BRITAIN TAKES WAR PRECAUTION

News Behind The News

By PAUL MALLON
Copyright, 1935, By Paul Mallon

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—There is only one thing which excites Washington more than gossip and that is a news leak. Everything here is supposed to be orderly. Everything flows in turn, according to custom—men, society and even news.

PAUL MALLON

For that reason a dire problem has been created by the fact that certain secret reports from the business advisory council have lately developed a way of getting on the front pages.

The council was Secretary Roper's idea. News readers may recall that the secretary of commerce's council of business men was supposed to express views of business. The council members were to tell what they thought about the new deal. For a time their thoughts, as expressed in their reports, must have been unprintable. At least these reports were sent to the White House and referred down the alley to a department for eternal consideration. They were made public only when they favored the social security program or continuance of the NRA.

The last two reports of the council were on the tax bill and the Guffey coal bill and were very critical. They were sent to the White House and referred, as is the custom, to a departmental filing cabinet. In each case a week elapsed and then the reports appeared on the front pages. One was published by a foremost Washington news gatherer and the other by a trade paper in New York.

No one suspects President Roosevelt of slipping out these critical reports, but there is ground for suspicion that the business council has developed a system of making its views known to the world.

What happened is that the council gives the president a week to make its views public. If he fails, there are ways.

A fancy job of editing was done on the congressional record to conceal the fact from posterity that the house sat unconstitutionally for twenty minutes last Saturday night. The record says the house quit at 11:47 p. m. That the house could not decide what to do before it expired at midnight, so Mr. Byrns defied the edict that time waits for no man. He told one of his clerks to get a stick and stop the big clock over his head. It remained stopped until about half an hour later, when the leaders decided the mess was too big to be solved that night, and congress adjourned until Monday.

Smart lawyers may be able to figure out a way to attack the constitutionality of everything congress did thereafter. But they will have a hard time proving it in view of falsification of the record.

An editorial conclusion that this congress could not even adjourn constitutionally, however, may not be far wrong.

If new dealers will see Senator Capper they may learn something to ADDIE ABABA, Aug. 28.J(AP)—The Ethiopian minister to Cairo today informed Emperor Haile Selassie that 5,000 Egyptians, both Mohammedans and Coptic Christians, were ready to form a foreign legion to fight against Italy.

LONDON, Eng., Aug. 28.—(AP)—The British war office, a military source stated today, has ordered all senior members of the army council to remain in the vicinity of London and to take no more holidays until further notice.

As this order was disclosed, reports were heard here of labor movements against Italy in her conflict with Ethiopia. At the same time, it was reported that two foreign nations were ready to back Great Britain's plan of action at Geneva.

No official statement was issued concerning the order to army council members and in foreign military quarters it was considered as of a precautionary measure.

MEDFORD STORES OPEN TO 9 P. M.

A. H. Gram, commissioner of labor for the state of Oregon, in a letter to A. H. Banwell, manager of the Jackson county chamber of commerce today, sanctioned the proposal of Jackson county merchants that they keep their stores open until 9 o'clock Saturday evenings for the duration of the fruit season.

Gram's letter stated: "You may consider this letter a special permit to merchants in Jackson county to keep their stores open until 9:00 o'clock Saturday nights, beginning now, and ending on November 1, 1935."

Many of the fruit workers are unable to make purchases except late Saturday evenings, and the regular 6:30 closing has forced the merchants to turn many away.

The request for the later hour concession was made by the Jackson county chamber of commerce, upon the request of the retail merchants division of that body.

LOCAL BOURBONS HAVE EYE ON JOB

The possibility that an appointment to the office of the chief deputy U. S. marshal at Portland to fill a place vacate dby the recent resignation of Chief Deputy Loren Cochran, will be made in Jackson county has aroused aspirants for the position in this vicinity.

Several have signified aspiration for the position and in political circles it is said that Leo McLain, deputy United States marshal here, is in line for an advancement to the office at Portland. The appointment will probably be made to fill a position in the office vacated by a Portland official who will be advanced to Cochran's post. Cochran resigned to accept the position of U. S. probation officer the first of next month.

The appointment is expected to be announced by U. S. Marshal John T. Simmerville the first of next week.

MAIL TRIBUNE ADDS UNITED PRESS WIRE FOR NEWS OF NIGHT

Additional Service Gives Leased Wire Service 17 Hours Out of Day—Will Be Boon for Sport Fans

Installation of the United Press leased wire telegraph report today by the Mail Tribune marks one of the most ambitious steps in domestic and foreign news coverage in the thirty-year history of the newspaper. The United Press dispatches will be used in conjunction with the Associated Press leased wire service, the latter having been received by the Mail Tribune for many years.

Addition of the "U. P" report means that the editorial room of the newspaper will be connected by wire, from 7 a. m. to midnight each day, with the two greatest news gathering agencies in the world. Through the hook-up with the "U. P" the Mail Tribune will be able to give the public up-to-the-minute information on sport events such as prize fights and football games which ordinarily occur too late for coverage in the day "A. P" wire report. The service will also be available on election nights and at other times when it is desired to keep in close touch with the march of events through the later hours of the day.

The United Press, like the Associated Press, has bureaus in all principal cities of the world. Both maintain staffs of highly trained news gatherers at bureau points and in addition have access to stories published by papers subscribing to their services.

Besides the run of "spot" news, both services furnish interesting and informative feature material on sports, politics, science and styles.

Two automatic telegraph receivers were installed by telephone company experts last week in preparation for inauguration today of the news service, making a battery of four teletype machines now in the Mail Tribune office ready to grind out the news of the world.

HAMILTON'S BODY FOUND BY G-MEN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28. — (AP)—The body of John Hamilton, member of the notorious John Dillinger gang, was found buried near Oswego, Illinois today by "G-Men."

Word was given at the department of justice in late afternon by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the bureau of investigation. He said the body was badly decomposed.

Agents reported a belief Hamilton was probably killed in a battle with some of their colleagues during their hot chase of the Dillinger gang in the summer of 1934.

Their opinion was that the long-sought criminal met his end either in the battle which occurred near Little Bohemia, Wis., or at a subsequent battle near St. Paul, Minn.

PASSENGERS DITCH DRUNK BUS DRIVER

HILLSBORO, Ore., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Irate passengers overpowered an allegedly drunken bus driver, threw him into a ditch by the roadside and continued with a civilian driver, Deputy Sheriff Johnston said today.

The driver, Lloyd George Mecklin, 35, of Vernonia, Ore., was charged with driving while intoxicated. Passengers "manhandled" him when he refused to stop driving, Johnston said. The bus was en route from Forest Grove to Vernonia.

Mecklin was found by the wayside by E. R. Anderson, postmaster at La Center, Wash.

ROGERS INSURANCE PAYS $2,500,000

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Edward McCullough, local attorney who said he represented Lloyds, London insurance brokers, announced today he had delivered a check for $2,500,000 to Mrs. Will Rogers, representing a special insurance policy on the life of the late comedian.

The policy was reported to have carried the high premium of 4 per cent, or $100,000 annually, and was said to have been issued eight years ago.

Previous estimates of the estate of Rogers, killed with Wiley Post in an Alaskan air crash, had ranged around $2,500,000 without counting the Lloyds' policy.

Hitherto friends of the actor said his policy with Lloyds was for $250,000.

BOURBON LEADERS PLANNING REVOLT AGAINST NEW DEAL

Hearst Quoted As Saying Independent Party About to Be Launched — Colby Named As Move Leader

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—A dispatch to the New York Times today from Charles R. Michael at Chicago quoted an unnamed prominent citizen returning from the home of William Randolph Hearst in California as saying that an independent democratic party was about to be launched.

It said Former Governor Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts and Former Budget Director Lewis W. Douglas might be running mates in 1936.

The dispatch named Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state in the Wilson administration, as the leader of a revolt of democrats from the new deal and said that definite plans of organization probably would be announced in October.

Would Corral South

The new party may take the name "Constitutionalist," the dispatch said. It is designed to defeat President Roosevelt through deflection of the solid south.

The dispatch said Colby was reported as assured of the support of Former Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, Former Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, Governor Eu-

JEALOUS FARMER KILLS WIFE, SELF

DEFIANCE, O., Aug. 28.—(AP)—A farmer crazed by jealousy fatally wounded his wife, shot a neighbor and his daughter, and then killed himself last night.

The wife, Mrs. Margaret Burd, 40, died this morning and Coroner Fred W. Watkins returned a verdict of murder and suicide.

Her husband, Edgar Burd, 44, wielded the death gun.

The condition of Fred Kline, 37, the neighbor, remained critical. Kline's daughter Helen, 14, suffered only a scalp wound.

Mrs. Burd had gone to the Kline home to sew for Mrs. Kline. After shooting the three persons, Burd returned to his home and killed himself with a revolver.

HANSCOM TO SEEK PARDON IN DEATH ALBERT TINGLEAF

Notice of intention to apply to Governor Charles H. Martin for a pardon for Earl Hanscom, former Eagle Point district resident, serving a life term in state prison, on his plea of guilty to second degree murder in the death of Albert Tingleaf in June, 1933, following an altercation in front of a dance hall at Eagle Point, was filed with the district attorney yesterday by Hanscom's attorneys, George M. Roberts and William M. McAllister.

District Attorney George A. Codding announced today that the state would resist the pardon plea. Petitions protesting clemency to Hanscom have been circulated in the Eagle Point district and will be filed with the governor. Petitions seeking clemency for Hanscom have also been circulated.

The pardon plea is based upon the following contentions as set forth in the petition:

"1—That the death of Albert Tingleaf occurred in such a manner and under such circumstances that the crime committed by the petitioner (Hanscom), if any, was manslaughter rather than second degree murder.

"2—That prior to the conviction, the petitioner was at all times an industrious person of good character,

RELIEF CANNERIES WILL STAY OPEN

Word was received today at the offices of Jackson County relief committee from Ernest H. Wiegand, state cannery superintendent for the state relief committee, that canneries in the Rogue River valley will be enabled to stay open and function at full capacity until the end of the canning season. The announcement served to allay fears of many families with relief subsistance gardens that they would be unable to use the public canneries to put up their produce when it is harvested.

Funds for the SERA, under which the canneries at Medford and Ashland are operated, have been set aside and ear-marked for the express purpose of maintaining the canning kitchens, according to the local relief committee.

REED IN ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE PRISON CHANGES HIS MIND

Man Sent Up From Jackson County for Slaying Policeman, Surrenders After Brief Bid for Liberty

SALEM, Aug. 28.—(AP)—An apparent attempt by three prisoners to escape from the Oregon State penitentiary last night, ended when the trio thought better of their plans and surrendered meekly to guards, Warden James Lewis reported.

The three men were Albert W. Reed, convicted for the slaying of Victor Knott, Ashland policeman, in 1932; William Hammond and Stephen Chink, sentenced from Multnomah and Coos counties respectively, for assault.

At the time for the nightly lockup last night, Lewis said, the men slipped into the library instead of going to their cells, and overpowered and bound three convicts who were arranging books to be distributed to the cells. Then apparently deciding an attempt to escape was futile, they walked out to be taken into custody by guards.

Lewis said he was unable to figure out the prisoners' plans, since the only place accessible from the library was the stockade, where they were almost certain to have been brought down by guards.

Dr. Johnson, who will assume his duties in this county September 4, has been connected with the county health department at San Bernardino. He was selected from a number of applicants.

Dr. Drummond and family will leave for the east, September 8.

The Rockefeller Fund fellowship is a coveted honor among medical men, and includes besides the medical course, a liberal expense allowance.

Upon completion of the course, Dr. Drummond will return to this county.

Ban on Filibustering Is Planned for Senate

NEW YORK, Aug. 28—(AP)—If the senate amends its rules next session to kill one-man filibusters, Senator Huey Long declared today, Democratic Leader Robinson probably won't be around when it happens.

"He's on the way out—out, do you understand?" said Louisiana's "kingfish."

"Joe won't be around to amend the rules. If the president has any pork to pass around, he'd better give some to Joe now."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Senator Robinson, Democratic leader, announced today an amendment to the senate rules would be presented next session designed to end such filibusters as the one by Senator Long (D., La.) Monday night which blocked action on the $103,000,000 third deficiency appropriation bill.

His formal statement made just before departure for an extended automobile trip did not disclose the exact nature of the plan.

The future of Long became a subject of renewed speculation today as the capital heard a report that the house may investigate his Louisiana "dictatorship" and a prediction that Long is dead politically.

The prediction came from Rep. Woodrum (D., Va.) who declared that in the filibuster with which Long wound up the session of congress Monday night, the senator was trapped and led to the "executioner's block by his colleagues in the senate."

Long's filibuster defeated a $102,000,000 appropriations measure. Woodrum argued that Long made many enemies because the bill contained funds to start such programs as social security, coal regulation and railroad pensions.

Bosses and Union Heads Unite for Fair Dealing

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Formation of the Industrial Relations Association of Oregon was completed here yesterday at a meeting attended by approximately 150 business and industrial executives.

Declaring itself opposed to the exploitation of labor in every form and going on record recognizing "the right to strike and also the sacred right to work," the organization adopted a "code of ethics" and laid plans to elect permanent officers at a later meeting.

Presiding yesterday was Horace E. Mecklem, who said the foundation for the organization was laid at a meeting of 30 business men last week. Articles of incorporation for the industrial association were filed yesterday at Salem, naming Mecklem, John H. Smith and E. A. Neupert as incorporators.

The code of ethics comprises a pledge for "a fair investigation of grievances presented by any worker, union or non-union," stresses the asserted right of collective bargaining, urged "a liberal wage for honest service" and expresses the belief that "it is the right of every man to work and it is his unquestioned privilege to employ his labor without any hindrance or coercion."

Frank J. Griffith, president of the Portland Electric Power company, in a talk to the assembly, said he "wouldn't under any circumstances be a party to an organization like this unless it was distinctly understood it would recognize fully, frankly and whole-heartedly the rights of labor." He said it was necessary that "labor racketeers" be eliminated, but he also declared labor must be certain employers are not harboring such racketeers themselves.
