ments they represented will support the British policy at Geneva in the council session September 4. At the same time, Sir Samuel Hoare, foreign secretary, discussed the general European situation with Senator James P. Pope (D., Idaho) and reviewed problems of the dominions with Stanley M. Bruce, high commissioner for Australia. Senator Pope's visit, the foreign office emphasized, was entirely private. It was stated that Ray Atherton, the United States charge d'affaires, introduced him to Sir Samuel as a prominent American citizen and it was announced that no communication or statement of an official character entered into their conversation.

ROME, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The Italian cabinet gave a complete endorsement of Premier Mussolini's policy in East Africa at a cabinet session at Bolzano, it was authoritatively announced here tonight. Government sources said they were unable to describe specifically the program Mussolini presented his advisers. But it was reliably reported an outline of policy embraced the following features:

1. Italy now sees no possibility of turning back the military action in East Africa in view of what was described as Ethiopia's "bad faith."
2. Italy will be represented at the League of Nations council meeting next week and will make a final effort to persuade other powers of the need of her case.
3. Italy will take every necessary precaution to protect her interests in Europe while her military power is engaged in Africa.

MEEKERS RETURN FROM PARKS TRIP

Just returned from an extended trip, which included visits to many western national parks and scenic spots, Clarence Meeker reports a most interesting and enjoyable journey. Accompanied by his wife and small daughter, Eleanor, he drove through eastern Oregon into Idaho, visiting Boise, Twin Falls and Pocatello, and entered Yellowstone Park at the west entrance. After viewing the high spots of the park, they drove south to Grand Teton National park, and from there to Woodland, Wyoming, where they were guests at the home of relatives.

From there they continued to the hot springs at Thermopilis, Cheyenne and Greeley, Colorado. After a short stay at Rocky Mountain National park, they visited Denver and Colorado Springs, with side trips to the Garden of the Gods, Cave of the Winds and Pike's Peak. Mesa Verde park was the next stop, where they visited the cliff dwellings of ancient Indians.

Other spots touched in the southwest were the Grand Canyon, Bryce Park, Zion Park and Boulder City. The Meekers returned home by way of San Diego, stopping for a few days at the Exposition, and continuing up the coast to Medford.

MRS. ENGLISH MAKES SCENERY FOR MIKADO

Mrs. Alice D. English, Medford artist, has just completed a huge backdrop and leg drops for scenery to be used in the "Mikado" light opera being produced in Seattle, in which several local stars are participating, including Ralph Burgess, LaMurie Beck and Pat Carlon. Mrs. English has been working night and day on the setting in order to have it ready for shipment today. Made with care, the curtains can be rolled up without injury. Mrs. English said. The scene portrayed on the large drop is of a Japanese garden, with a brook running through, and with Fujiyama rising in the background. The artist did nearly all of the work herself, receiving aid only in painting in some of the rough work requiring large coverage of one color. She had a small boy to help her move ladders and paints.

Fiddling Crickets Serenade City To Citizens' Disgust

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Crickets, swarming in such numbers they sounded "like two brass bands out of tune," infested Oklahoma City today. For two days and nights the insects have fluttered and fiddled about the city, attracted by the bright lights at night and apparently having no place else to go in the daylight. Millions of them flocked to the business section last night and merchants fought them with eye water, insecticides and brooms, apparently with little permanent relief. A restaurant proprietor attacked the crickets with eye water and their remains lay in a pile an inch deep and two feet wide along the sidewalk.

CHURCH CLUB STAGING PLAY CONTEST FRIDAY WITH G. PASS TROUPE

The Institute club of the First Methodist church is sponsoring a play contest with Grants Pass Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the church gym, according to an announcement issued today. The Medford group will present "Who Says Can't?" a one-act comedy by Katherine McClure, and the Grants Pass group is presenting "Cornfed Babies."

Janette Trill has the lead in "Who Says Can't?", playing the part of Edith Wright, and with many experiences in similar plays she is capable of an excellent portrayal. Ross Knotts, also known for his fine character portrayals, takes the part of Edith's brother, Robert. Edith and Robert, in a brother and sister quarrel, make a bet involving Edith's birthday check of $10. How Tommy, Robert's pal, and Isabel, Edith's chum, aid in winning the bet is brought out in a highly amusing way at the climax of the plot. Bill Walker takes the part of Tommy and Ruth LeClerc the part of Isabel. Mr. and Mrs. Wright are played by John Gillings and Mildred Walker. Besides the two plays, there will be musical numbers given by Grants Pass and Medford. The program is being given as the first of a series of presentations to raise money to send 35 delegates to Little River next July. The same program will be given in Grants Pass Friday evening.

HOGAN SPEAKER AT ACTIVE MEET

General finance, economics and the redistribution of wealth were the topics of M. M. Hogan last night in an address before the members of the Active club, meeting at the Hotel Medford. He reviewed the economic situation in this country for the past several years, and pointed out, among other things, the trend of financial matters. Guests to hear the talk were Harold C. Carver, superintendent of Standard Stations, Inc., in the Medford area, and J. B. Bennett, who holds the same position in the Roseburg area. Charles Clay was also a guest, as was George McAllister, brother of Bill McAllister, who is one of the trustees of the club. George lives in Portland. Next week will be the regular business meeting, and sometime within the next few weeks, Irwin Doty, with the Boy Scouts on their trip through the east, will review his adventures for the members. Phone 542. We'll haul away your refuse. City Sanitary Service.

Threatened By Note

LOCAL PWA INSPECTOR WILL AID APPLICANTS IN PREPARING PAPERS

P. W. A. Inspector D. L. Buckingham, on the sewer disposal plant here has returned from Portland, where a meeting was held of all P. W. A. inspectors in the state. This P. W. A. Inspection Division Meeting was held to learn how the individual inspectors on construction in various communities may help Acting State Director C. C. Hockley in the new P. W. A. loan program. Construction matters were also discussed with R. H. Corey, state engineer inspector. The inspectors in the P. W. A. Inspection Division will be glad to discuss loans and how to prepare applications for same. Due to Washington, D. C. having set September 16 as a deadline for applications, prospective borrowers in this section of the state should get in touch with Mr. Buckingham at once, if he can be of any help. He will be glad to discuss P. W. A. loans at the sewer plant north of Medford, phone 559, or he will travel any reasonable distance for evening meetings, or in the day time if desired. Prospective borrowers should feel free to call on him for information at any time. Mr. Buckingham will call a special meeting, probably for tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the city hall, to confer with everyone interested. A full announcement will appear tomorrow.

Norma Needs Romeo For Coming Cinema

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Norma Shearer arrived from Hollywood today lamenting her failure to find a Romeo for her forthcoming production of "Romeo and Juliet." She said she intended to spend two weeks here before returning to Hollywood to begin work on the Shakespeare play. Irving Thalberg, her film executive husband, accompanied her.

Clipper Completes First Round Trip

ALAMEDA, Calif., Aug. 28.—(AP)—The flying clipper arrived here from Honolulu at 10:55 a. m. today, completing its first round-trip exploratory commercial flight of approximately 10,000 miles to Wake Island in the Pacific. The big flying boat, making its third flight from Honolulu to the mainland, completed the final leg of 2400 miles in 17 hours and 26 minutes.

Crater Lake Trip Took Week by Car Thirty Years Ago

N. H. Mark, Applegate miner, was in Medford yesterday from his Silver Bell mine, showing friends a picture taken in 1905 of himself with his 1905 "White Streak" Buick which he was driving to Crater Lake. Mark stated that the Union Creek bridge was washed out when he got there, and it took him and Bill Hudson, who then owned the Hudson Motor company, Buick dealers here, two days to build a new bridge before they could go on. The trip to the lake took about a week over public roads sometimes a foot or more deep with dust. The picture showed the contrast between the roads then and the ribbon-like highway now leading to the lake. The old Buick, the first four-cylinder model shown, cost $2200 without a top of any kind. It was a roadster model.

TOWNSPEOPLE ESCAPE IN NIGHTCLOTHING AS FLOOD STRIKES HOME

HOLLY, Colo., Aug. 28.—(AP)—The 1,000 residents of this sugar factory town were driven from their homes by floods today. About a dozen families fled from Kit Carson, Colo., and Syracuse, Kas., was flooded to a depth of 18 inches in the wake of cloudbursts. A survey after daylight failed to disclose any loss of life, although there was considerable property damage and four or five farm homes were swept from their foundations. A torrent covered Holly to a depth of four feet after the night marshal and a telephone operator warned the townspeople that Horse Creek dam, a FERA project nine miles north of town, had broken. The creek flows through the city. The townspeople, awakened by sirens, fled in their night clothes and about 200 of them were marooned on top of a hill for about eight hours. Shortly before noon the flood subsided and many timorous residents returned to find their basements filled with mud, the business district under eight inches of water and the residence section flooded four feet deep.

FREE ART SCHOOL CONDUCTED HERE

For those who are interested in art, the Southern Oregon Art association is conducting a free art school with classes at the home of Mrs. Edmondson, 834 West Second street, near Columbus avenue. Mrs. Edmondson has consented to let the S. O. A. A. use her home until a studio may be obtained. Thursday evening, August 30, Johnnie King will give a class in pencil rendition and proportion, which will lead up to perspective, figure drawing, composition, working for reproduction and hints on preparing work for commercializing. Mrs. Edmondson will have classes in pastel Friday, August 30, with plans to furnish productions already started. Mr. Selmes' class in oil will start at 1:30 p. m. Saturday afternoon, August 31, with the aid of Mrs. Heine. The class will start at 2 p. m. Alice English, instructor in color, will hold her classes Thursday, Sept. 3.

AGNES C. CARNEY PASSES, AGED 71

Agnes C. Carney passed away this morning at Ideal Court. Besides her husband, M. P. Carney, she leaves two daughters, Marie and Grace of San Francisco; a brother, James Sutton, Duluth, Minn., and two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Poirier, San Francisco and Mrs. Katherine Finnigan, Duluth, Minn. Mrs. Carney was born at Guelph, Ontario, Canada, July 5, 1864, and was married in Chicago, Illinois. Both daughters were born there, where Mr. Carney was engaged in the wholesale clothing business. The family went to California in 1911 and for the past 13 years their home has been on a fruit ranch in the Blackwell Hill district north of Central Point. Owing to serious illness of Mrs. Carney they sold the ranch recently and moved to their present location. Funeral services will be held at the Sacred Heart Catholic church Friday at 9:00 A. M. Reverend Francis W. Black will officiate. Interment in Sixtyfour Memorial Park. Recitation of the Rosary services will be held at the Peril funeral home Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

DEFINITE CAPITOL SITE CHOICE READY SEPT. 20

SALEM, Aug. 28.—(AP)—A definite proposal for a tentative site for the new state capitol building, to be submitted to the special session of the legislature probably in October, will be ready by September 20, Governor Martin said here today. The governor declared he was not committed to any particular site and that yesterday's session of the board of control would make it possible for the legislature to consider any and all proposals submitted. Birth at Community Hospital—Through error, it was announced in yesterday's Mail Tribune that a baby boy was born to Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Dodson yesterday at the Sacred Heart hospital. The birth was at the Community hospital. Mule Haas is a one-man clipping bureau for his White Sox teammates, especially enjoying presenting them with uncomplimentary clippings.

Film Firm Merger Pathway Cleared

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Aug. 28.—(AP) A motion for an order to stay the merger of the Fox Film Corporation and Twentieth Century Pictures, Inc., was denied today by Supreme Court Justice Edward L. Tamm of the appellate division. The decision clears the way for completion of the merger, which was opposed by a group of minority stockholders.
