

KIDDING ASIDE- BAER GETS BUSY FOR LOUIS FIGHT

'I'll Fool Everybody,' Says
Livermore Larruper — Hands Are Okeh — Has
5 Weeks to Lose Weight

By EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer.
SPECIAL REPORT. N. Y., Aug. 20.— (AP)—If Joe Louis is in the house he might just as well know the worst now as later.
There is nothing wrong with Max Baer's hands and, if the truth of that great pugilistic mystery is to be known, there never was much wrong.
In an atmosphere so quiet that it is almost deafening, totally forgotten to his former surroundings, Baer has been training here a week for his battle with the sensational negro September 24.
He won't start boxing until Friday.
He isn't going to box a dozen rounds a day as he did before losing his world heavyweight championship to Jimmy Braddock in a terrible exhibition in June.
Means Business.
He's going to box four rounds a day at the most, but he's going "all out" every second he has his gloves on.
The story of a "new Baer," a "new Joe Donker," a "new anybody" is as old as fight ballpoo itself.
Here in these same Adirondack mountains, in the same cabin retreat where Baer is staying, in the same hills where Baer runs five miles every morning, on the same Lake Pleasant where Baer rows for an hour daily, a "new Gene Tunney" was born some seven years ago, prior to Gentleman Gene's second great duel with Jack Dempsey in Chicago in 1927.
Gene changed from a recluse to a happy warrior. Within another year he had retired from pugilism and all those pleasant contacts of the transformation period. He never has been back.
In Impressive Cycle.
Baer at the moment is the most impressive Baer of all the daffy years. This curly-headed California giant has been rising to tremendous heights and plummeting the depths of mediocrity, alternately and when least expected.
He seems to realize the seriousness of Louis and the closeness of oblivion.
"I'm not kidding myself," he said
today. "I'm not going to miss.
I'll fool everybody again, but in a different way from the night I lost to Braddock. I'll flatten the guy like I flattened Max Schmeling and Frimo Carnera.
"I'll be the biggest guy in the fight game then. I'll have stopped the black menace. I'll get another shot at Braddock and I'll knock him out, too, the next time."
Baer weighs about 217 pounds.
He has five weeks to get about 10
extra pounds from his waistline.
He has been hitting the big bag
with terrific power.
Dukes Okeh.
Doctors in Baltimore told him what to do for the only real injury he suffered, a bruised knuckle on his left hand. He wears a special pad over it in training.
He says he feels no pain no matter how hard he hits. He will go to New York Friday to let the New York state athletic commission doctors decide whether the fists are in shape.
"Throw out the Braddock fight," Baer insisted. "I simply made a fool of myself. I thought it was a soft touch and I kidded myself.
"The only thing I'm glad about is that a broken-down guy like Braddock, who needed the dough, got the title. Everything turns out for the best. I'll flatten Louis, and then win the title back."

DUCKS, MISSIONS
CLASH THIS WEEK

By the Associated Press.
San Francisco's Seals, leading the Pacific Coast league by three percentage points, take on the seventh place Sacramento Senators in this week's series. The second place San Francisco Missions meet the third place Portland Ducks.
It looks like a good set-up for the Seals, and a chance for them to lengthen their slim lead. That is, it does unless you happen to recall that under the same conditions two weeks ago the Seals lost, rather than gained ground.
At that time the Seals dropped the series, three games to four, to the Senators while the Ducks were eking out victory by a like margin
over the Missions.
The fading Los Angeles Angels now in fifth place, play host for a week to the sixth place Oakland club while the Seattle Indians and the color-dwelling Hollywood Stars tangle in seven games at the northern city.

PRETTY HOUSEWIFE WINS LAURELS IN TRAP SHOOT

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
VANDALIA, O., Aug. 20.—(AP) Mrs. Lela Hall, pretty housewife of East Lynn, Mo., gazed at new photographs of herself today.
Just before all the shooting started in the Grand American trapshoot yesterday she looked over the pictures taken by the official photographer. Several of herself she wanted.
"How much are they?" she asked.
"One buck per each," was the answer.
"Wait until I win some prize money and I'll be back," she replied.
Then she walked out to the traps, broke 108 out of 200 targets, the highest competitive score ever made by a woman, added an extra 25 in a tie to win the shoot-off, and took the class B championship of America.
It wasn't the first time a championship of that caliber has ever fallen into feminine hands, but it wasn't a fluke, for she started right in where she left off last year when she broke 98 out of 100 to finish third in the Grand American handicap.
Out in East Lynn, Mo., Mrs. Hall and her husband operate a tourist camp and restaurant. He remained at home while she came here to earn a bit of prize money.
And part of her winnings, the total was about $120, went for the photographs.
Yesterday's barrage was one of the most devastating the Grand American program has ever witnessed. Seventeen shooters went through the first 100 targets without a miss, and six went the entire route of 200.

The class champions are: Class AA—B. C. Butts of Perendale, Mich.; Class B—John Taylor of Newark, O.; Class C—Mrs. Lela Hall, East Lynn, Mo.; Class C-M. I. Hughes of West Chester, O.; Class D—C. B. Sears of Loveland, O.; Class E—M. V. Heed-ten, Loveland, O.; and professional, Fred Tomlin, Claiborne, N. J., and J. R. John, Spirit Lake, Ia., tied.
DEAD PAN JOE NEARS
400 BATTING MARK
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Joe Di Maggio, slugging outfielder of the San Francisco Seals, has pounded his way close to the 400 mark. Coast league batting averages disclosed today.
Di Maggio is only 10 points behind the sturdy Oscar Eckhardt of the San Francisco Missions, who is still alone in the 400 class. Di Maggio has cranked out 215 hits, including 32 home runs, for an average of .307.
San Francisco's Seals head the team batting list with a mark of .305.

SIGN SALEM HIGH TO MEET TIGERS HERE ON OCT. 26

Medford high school will play the Salem high school in football here October 26. It was announced last night by Bill Bowerman, new Medford coach. For years there was a fierce, but good natured, rivalry between the Salem and Medford teams, but for the past several years there have been no games scheduled with the valley eleven.
The return of Salem will bring to Medford one of her most colorful opponents. Always a scrappy team, and often contenders for the state title, Salem has signed for a home-and-home series with Medford.
Anxious to gain as many good home games as possible, Bowerman has communicated with Eugene high school, University high and several Portland schools for games to be played here, but to date has received no replies. He has also written for a tentative game with the Oregon Frosh.
Other important home games will see the Tigers matched against Marshfield and the Chemawa Indians and Bend has asked for a game on November 16. The coach has not yet made arrangements for the game, however.
Klamath Falls, ever anxious to drop the Medford squad, will tangle with Bowerman's charges at Klamath this year. The Klamath team is said to be big and rangy, and the down-town quarterbacks are warning the Medford mentor that that will be his big hurdle.
Another traditional game not played for some time will be the alumni encounter, tentatively scheduled for September 28. It will be the opening game of the season, in which most of the new, untried men will see action.
For the past several weeks the men have been spending an hour each day in right practice, either on the new practice field at the high school or in the men's gym. During these sessions blocking, tackling, signals, passing and punting have been stressed. Now, with many of the players working in the fruit, the sessions have continued, with the coach spending several hours each day in skull practice with those not working. He has been giving special attention to Ray Lewis, stocky back, in an effort to develop his punting prowess.
Those who have been attending the sessions include Kuzman Taylor, Ray Ettinger and Wright at ends; Gibson, Santo, Blair, Earhart and Bishop as tackles; Pennington, Dickinson, Baker and Busey at guards; Penley, Stocks, Henry and Field as centers; Kosow, Martynas, Ray Lewis, Bob Ettinger, Joe Demman, Jim Bay and Rex Gilinsky in the backfield, and several others who have attended only intermittently.
Regular practice is expected to start about September 9.

BOWERMAN OUTLINES COACHING PLANS AT KIWANIAN MEETING

Bill Bowerman, newly appointed high school coach, was the speaker yesterday before the Kiwanis club meeting at the Hotel Medford for their regular weekly luncheon. Bowerman outlined his plans for the coming season, stating that he will start his training in the lower schools, having an instructor in each of the grade schools of the city. This instructor will outline for the boys the system that they will find under Bowerman later on.
In junior high they will be given the regular Bowerman system, with the shifts, plays and formula that the senior high will be using. Another phase of the program will stress physical education, with work in that line being given to every student in the city schools, with the ultimate aim of giving physical education to adults interested in the work, also.
Roger Wolf, a student of Sebastian Apollo, entertained with two piano numbers, "Glow Worm" and "One Night of Love."

Hale Will Open Grill On E. Main

K. V. Hale, owner since May of last year of the "A and B" grill on North Fir street, has announced plans for the opening of a new and larger grill of the same type in the building formerly occupied by the Marsh grocery store on East Main street. The new grill will feature the same kind of service offered in his other one here and the one in Yreka, and it will probably remain open all night. He expects to have the grill open in about three weeks. The North Fir stand will remain open.

NEGRO GRAPPLER WINS FAST BATTLE ROYAL

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Jack Clayborn, negro middleweight wrestler, emerged victorious from the battle royal at Multnomah stadium last night. Five minutes after the battle had started, Dick Trout, Rod Fenton and Del Kunkel had been bounced out of the ring, leaving Clayborn, Danny McShain and Bulldog Jackson. McShain disposed of Jackson and Clayborn took the winning fall from McShain with a dropkick and a body press.
Ernie Piluso took two out of three falls from Pug Ryan. Herb Parks won over Abdul Kahn and Jerry Marcus took the opener from Jimmy Murphy.

STURDY CANZONER! POUNDS KLICK FOR 10-ROUND DECISION

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Tony Canzoneri, sturdy champion of the lightweights, was a four time winner Friday over Frankie Klick of San Francisco, a persistent, but thus far, unsuccessful rival.
Canzoneri, who had defeated Klick three times before, slashed out with a sustained body attack to gain an easy 10-round decision over the San Francisco fighter here last night in their fourth meeting.
The champion, whose title was not at stake, pressed the battle from the start, and had a clear advantage in every round except the seventh when Klick rallied to out-box his opponent.
The fight, sponsored by the San Francisco Press club, dragged at times as Canzoneri appeared to rest on the wide margin he had piled up. He stirred the fans with a spirited drive for a knockout in the final round, however, but Klick managed to survive the session.
Klick was jolted repeatedly by sharp blows to the body which drove him back into cover whenever he attempted to take the offensive. The champion weighed 135 pounds and Klick 136.

(By the Associated Press)
Amateur golfers numbering 903 sought today to qualify for the national championship. There were 176 places open.
The championship proper will be decided in Cleveland, September 9-14. Ten players qualified last week in the far west. Fifteen others, comprising ten former winners and five foreign entrants, are exempt from the 36-hole sectional tests on 28 courses today.
W. Lawson Little, Jr., the defending champion; George T. Dunlap, Jr., winner in 1933, and big Tony Torrance of England are among those automatically qualified. Johnny Goodenow, who won the open crown two years ago, decided to take the test in the Omaha district with Rodney Blise, Jr., Goodman's home town rival, and Jack Hoerner of Stanford university.
In Detroit, Robert (Bobby) Jones, who eliminated the veteran, Francis Ouimet, in the first round at Brookline, shoots for one of the places in his section.

College Athletes Would Become Cops

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Police Lieutenant M. J. Wall checked over the background of a new class of 208 "troopers" who yesterday reported for a 30-day training period.
He found he had a complete football team of former university gridiron stars, also a basketball team with an assortment of baseball and track stars for good measure.

Pugilistic Kitten Has a Punch Like Sensational Negro

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Police Lieutenant Alex Jensen, who trains kittens to box as a hobby, today said he had found a new "brown bomber" of the feline squared circle—a six-toed whiffling.
Two champions of his fighting stable, Anthony and Cleopatra, fled from the attack of the new feline "Joe Louis," which he said "bursts bag after bag with right and left haymakers."
He explained that he trains his cats with suspended paper bags filled with air.

SOOS UNWORRIED OVER MAT MATCH

Johnny Soos of Indiana will not be able to take a crack at Pete Belcastro's coast championship crown when they tangle Thursday night at the Armory, but at least he will have a chance to make good his boast that he can "lick the spots" off the Italian drop-kicker.
Soos, not the least worried over Pete's deep-dyed grudge resulting from the foil play Soos employed in the battle-royal last week, claims that he is tougher than any two wrestlers like Belcastro, Johnny has long been noted for his cockiness, but his wrestling prowess has also been substantiated by strength and skill.
A wild Al Karasick is billed to meet Joe Hutka, University of Nebraska football star, in the other half of the main event. A newcomer will be pitted against a Medford favorite when Herb Berguson tangles with Floyd Wolfgang in the 20-minute opener.
