

OREGON GRIDIRON PRACTICE STARTS SEPTEMBER 15TH

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Prink Callison and his coaching aides at the University of Oregon are impatiently marking time here as the start of the 1935 coast conference football season looms only five weeks off. Practice is scheduled to start Sunday, September 15, with the opening game Saturday, September 28, against Gonzaga at Portland.

The Webfoots will enter this year's race with a comparatively green eleven, built around 15 freshmen, but considerably stronger in the matter of reserves. Many new faces, including those of sophomores and transfers, will be seen in the Oregon lineup this fall.

Callison's chief problem will be to rebuild his backfield combination, shattered by the loss of three 1934 regulars—Ralph Terjeson, Bob Parke, and Maury Van Vleet. Fullback Frank Micek is the only veteran ball-carrier to return.

Although the line was shaken up by the loss of four first stringers, Callison will be able to produce a veteran forward wall as strong as any of recent years. Con Fury, center; Alex Eagle and Gardner Frye, tackles; and Butch Morse, full-back end, are the graduating regulars.

Favorites to step into varsity roles this fall are Ed Barrar, mucky one-year letterman, center; Ross Carter and Clarence Coddling, guards; Del Bjord and John Engstrom, St. Mary's transfer, tackles; and Budd Jones, Vince Walker and Stan Riordan, ends. All are tested lettermen.

Al Gained Early Experience in Battle Royal

Al Karasick, the "Russian Lion", who appears here Thursday night at the arena in a wrestler's battle royal which five muscle mangers will participate, had experience in battle royals as the accompanying pictures prove. Karasick, in his young days a member of a Russian ballet troupe, deserted the stage for the wrestling arena. Several years later he visited his old land and was challenged by a number of the young lions. Karasick was recently rated one of the four strongest men of his weight in the world in certain lifting stunts.

HANKINSON WINS NOD OVER MAXIE

OAKLAND, Cal., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Hank Hankinson could thank a flashy ninth round today for two verdicts in recent weeks over Blaisie Maxie Rosenbloom.

The Ohio giant was awarded his second 10-round decision in the ring here last night of the resounding boom of a crowd of 7000, who thought the former light heavyweight champion had the edge.

Hankinson drove home the heavier blows, but apparently without hurting Rosenbloom, except in the ninth round when he made Maxie break ground. The younger fighter continued on the aggressive through the final session. With his familiar slapping Rosenbloom kept Hankinson off balance through most of the earlier rounds.

Hankinson weighed 215 pounds and Rosenbloom 195.

A few weeks ago Hankinson outpointed the former champion in Hollywood after flooring Maxie early in the fight.

SENIOR GOLFERS CARD 77'S IN QUALIFYING

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Dr. O. B. Wright of Portland and J. A. Ballinger, Seattle, turned in the lowest cards in the qualifying round of the seniors' Northwest Golf association tournament, opening here yesterday. Both had a 77 and will play off during the week for the prize.

Bishop W. P. Remington of Pendleton, Ore., had the distinction of scoring the second dodo in the history of the seniors' tournament, canning his ball for one on the 185-yard ninth hole.

FOUL BY M'SHAIN WINS FOR KUNKEL

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Del Kunkel of Salt Lake City retained the middleweight wrestling belt he won last week from Danny McShain, when he again took two out of three falls from the naughty Irishman here last night.

After the two divided fall, McShain resorted to a crude little trick from the dark ages—gouging—and in his temporary blindness, Kunkel swung a defiant haymaker. It landed on referee Pat Regan and while Regan lay stretched on the mat, McShain pinned Kunkel. Then Regan picked himself up and awarded Kunkel the bout on a foul.

Thor Jensen, the Elktion thunderbolt, and Harry Elliott, the wrestling referee from Eugene, wrestled a no-fall draw in another middleweight bout.

Old Portland P. O. To Stand Is Word

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 13.—(AP)—The federal treasury department has no intention, nor is it the plan of the government, to demolish the old postoffice building in Portland. Governor Martin was advised today by the director of procurement of the treasury department.

The letter was in response to a request on the part of some Portland citizens that the old structure be demolished.

New Rum Control Passed By Senate

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—(AP)—A bill setting up a new alcohol administration to replace the one thrown out by the supreme court in the Schechter NRA decision was passed today by the senate.

The bill eliminated the provision carried in the bill as it passed the house permitting sale of distilled liquor in barrels instead of only in bottles as permitted under present treasury regulations.

BEAVERS FACING EASY CLIMB AT STARS' EXPENSE

(By the Associated Press)

Current standings for the second half of the Pacific Coast league's split season might have been made to the order of once desparing club owners.

In recent years the lop sided strength of one team, usually the Los Angeles Angels, has all but eliminated fan interest in pennant drives. They were cut and dried.

Now the only lop-sided feature about the standings is the number of teams with averages over the .500 mark. Six clubs are in this class, Seattle at .509 is just three ball games away from the leading San Francisco Seals at .594. One of the six teams could be in first place at the end of another week of play.

The pace-setting Seals skinned close to disaster last week when they dropped four of seven games to the then last place Sacramento Senators. This week they take on the far tougher Los Angeles Angels, in fourth place one full game from the top.

The Senators play host to the Seattle Indians, while the second place Missions and the fifth place Oaks tangle at Oakland.

The fast climbing Portland club, in third place, half a game from the leadership, has the best chance to disrupt the present standings. The Ducks meet the Hollywood Stars, the most consistent losers in the league.

TOY BULLDOG HAS OLD TIME PUNCH

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13.—(AP)—There are still plenty of teeth left in the Toy Bulldog from Kurnson. Mickey Walker demonstrated that fact last night by blasting out a two-round knockout win over Lou Poster, Pottstown, Pa., puncher, in the second bout of his comeback campaign.

Of course, the once mighty bulldog, two-weight world's champion, doesn't fight with the fury of the days when he was tearing through the middleweight ranks, and he's somewhat flabbier now than he was then—but he still can hit.

PETE EXPECTING TO BE PICKED ON

Peter Belcastro, hellacious Italian wrestler, is beginning to feel that perhaps he has been a bit too belligerent in taunting the boys with his recent victory in the junior heavyweight championship fight in California. Because Thursday night is liable to be their night to howl, when Pete climbs through the hemp with four blood-thirsty behemoths, none of whom likes Pete. They are Al Karasick, Sam Lethers, Johnny Soos and Joe Hubka.

Pete said yesterday that they'd probably all be waiting for him—hence the doubting of his own wisdom in flaunting his belt about. Not that Pete's afraid of them. Not at all. But he admits that an awfully easy way to get hurt is to engage in a battle-royal. Few heavyweights do, because of that fact.

And it's an awfully tame battle royal in which less than three grapplers get the back of their skulls jolted half off their necks with a

Mead May Attend Reclamation Meet

CORVALLIS, Ore., Aug. 13.—(AP)—A tentative promise from Elwood Mead, commissioner of reclamation, to attend the annual convention of the Oregon Reclamation congress here August 19 and 20, was received today by Dr. W. L. Powers, secretary. Commissioner Mead is coming west about that time to inspect proposed projects in Deschutes county and will, he said, make every effort to attend the state session at Corvallis.
