

GRID GIANTS OUT OF TROY LINEUP DECLARES JONES

Too Many Men On Squad Last Year That Couldn't Carry Weight—Line Will Be Given Main Attention

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 4.—(AP) Grid giants are out at the University of Southern California this year.

That was the emphatic announcement of Coach Howard Jones today as he looked over the task of salting the 1935 season's wreckage material for the coming season.

"We had too many men on the team last year," said Troy, a head man early, "who couldn't handle their weight. If I wasn't convinced before I am now, that size doesn't determine strength of a football player.

"Of course, a big man who can handle himself is all right but they are scarce, while we saw plenty of players weighing 175 to 180 pounds last year who could put a 200 pounder out of the play."

So the order has gone out from the Trojan grid battlements to reduce and the incoming reports are favorable to Coach Jones.

Troy's mentor plans no drastic changes in his football setup to bring his team back into its winning stride. He is going to give the line, which was so weak last year, concentrated personal attention, convinced that if the forwards function properly both the offense and defense will pretty well take care of itself.

"Open up the offense and throw laterals? Sure," he said, "if we can find players capable of handling them. But my team is not going to throw the ball around a lot because it is the popular thing to do and have the passes fail.

"Ambition on the part of the players is our element of hope."

CAMPBELL FINDS TIMING BLUNDER, MADE 301 M.P.H.

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Sir Malcolm Campbell, England's ruler of the world of land speed, was headed home today, happy that a lifetime dream of being the first to drive an automobile 300 miles an hour had been fulfilled.

At the same time one of the most colossal blunders in the history of speed timing had been written into the records.

Hours after the 50-year-old British sportsman had sent his mechanical behemoth roaring over the snow-white salt beds, ringed by Utah's western mountains, the contest board of the American Automobile Association announced an error had been made in the computation of his speed. A mis-read figure on the timing tape brought about the error. Instead of the 299.875 miles per hour speed Sir Malcolm had been officially credited with, it was discovered he had made a two-way run over a measured mile for an average of 301.1292 miles an hour.

Association officials rechecking the timing of the speed runs made the startling discovery that Campbell had actually achieved his goal a mile in 12 seconds or less.

SCIENCE, STRENGTH MATCHED IN MAIN EVENT TOMORROW

What the fans have been waiting for another appearance of Toots Estes of Honolulu—is lined up for the main event of the grappling card tomorrow night at the Armory, when the popular, speedy islander meets Rocky Brooks, Canadian wrestler who is famous for his strength.

The question of whether muscle is better than speed will be decided when these two big-time grapplers get together, and the fans are wondering how the flashy Hawaiian champion will look when he's up against a man who is said to be able to walk up a ladder with a piano strapped across his back.

If Estes pulls the same type of mat wizardry that he flashed last week in whipping Pete Belcastro, coast junior heavyweight champion, the Canadian strongman will at least have a busy evening. The clean-cut Honolulu chap will be outweighed 15 or 20 pounds by the northerner, but figure that he can make up the difference by using some of the freak holds with which he wowed the populace last week, such as his spectacular albatross flying tackle.

Joe Hubka of Nebraska and Danny Savich of Salt Lake City, who also went over decidedly in his initial bout here last week, will meet to decide which is the better wrestler in the other half of the main event.

Savich, who has twice been given honorable mention for all-American football teams and is one of the best gridzeters ever turned out of the University of Utah, defeated Hubka in Portland recently, and Hubka's win last week put them on a par. Both are determined to come out on top, with a grudge element entering the bout as a result of the close, hard content last week.

Bob Kennaston, persistent challenger from the Marines, will grapple at last when he tangles in the 20-minute opener with Toy Aho, Finnish gripster from Portland.

INDIANS DEFEAT PORTLAND, 4 TO 2

(By the Associated Press)
Manager Jack Lovell of the Los Angeles Angels can thank his second baseman, Carl Dittmar, for at least a temporary halt in a long slippery slide toward the Coast League cellar.

It was the ninth inning yesterday when the Angels were ahead, 8 to 7. The Missions had scored one run and had the tying and winning tallies on base. Mike Frankovich lashed out a drive over second that looked like a sure hit until Dittmar reared over to nab the ball for the last out.

Sacramento continued its halting rampage to defeat the Oaks, 13 to 2, six straight times.

Dick Barrett turned in his 30th victory of the season for the Seattle Indians, doing out seven well scattered hits as the Indians defeated the Portland Beavers, 4 to 2.

Because of the Missions' defeat, the San Francisco Seals added half a game to their league leadership without hitting a bat. Their game with Hollywood was postponed while the Stars traveled south from Portland.

P. A. T. QUALIFYING OPENS TOMORROW

Pro Jack Hueston announced today that qualifying rounds for the annual P. A. T. tournament at Rogue Valley golf course will open tomorrow, extending through Sunday. As many as want to enter are urged to do so, as it will be a handicap affair, promising everyone an equal chance at the trophy.

All handicaps will be readjusted according to results of the qualifying rounds before the match play starts. Leland Clark, title defender in the P. A. T. tournament, and runner-up in the Southern Oregon championship, will be on hand to attempt to re-win the cup.

2 SCHOOLS SHOW ATTENDANCE GAIN

In the only two rural districts, to report unofficially, increase in attendance at schools is shown, according to the county school superintendent's office.

Griffin Creek school which opened yesterday, had a first day's attendance of 91, a gain of 16 over last year.

Lone Pine school, with a new addition, found an overcrowded attendance on its first day, with 85 pupils where 67 were enrolled last year.

Mrs. Inch, rural supervisor attributes most of the gain in these two districts, to the coming of new families. She states that some of the rural districts will show a decline in pupils.

MARY M. BOWERS DIES IN MURPHY DISTRICT

GRANTS PASS, Sept. 4.—(Sp.)—Mary Margaret Bowers, 52, died at the home of her son-in-law, George Wolgamott, on the Murphy road Monday morning. She had been falling ill in health for some time.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Hull and Hull funeral home. Interment at the Odd Fellows cemetery, Medford.

Mrs. Bowers lived here for 15 years, after living for many years in Jackson county where she taught school. She was born November 13, 1842.

She is survived by her son-in-law and by two nephews and one niece.

KEYS OF FLORIDA FEEL FULL FORCE OF TROPIC STORM

rubbing supplies to the areas of death and wreckage and in evacuating the debris-littered keys.

The heaviest loss of life, rescuers reported, was on upper and lower Matecumbe keys and in the fishing villages along plantations Key and Key Largo.

Camps Demolished
Two of the three government camps on the Matecumbe keys, where war veterans are engaged in building a highway down the keys to Key West, were reported completely demolished.

A rescue party out of Miami, led by Jack Combs, an undertaker assigned to organize identification of the dead, reported between 400 and 500 persons were killed in this area.

Many of those who died on Matecumbe key were crushed in the collapse of the Snake Creek hotel, which was being used as a hospital at the camp.

Among these was Dr. E. C. Main, medical director of the camp.

The word of Dr. Main's death was brought to the mainland by Dr. Lasser Alexander, a medical examiner at the camp who escaped death in the collapse of the hotel.

Horror Described
Graphically, Dr. Alexander described the Monday night of horror: "I was at Snake Creek hotel, which was used as a hospital. This collapsed about 10 p. m., with many persons under the ruins. There were about 40 patients in this building, about half of them women and children. Out of this number, there were only seven men and three or four of the women saved.

"When the building toppled over, I was able to walk out through a hole in the wall into about three or four feet of water filled with floating timbers and debris. The wind was about 50 or 60 miles an hour and carried flying timbers that caused most of the casualties.

"When we found the water still rising, we made our way to the railroad track. We dug holes into the earth under the cross ties so we could protect our heads from the flying debris. This was the only way we could keep our brains from being crushed out. We stayed on the railroad track until 3 a. m. (Tuesday) as that was the only place above the water.

"At daybreak Tuesday, we found a tank car full of water which offered refuge."

Ald. B. Injured
Coffee was made for the ill and injured, Dr. Alexander said. In the afternoon Buck Wright, one of the men at the camp, evidently, and several others who had row boats took Dr. Alexander and the other survivors across Snake creek, separating Matecumbe key from Largo key, one at a time. From there, they were brought to Miami in rescue trucks.

An Associated Press correspondent in Miami, who flew over the devastated keys area, reported: "Below Tavernier to the Vaca keys, in the region that bore the brunt of the tropical hurricane, almost nothing man-made remains. Nothing is whole, undamaged.

"Houses are twisted piles of matchwood. Boats are piled high on dry land, shattered and twisted.

"Tee for Two" on Valley Course

The skipper at the left is Everett Conway, the celebrated one-armed trap drummer and director of the circus band. These two fellows play a mighty fine game of golf, playing the course in the 80s for 18 holes.

They are circus people, trained to perfection.

The Hillah Shrine Patrol Circus features 26 acts of high-class entertainment. The performers are masters in their line, and have been assembled from the largest circuses in the country from such countries as the United States, Cuba, Mexico and South America.

There will be a performance every night this week until Saturday night, the closing night. A special matinee will take place on Saturday afternoon, September 7. The show starts promptly at 8 p. m. every night.

TRAVELING SCOUTS IN ORGANIZATION

To perpetuate the friendships and activities of the 35 Boy Scouts of Crater Lake council, who recently completed a tour of the nation, is the purpose of a permanent organization comprising all members of the group that was formed during the trip.

The organization, which has a closed membership and will meet once each year to review the tour and carry out plans to help other scouts go to camp, was organized at Washington, D. C., when the group met with Frank Farrell, city attorney, who has been in the capital city on business for the past few weeks.

You gross more money with a FORD V-8 TRUCK and a bigger percentage is clear profit

THE moment you buy it, the Ford V-8 truck begins to save you money, because it will do more work—haul more tons at less cost. Its notably low fixed costs and its marked economy of operation and maintenance combine to reduce ton-mile haulage costs. Its new forward load distribution permits carrying more pay-load ahead of the rear axle. This results in longer tire and brake life—less body and chassis strain—more room in the cab.

We are ready to prove the ability as well as the economy of the 58 h. p. Ford V-8 truck. We will furnish the truck—even the gas and oil. You test it with your loads on your routes with your driver and check the results. There is no obligation. There are no strings to this offer—your sound business judgment will be our reward.
