

Belcastro Must Grapple Soos With Bill Morgan as Sole Arbiter

PETE'S OBJECTION IS OVERRULED FOR TONIGHT'S MATCH

Grudge Affair Touted for Fast Action — Karasick Boasts Will Stop Hubka Quick in Second Main Go

Pete Belcastro, the temperamental terror, is going to meet Johnny Soos of Indiana in the top match tonight at the Army with Bill Morgan in the ring as referee, whether he likes it or not.

Promoter Mack Lillard announced this morning that despite Pete's demands for a couple of ringside judges in addition to Referee Morgan, there will be no exception made for the finicky Italian drop-kicker. Referee Morgan, who has gained much fame and popularity as a pro football player, and who is an ex-Medford high school grid star, will be the sole arbiter for the entire card.

Belcastro's objections to Morgan, he pointed out today, are not that he dislikes the big footballer, but that Morgan is "green" when it comes to refereeing wrestling matches. Therefore, Pete demanded two judges to prevent an unwise decision, but the promoter vetoed the idea, stating that Morgan as a referee is entirely satisfactory.

The sudden let-down in Pete's plans will probably result in his refusal to stake $100 against his losing the match to Soos. He says that he positively refuses to take chances of losing the $100 "if Morgan is in the ring," and will probably not put up the coin at all. He will announce his final decision tonight at the arena.

Awful Al Karasick made it known today that he intends to make short work of Joe Hubka of Nebraska in the other half of the double main event.

Karasick, just as Belcastro has a grudge against Soos as a result of last week's battle royal, has hard feelings for the popular Cornhusker, promising a session of high-tempered muscle mauling. Hubka will have a hard task defending himself against the veteran Russian, but is counting on his speedy leg work to do the trick.

Herb Berguson, former Multnomah club amateur wrestler from Portland, and now one of the coast's leading middleweights, will tangle with popular Floyd Wolfgang in the 20-minute opening bout.

Promoter Lillard announced that 100 additional seats have been installed this week at the arena, to accommodate the full house that is expected, and to take care of the 78 officers of the 31st bombardment squadron, officers of the Medford CCC district and their business men hosts who are expected to attend.

The addition of 100 seats brings the total number of rows around the ring to seven.

NOTED POLO PLAYER KILLED DURING MATCH

BAER, LOUIS BOUT IN YANKEES PARK SEPTEMBER 24TH

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The 15-round heavyweight boxing bout between Joe Louis, sensational Detroit negro, and Max Baer, former world champion, was set definitely for Tuesday, September 24, at the Yankee stadium, New York, in an announcement today by Mike Jacobs, promoter.

The decision to hold the bout under the auspices of the 20th Century Sporting club, in cooperation with the milk fund, confirmed expectations.

Jacobs discarded attractive offers to shift the fight to Chicago or Detroit, whose sportsmen made an unsuccessful attempt yesterday to influence the promoter to take the match to the home of the "Brown Bomber."

Jacobs predicted a "gate" in excess of $500,000. The Yankee stadium will be equipped to handle a crowd of 85,000 or more.

The promoter made his announcement at the offices of the New York state athletic commission.

Max Baer accompanied Jacobs to the commission meeting and submitted to a detailed examination of his hands, which the former champion blamed for the loss of his title to Jimmy Braddock, last June.

HUSTLING BEAVERS WIN ON ERROR BY MISSION CATCHER

By the Associated Press A hustling Portland ball club gets credit for the best sustained pennant-ward drive of a nip and tuck second half coast league season.

Until three weeks ago the Ducks were hovering unobtrusively close to the second division. Then came a steady upward surge and yesterday they beat the league leading San Francisco Mission 3-4, to pull up within half a game of the top.

The contest was a thriller, decided in the ninth inning on a mental error by Mike Frankovich, Mission catcher. The bags were loaded with one out when Eddie Jocke purposely dropped a high fly to catch Chandler at home. Frankovich merely touched the plate, making no play for Chandler, and the run counted.

Jimmy Zinn did some fine relief pitching for the Sacramento Senators, enabling them to register their second straight win over the San Francisco Seals. Zinn, a former Seal, went in to halt an uprising in the fifth. He held the Seals to one run for the balance of the game, while his teammates hammered three Seal pitchers to overcome a four run handicap, and win 9-8.

A home run by Vince Dimaggio with two aboard, broke up a ten inning contest between Hollywood and Seattle, with the Stars on the long end of a 7-4 score. Hank McDonald's four hit pitching, coupled with homers by Bill Malibo, and Anton, gave Oakland an 8-2 victory over Los Angeles.

MAJORS ENTERING CRUCIAL PERIOD

By the Associated Press As the major league season draws near the final month the schedule calls for one important series after another, almost without interruption. So far there's been no real decision as the Cardinals challenged the Giants and registered only a slight gain and the Yankees and Tigers came out all squares.

Still another "crucial" series opens today as the Giants and the Chicago Cubs meet with the national league lead again at stake. The league leaders have had a breathing spell since their struggle with St. Louis, trimming the Reds four times running despite a few close calls, and winding up with a 3 to 0 victory yesterday.

BOMBER OFFICER DESCRIBES WORK AT LIONS LUNCH

Organization of the 31st bombardment squadron and the purpose of its practice maneuvers at the municipal airport here were described by Second Lieutenant Norman F. D. Timper, one of the squadron's officers, at the weekly luncheon meeting of Medford Lions club yesterday noon.

Lieutenant Timper stated that the maneuvers here are in form of service tests, to try out the reorganized bombing squadrons of 49 men "to show the public what the army has and to show Washington what it lacks." He said the object of the tests is to develop the highest type of personnel and the best air force in the world.

The country is divided into three wings, the 31st squadron being a unit of the western wing, whose headquarters is now at March field, but will soon be moved to Hamilton field, Lieutenant Timper explained. The name has been changed from air "corp" to air "force," said the lieutenant, and the public is being educated to the change.

The personnel of the squadrons is being acquainted with various maneuvering terrains of the country by the practice periods, which are conducted every two months, according to Lieutenant Timper. The practices are held for the purpose of determining the efficiency of the new type of squadrons.

The Martin bombers are only one-year-old ships and are very maneuverable, having a cruising speed of 180 miles per hour, a top speed of 200 and a cruising radius of 450 to 550 miles. Lieutenant Timper said. The weight of each ship is 15,000 pounds, fully loaded, with a crew of four.

William Kleinhardt and Deputy District Governor Daws of Klamath Falls were guests of the club the latter inviting the members to a showing of pictures of the International convention at 8:30 o'clock September 10 at the Willard hotel in Klamath Falls.

It was announced that on September 4 Alfred Cookman, district educational lecturer for the CCC, from Los Angeles, will give a nature talk on "America's Fighting Birds of the Air."

BIG APPLEGATE, Aug. 22.—(Sp1)—The evergreen blackberries, for which the Applegate section has been noted for many years, are ripening now and are of a better quality than last year. Although diseased berries greatly reduced the amount of usable fruit for several years, no signs of the blight have appeared this season.

Berries in the Little Applegate district are said to be small, although a fine crop exists in the vicinity of the Applegate store.

MRS. FABRICK TELLS ACTIVITIES OF RECENT PACIFIC OCEAN TRIP

Mrs. Glen Fabrick was principal speaker at the regular dinner meeting of Medford Active club Tuesday evening, outlining her recent interesting trip around the Pacific ocean, on which she touched at Honolulu, Java, China, New Zealand, Australia and several small islands. The meeting was the regular ladies' night.

Mrs. Fabrick described Australia as the "upside down" country, because she said practically everything seems to be done backwards. She traveled inland 800 miles to see a native Australian, whom she described as a member of the black race and of the lowest type of humanity.

New Zealand is a very beautiful country, Mrs. Fabrick said, where the natives intermingled and intermarried with the white race, resulting in an intelligent stock. New Zealand's boiling, volcanic pools and mud baths, were said to be far superior to those at Yellowstone national park. Mrs. Fabrick said she crossed by boat one lake where the water was so warm that she could not put her hand in it.

The speaker also told of a trip through New Zealand's famous glow worm cave, where visitors, traveling by boat, are able to read newspapers by the light of myriads of glow worms, which differ from those found in this country.

Second Lieut. Joseph P. Boll, Air-Res. and Second Lieut. Robert E. Jarmon, A. C., both officers of the 31st bombardment squadron, were guests of the club. Lieut. Boll gave a short talk on the activities of the squadron, which is stationed here for practice, stating that Medford has shown the greatest hospitality and cooperation of any city in which the group has been stationed.

The entertainment program included two vocal solos by Mrs. Jack Butler.

Pletcher Fish of the Oregon state agricultural department announced the annual state fair as being scheduled at Salem Aug. 31 to Sept. 7. He extended a general invitation to Acitivians and their wives, and urged local support of the fair.

HUNT FOR COYOTE THRILLS CITY LAD

SAMB VALLEY, Aug. 22.—(Sp1)—John Edgington of Gold Hill, who is helping his father, W. W. Edgington, on the ranch, tells how he surprised a coyote the other night and gave a young town lad the surprise of his life.

Having grown tired of having his midnight slumber disturbed by howling coyotes, Mr. Edgington decided to decrease their numbers. Friday evening, after dragging the carcass of a dead animal to the varmints' favorite stamping ground, Mr. Edgington, with his boy companion and rifle, took a tree sitting position in a favorable location to await the arrival of his prey. Although the coyote appeared quite soon, it took considerable caution and maneuvering to get a bead on the animal, without the flashlight continuously frightening her away. However, at the first crack of the rifle, the large female coyote fell dead. The young lad, getting to the ground with Mr. Edgington, found his shaking legs would hardly hold him up. "It's strange," he said, "how a fellow can get weak legs from sitting in a tree," but Mr. Edgington refrained from telling him there was such a thing as "buck ague."
