

LOST LETTERMEN MAIN WORRY FOR STATERS' MENTOR

Steiner Starts Third Year Without Experienced Grid Men to Plug Holes—First Game Is September 21

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis—(Sp.)—Loss of 11 lettermen, among them being five first stringers, and the fact that no experienced men are available to take the places of these first string players are the chief worries of Lon Steiner as he launches out on his third season as head football coach of the Orangemen.

Lettermen who will be hardest to replace are Dan Mitola, left tackle; Bill Tomshack, left guard; Jackie Brandis, right tackle; Harold Frankie, quarterback; and Norman Franklin, left halfback. Brandis had two more years of varsity competition here, but has accepted an appointment to the U. S. Naval academy.

Loss of both Mitola and Brandis and in addition John King, a reserve letterman tackle, makes the situation at the tackle berths somewhat serious with only one letterman, Tub Brown of Corvallis, available.

Candidates inexperienced. The leading candidates for left tackle are Jim Miller of Portland and Glenn Moody of Salem, both products of last year's freshman team, and Ernie Beas of Grants Pass, a varsity reserve. For right tackle, probably the most outstanding bidder for right tackle is Frank Ramsey of Aberdeen, Wash. Ramsey, center on the freshman team last season, worked at both center and left guard in spring practice but Coach Steiner says he will use him at right tackle when the Pacific coast conference season opens September 14. Other right tackle prospects are the aforementioned Brown and Don Fisher of Portland, a varsity reserve last season.

Loss of a player at quarterback leaves this position without any experienced lettermen. To help make up for the loss of Pangle Coach Steiner has switched Ray Scott of Corvallis, who won his letter at and other candidates for the signal barking job are Jack Brandis of Long Beach, Cal., a freshman here in 1931, and John Watts of Burlingame, Cal., member of last year's freshman team. All three are handicapped by lack of experience.

Ends Well Filled. All other positions on the Orange team are well taken care of with lettermen available for choice. Probably the strongest positions on the team are the ends where last year's first stringers will be back again. At left end will be John Patrick Cassey of Pasadena, Cal., and Woody Joslin of Corvallis, both lettermen, and Howard Weaver of Crane, a product of the freshman team. At right end will be Maynard Schultz of Corvallis, two-year letterman, and Dale Lillebo, transfer from Pacific university.

Outstanding candidates for the left guard position made vacant by the graduation of Tomshack are Ed Strack of Grants Pass and Stan McClurg of Portland, both lettermen, and Dick Sutherland of Hillsboro and Dwight Baker of Gresham, both products of the freshman team. Letterman, will be back at right guard. His first understudy will be Ed Cornwell of Portland, member of last season's freshman team.

The center position should be well taken care of with Ken Deming of Oregon City, last season's first stringer, back again. The aforementioned Ramsey also will be available for center, as will Ed Greider of Long Beach, Cal., varsity reserve last year.

Franklin Leaves Hole. Loss of Norman Franklin, all-American in 1933, has caused a big gap at left halfback. Two lettermen, Ray Woodman and Bob Patrick, both of Portland, are battling for the position. The best prospect from the freshman squad are Joe Gray of Portland, Bob Mountain of Burlingame, and Lynn Jackson of Los Angeles. Competition for left halfback is the keenest for any position on the team. The left half in Coach Steiner's style of play is the keyman on offense. He does most of the ball packing, passing and punting. He plays Tommy on defense.

Tommy Swanson of Hood River, first right halfback last season, will be back at the same position this fall. He will have as his understudies John Eilers of Aurora, a product of the freshman team, and Bill Duncan, transfer from Pasadena Junior college.

Fullback position should be well taken care of with Happy Valley of Oakland, Cal., and Dick Joslin of Corvallis, both lettermen, back again and also available Elmer Kolber of Portland, fullback on the freshman team last season.

Coach Steiner will have as his varsity assistants this year Jim Dixon, line coach and Laurie Walquist and Hal Moe, backfield coaches. Dixon and Moe are former Oregon State players. Walquist, who was added to the staff this year, is a former University of Illinois player. He played quarterback for the Chicago Bears, national professional football team, from 1922 to 1933. He has been backfield coach for the Bears for the last two seasons.

First Game Sept. 21. Following is the complete Oregon State schedule:

- September 21—Linfield college at Corvallis.
- September 28—Willamette university at Corvallis.
- October 5—UCLA at Portland.
- October 11—Gonzaga university at Corvallis.
- October 19—Southern California at Los Angeles.

A. A. SCHRAMM

SALEM, Aug. 29—(AP)—Telegrams urging the reappointment of A. A. Schramm as state superintendent of banks, continued to pour into the executive office here today. The state banking board at its meeting yesterday failed to agree on the selection of a superintendent.

October 26—Washington State college at Portland.

November 2—University of Portland at Corvallis.

November 9—University of Oregon at Eugene.

November 16—University of Idaho at Corvallis.

November 23—University of Montana at Missoula.

November 28—University of Nebraska at Lincoln.

BOY SCOUTS BACK WITH MANY TALES OF EASTERN TRIP

life, and it is the opinion of many of the parents that they saw so much that not all of it will ever be told. The boys were unanimous, however, in their statement that they were glad to be back.

They arrived in San Francisco from Chicago yesterday morning, and were the all-day guests of the Standard Oil company in that city. They visited all of the points of interest including the new bridge, the Presidio, Golden Gate park, the zoo and other spots, before entraining last night for home.

Those who made the trip were four executives, headed by A. O. Soderberg, and including Frank Hull, Richard Roberts and Ivan Tucker; the boys from Medford arriving today were Richard Schuchard, Walter Kresse, Jr., Chris Barker, Billy Holloway, Larry Schade, Jr., Donald Price, Bob Nixon, Jerry Vawter, Reed Cox, Irwin Doty, Jack Heyland and Bob Gail.

Others included Dale Throckmorton, Eagle Point; Gage Sanden, Jacksonville; LaVern Dalkeberg and George Bibby, Ashland; James Weeks and Douglas Burk, Dunsmuir; Warren Bayliss, Gordon Alphonse, Edward Warren, Robert Horde, and Wayne Baumgartner, Hill; Robert Millin and Jack Martin, Gold Hill; Howland Grover, Glen Mitchell and George Lewis of Grants Pass; John Harding and Milton McAuley of Klamath Falls and Norman Lorenzen of Mt. Shasta City, California.

Many of the boys will speak before service clubs in the city during the next few weeks, as will the company leaders.

Amid wild scenes, a band of nearly 300 self-styled vigilantes, starting from Santa Rosa, Calif., tarred and feathered two men and beat three others and warned them to leave Sonoma county within the day because of asserted radical agitation. KINGFISH A CHUMP DECLARES M'NARY

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 29—(AP)—Senator Charles L. McNary, the Republican leader, said today that Senator Huey Long failed to hurt the Roosevelt administration, but made a chump out of himself by his filibuster the night congress adjourned.

Senator McNary, who arrived here this morning, and then drove with his wife to their farm near Salem, said the Louisiana "kingfish" played right into the hands of the administration and hurt himself throughout the country by the filibuster which prevented appropriations of funds for aged and needy.

"Huey Long made a chump out of himself and will feel the effect of what he has done," Senator McNary stated. "Holding up the security legislation hurt him immeasurably. It is another case of a man who is brilliant but foolish."

Does your kitchen date from the HORSE and BUGGY DAYS?
Back in the horse and buggy days, kitchens were unsightly places of toil... coal burning ranges and the old-fashioned sink which gave forth hot water only when there was a fire in the range. Electricity has changed all that with automatic ranges, gleaming refrigerators, and a constant supply of hot water from the automatic water heater. An all-electric kitchen will banish drudgery from your home forever. Be modern and acquire YOURS now! A National Housing Act loan will help you!
