40 et 8 Division of Parade at The Dalles —
Drum Corps Test Tonight

THE DALLES, Ore., Aug. 15.—(AP)—The business sessions of the 17th annual convention of the Oregon department, American Legion were thrown into high gear today. The principal addresses, most of them received with deafening applause, were completed yesterday. Today's meeting was to be climaxed with the colorful drum corps contest tonight on Astorian field.

There was unusual activity in the resolutions committee today as it received dozens of propositions for action. One resolution, requesting increased hospitalization facilities for World War veterans, was approved in the morning session. So far as was known this morning, there was no controversial resolution on the docket.

Tomorrow officers of the Oregon legion will be elected. Those who appeared to be most generally spoken of for state commander were George Koenig and Edward Boatwright, both of Portland. Dr. Laban A. Steeves of Salem was unopposed for grand chef de parade of the "40 et 8."

Dr. Steeves succeeds Barge E. Leonard of Portland, elected chemist nationale. Other new officers of the 40 et 8 are: Lee Garlock of Medford, grand chef de train; Carl Wagner, Portland, grand conductor; Charles Schmeider, Albany, commissioner; independent; Jack Wright, Astoria, grand garde de la porte; C. J. Clausen, Lakeview, grand sous garde de la porte, and Neil Sleeper of Eugene, commis voyageur.

Grand chemists are Joe Boyer, Baker; Olaf Nelson, Oakridge; Dr. T. E. Griffith, The Dalles; Fred Heilbrunner, Klamath Falls; Jack Eakin, Dallas; Neil Allen, Grants Pass, and Stanley Myers, Portland.

Appointive officers included C. K. Logan, Salem, grand publican, and Coleman O'Loughlin of Klamath Falls, grand organizer.

The Klamath Falls Legion Post won first prize for having the best drum corps in the parade last night. Corvallis won honorable mention. Medford had the best box car in the 40 et 8 division.

Frank L. Belgrano of San Francisco, national commander of the Legion left by plane this morning for Tacoma where he will appear before the convention of the Washington department.

In his address here yesterday he urged an intensive campaign of opposition to communists "and other enemies of our republic," stressed the necessity of immediate cash payment of adjusted compensation certificates and said "it is time to force congress to cease playing political football with the bonus question;" told the Oregon Legionnaires their organization will spend one million dollars next year for child welfare work, and development of the legion's "Americanization" program.

Loud cheers greeted the appearance late yesterday at the convention of Governor Martin. He told the ex-soldiers that every unnaturalized alien known to be a criminal should be deported; that subversive elements must be suppressed; that Oregon's resources must be developed.

Governor Martin advocated acceptance of the bid of a large aluminum company for the greatest available output of Bonneville power. He declared, with reference to his recent statement on paroles and pardons, that "when courts and juries punish men by sentencing them to prison, these men will be held to fulfill that sentence."

Governor Lauds Peaches

After a breakfast yesterday of Oregon peaches and wheat cereal, Governor Martin reaffirmed the statement that California and Washington are not the only states in the west to successfully grow this fruit. The governor's breakfast was to give official notice of the co-operative Shredded Wheat-Oregon Peach Week scheduled for August 9 to 17. These dates

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—(AP)—It's a new day for Nathaniel Cheeters. He's just married—and he's in jail.

It's the same kind of day for Mrs. Cheeters. She's in jail, too, and so are the bridesmaids.

The best man got out of it because every one who was in night court agreed that he remained calm in the midst of the post-wedding beer-mug hurling in a third avenue bar room.

As Magistrate Earl Smith heard it from battered, black and blue witnesses, the beer glasses started flying some small change lying on the bar. Just as a beer mug bounced off the

COUNTY CHAMBER

C. M. Brewer, president of the California Oregon Power company and the Mountain States Electric company, was unanimously elected to membership on the board of directors of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of that body today at the Hotel Medford. Upon the close of the meeting today, President B. E. Harder and various directors of the chamber expressed gratification in the fact that Mr. Brewer will be actively identified with the board handling the affairs of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Brewer assumes the post formerly filled by K. W. Kendrick, recently transferred to Fresno, California.

House and Senate Conferees Fail in Effort to Get Together — Meter Reader
Used Coercion Is Claim

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Compromise offers submitted by house and senate conferees on the public utility bill failed today in another vain effort to get together on the provision for compulsory abolition of "unnecessary" holding companies.

Meanwhile evidence that citizens of Ridgefield, Conn., signed telegrams to congressmen against the Wheeler-Rayburn bill to regulate utility holding companies after an Associated Gas and Electric company meter reader had told them that if they didn't do that the rates would be increased, was given the senate lobby committee today.

22 Signed Telegrams
The bill was Harry E. Hull, who investigated for the committee 88 telegrams sent from that place to Senator Maloney (D-Conn.). Twenty-two were signed in response to the meter reader's assertion, he said.

Hull added that the consumers also were told by the meter reader that if they didn't sign he would lose his job.

A professional painter, Hull said none of the senders of the telegrams claimed to have paid for them, some were evasive, some could not be located, and others denied they had authorized the signing of their names.

Chairman Black said the committee had received reports from telegraph companies in 20 towns throughout the country that out of 31,880 telegrams sent to congressmen against the Wheeler-Rayburn bill only 13 had been paid for by the senders.

Seek McNinch Subpoena
The house rules committee took "under advisement" a suggestion that Chairman Frank R. McNinch of the power commission be subpoenaed for testimony about "lobbying" on the Wheeler-Rayburn bill to regulate utility holding companies.

ROGUES TO MEET
GOLD HILL TOWN
TEAM ON SUNDAY

A week ago Sunday the embattled farmers of Gold Hill, dubbed the Gold Hill Townies, threw a terrific scare to the Ashland baseball club to the tune of 14 innings of tie ball, only to be edged out in the last frame by a narrow squeak of 4-3.

That made the Medford Rogues "it" in the southern Oregon baseball firmament, for Ashland had several times dumped the Rogues. And when the Gold Hill nine issued a challenge to the locals, Manager "Hoosier" Hoffard believed that it behooved him to accept.

The two nines will mix at the fair grounds Sunday, and half the citizens of the river town will be here to watch what they confidently believe will be a butchery of the Medfordites. To avert such a catastrophe, Hoffard will throw three new men into the lineup, but refused today to say who they'd be, although he admitted they will not include a new pitcher, he being perfectly satisfied with Bauman on the mound.

Medford's regular catcher, Bouchard, is playing in a soft-ball championship series in Olympia this week, and may not be here for the fray. If he is not, Nettamer will call the shots from behind the batter. Since this game will launch the Rogues into the secondary-town class, they have decided to go whole-hog, and have written to Yreka, Wood and Dunsmuir for home-and-home games.
