremendous coal deposits, copper second only to the Anasazi fields and vast chrome deposits lie in the regions adjacent to Port Orford. With extensive imports of chrome from foreign countries, the development of chrome mines alone will be a tremendous industry," the speaker said.

Mr. Gable described the fine Port Orford dock now nearing completion and told the Rotarians that the first ship to use this dock would arrive on Sept. 2nd, initiating regular lumber sailings to San Pedro. The mill, recently constructed adjacent to Port Orford, the nucleus of future extensive lumber operations, is operating in two shifts with 150,000 board feet capacity. The projected railroad to Leland, would have a maximum grade of one percent and an average grade of one-quarter of one percent.

"We are not concerned with railroad development at the immediate time," Mr. Gable said. "It is our aim to have the Port Orford dock in operation and our mills and mines in order first, and the railroad development is sure to come."

Mr. Gable concluded his interesting talk with a cordial invitation for members of the Medford Rotary club to attend the opening ceremonies for the Port Orford dock to be held on Labor Day, September 2nd. He painted an interesting picture of the elaborate program planned for the occasion.

LYNCH MOB INVADES JAIL CELL

MEDICS POO-POO FREEZING STUNT

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Two leaders in medical science stood today on the assertion that Ralph S. Willard of Los Angeles can no more freeze Stephen Simkhoritch to death and revive him, than he can reassemble a scrambled egg.

Dr. Iago Galdson, secretary of the New York Academy of Medicine, said that when the 80 per cent of body tissue which is water is frozen, protoplasm disrupts and can't be restored.

Dr. Morris Fishbein of Chicago, editor of the American Medical Journal, said Willard's monkey freezing was "probably achieved by a neat trick of substitution which any competent magician could perform."

MURDER, SUICIDE IS CORONERS VIEW

VANCOUVER, Wash., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Coroner E. H. Rider said today he is satisfied the case was one of murder and suicide and that he does not plan to hold an inquest into the deaths last week of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Cates of Vancouver.

The coroner revealed that an analysis by Dr. P. R. Menne, pathologist at University of Oregon medical school, disclosed sufficient poison in Cates' stomach to have caused death. A wound on Mrs. Cates' head, probably inflicted by a poker, was said to have caused her death.

The Cates, each 59 years old, died early Friday. Three fires started in their residence attracted police and revealed the tragedy.

BAND CONCERT IN CITY PARK TONIGHT

The valley's newest musical organization, The Southern Oregon Community band, will give a free concert in the city park tonight from 8:00 to 9:00 o'clock, according to Ray Marks, business manager.

Joseph Hannon is director of the new 35-piece band which has members from all over southern Oregon. Besides many years with army bands Mr. Hannon has played in several large symphony and harmonic orchestras and the Royal Hawaiians.

Mr. Marks says: "Although the band has only been organized a short time, we have received much favorable comment. We have only one purpose and that is the betterment of the community. We are not under any organization and our concerts in the city park every two weeks are free to the public and they do not cost the taxpayers a cent."

FOUR UNDER ARREST IN ALLEGED SWINDLE

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 12.—(AP)—The arrest of Alvin Kost in Seattle and the surrender here of Henry C. Prudhomme today had brought the total of arrests in the alleged Colonial Trading company to four.

Prudhomme, after a conference with his attorney, surrendered yesterday and posted $5,000 bail. Kost was arrested by the United States marshal at Seattle.

An unissued warrant is held here for the arrest of S. G. Bakkot, indicted with Nelson J. Sykes and A. D. Kenworthy, who were arrested Saturday.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Reports of Nazi persecution of Jews and Catholics today brought from Senator Gerry (D. R. I.) a suggestion that sportsmen of the country "give serious consideration" to withdrawing from the Olympic games in Germany in 1936.

Ye Poet's Corner

Let the moment pass—
Since they are not meant to last,
Though it brought reproachful word,
It should be as though unheard.
Let the moment pass.

Let the moment pass—
Roots are deep—though trees show
blatant;
Leaves are broken from the bough,
Flowers turned under by the plow.
Let the moment pass.

Let the moment pass—
Waves come rolling in and break,
Rocks lead gently on and turn;
Horns true loves forsake and yearn.
Let the moment pass.

Let the moment pass—
Lonely paths lead onward still,
Though it alter precious years;
Grain is gathered—know no tears—
Let the moment pass.

MEMORIES

I've a rose of such wondrous beauty,
I have tended with such care,
I know it will fade with the summer,
Leaving only a memory fair.

I have a love that is far more sweet
Than any rose that may bloom.
Oh, it will fade when youth is gone,
Leaving only a memory's gloom.

For I know the sun will cease to shine
If the light of this love grows dim,
My poor heart would starve and wither
With only a memory of him.

Yet life is made of memories dear,
From morn to close of day,
For we dream of love of beauties
When our ideals are away.

—Mary O. Carey.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 12.—(AP)—E. L. King, superintendent of Southern Pacific lines in Oregon, was presiding today at a board of inquiry into the wreck on the company's line near Corbran a week ago in which five men lost their lives. A freight train locomotive and several cars crashed 100 feet down into a canyon bottom when a trestle collapsed.

BLAZE TAKES OUT THE DALLES WIRES

THE DALLES, Ore., Aug. 12.—(AP)—All main power and telephone lines into The Dalles were disrupted today as a forest and brush fire swept out of control of forest service crews and volunteers.

Burns were suffered by three power linemen from The Dalles when crossed wires started the blaze in the mountains separating Hood River and Mosier.

Harry Oakes was taken to a Hood River hospital with severe burns. Charles Culter and Jack Friend were brought here with lesser burns.

The fire, which started when the wires were shorted, was reported out of control and being fanned by a high west wind late this afternoon. Some apprehension was felt for Mosier, directly in the line of the oncoming fire, but the city reported there was no immediate danger.

BAY BRIDGE PICTURES SHOWN KIWANIS CLUB

"Bridging the way" was the title of a series of camera flashes on an improvised screen for the benefit of the Kiwanians in their regular noon session yesterday. The films showed the work done on the San Francisco-Oakland bay bridges from the time that the pilings were first placed in the water, up to the present time. The pictures were made and released by the Associated Oil company, and were shown by Manager Carol Hayes of that company.

The pictures were projected with remarkable clearness, and the Kiwanians were agreed that they were interesting and educational.

Frank S. Glover, Kiwanian from Portland, was a guest at the luncheon.

RUMANIA'S ROBIN HOOD CONVERTS JAIL GUARDS

BUCHAREST, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Rumania's No. 1 bandit, the celebrated Coruju, who practices painless robbery, escaped from jail again today.

Coruju made his break this time by persuading his guards to join him in a life of romantic outlawry. They departed with him from the city prison at Botosani.

Coruju is a kind of Robin Hood who robs the wealthy estate owners in Rumania and distributes his loot among the poor. He disapproves of bloodshed and practices his banditry with a smile.
