ESTES WINS RIGHT TO MEET PETE BY TOPPLING BROOKS

Like a Florida Keys hurricane, Toots Estes, flashy champion of the Hawaiian islands, proved in 12 minutes last night at the armory by defeating Strongman Rocky Brooks of Canada in two straight falls, that he is the man who will meet Pete Belcastro, junior heavyweight champion of the Pacific coast, in a title bout here next Thursday night.

After his spectacular performance, which completely outshone any other on the card, and made the celebrated muscleman from Victoria look like a rag doll, the speedy islander agreed to meet Belcastro with both belts at stake. If Pete breaks the agreement he will forfeit $100 that he promised to post with The Mail Tribune as soon as he returns from Weed.

Not satisfied with using his great strength, with which he claims to be able to lift pianos, break nails, and outpull six men with a rope fastened around his neck, Brooks resorted to foul play that soon set off the fireworks. Rocky broke out of [illegible] holds by sheer muscle, but the Hawaiian wrestler wowed the [illegible] with a spectacular "airplane" [illegible] through the ropes that [illegible] the tattooed Canadian in [illegible] minutes for the first fall.

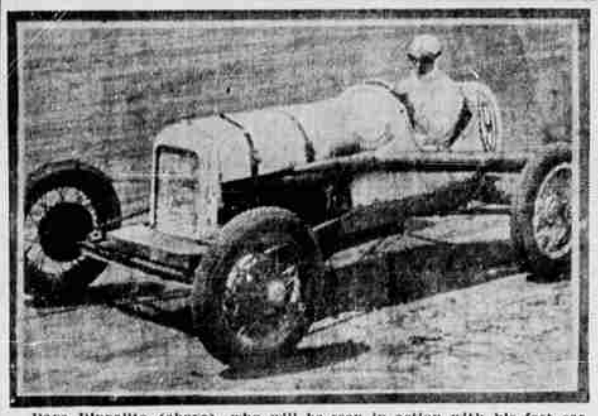
Estes, who weighed in at [illegible], [illegible] of [illegible] pounds, [illegible] with [illegible] [illegible]. [illegible] in four minutes for the [illegible] with a [illegible] to the [illegible] double [illegible].

[illegible] of the University of [illegible] [illegible] to a draw in the [illegible] of the main event, both [illegible] up [illegible] controlling [illegible] such [illegible] that it got on the fans' nerves. [illegible] took one fall in 21 minutes with a [illegible] swing, and [illegible] won the other in 31 minutes by breaking [illegible] of a body [illegible] and using the Cornhusker's own legs as a [illegible] device.

Bob (Challenger) Kenneston of the [illegible] proved that he is a big [illegible] by pinning diminutive Toy [illegible] of Portland with a combination [illegible] and arm lock to win the opening match. Kenneston, who outweighed the 170-pound [illegible] by [illegible] pounds, gave Toy a terrific beating until [illegible] convinced him that he was master of the situation. [illegible] from the [illegible], the Challenger was up to his old tricks and popped into the ring after the bout to tell the world that he would wrestle anyone.

Vi Brock, popular timekeeper who has been absent for some time, due to serious injuries received in an auto accident, was back in his place with hammer and gong.

Will Race at Grants Pass



Dave Dippalito (above), who will be seen in action with his fast car at the Grants Pass track next week. The car is the same one in which the colorful driver figured in an eight-car crackup at Portland recently. The machine, now completely overhauled, is said to be faster than ever. Dippalito is a colorful driver, favoring the pole position with two wheels generally hung over the bank. He occasionally follows them over.

AUTO AND CYCLE DRIVERS TO VIE AT G. PASS FAIR

Bobby Rowe, Portland auto and motorcycle racing promoter, was a Medford visitor during the week and stated that there was some possibility that he will attempt to bring his crew of racers to this city some time during the fall or next summer. He was in southern Oregon making arrangements for races at Grants Pass, to be held in connection with the Josephine county fair, September 13, 14 and 15.

He inspected the track at the fair grounds here, and stated that, while longer than the average track now in use, it looked fast, and in good repair could accommodate speeds up to 100 miles an hour. The Grants Pass track is also fast, he said, but, being smaller, the top speed would probably be around 80 miles an hour.

Auto racing has changed vastly in the few years since racing was held here, Rowe stated. Then the drivers depended a great deal upon the bank of the turns for their speed, but now they slide their tiny machines around at high speed, apparently caring little whether they get killed or not. In a recent dash at Portland, eight cars figured in one smashup, two of the drivers who will compete at Grants Pass being seriously injured. They were Ray Chase of Portland and Dave Dippalito, Seattle. Both are now fully recovered, however.

The trip to Grants Pass is a "feeler" into southern Oregon, Rowe admitted, and stated that the size of the crowd will regulate future racing in this part of the state, as far as his team of drivers is concerned.

The drivers, most of them driving cars owned by the Owners' Association, compete for points in each race, with a possibility of 510 points in each meet. At the end of the season, the winning driver receives a $500 cash award, a large cup and a chance to compete in the Ascot finals to see who represents the coast at Indianapolis. Mel Kennedy is now leading with 5,610 points, followed closely by Jimmy Wilburn with 5,360. Both will compete in the Climate City.

Auto races will be held on Friday, the 13th, an excellent day for mishaps one might think. On Saturday, the motorcycles will compete, with autos again on Sunday. A large crowd of Medford fans who haven't had a chance to smell burning castor oil since the days when Frank Lockhart, Babe Stapp, Pete DePalo, Ralph DePalma, Eddie Hearn and others threw dust on the Medford track, are planning on being at the meet next week.

Performing Dogs in Circus Here

Strutting their stuff with an aristocratic air are these members of the Ray Wheeler troupe of performing dogs, one of the features of the Polack Bros. Circus which has been showing all week under the auspices of Hillah Shrine Patrol, at the Jackson county fairgrounds. The circus has been pronounced by the public of Medford as one of the finest amusements of its kind ever to be offered in this city.

Medford youngsters will go to bed this evening with the eager anticipation of the Saturday afternoon special matinee arranged essentially for the children but to which everyone is invited, of the Shrine circus which has been exhibiting all week at the Jackson county fairgrounds.

Throughout the week the Shrine circus has been thrilling the elders and now the children will have their show, with circus acts specially arranged for them. The price of admission has been reduced for the children for the matinee. Clown numbers are to be in charge of that adept clown and contortionist, Rue Enos, who will most certainly thrill the kiddies with his body twists, as he has all the audiences which have seen him during the week. The animal act is under the direction of Ray Wheeler, who will present his trained dogs.

Besides the animal act, there will be presented at the children's matinee performance, aerial acts, wire artists and novelty numbers found only under the big top of the largest outdoor circuses.

There will be two more evening performances of the Shrine Circus tonight and Saturday night, with the grand award after the show on the final night. Doors for the evening performance open at 7 o'clock and the show starts at 8, and at the matinee 1 o'clock, with the show starting at 2.

CATALINA CHANNEL DEFEATS SWIMMER

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Sept. 6.—(UP)—Exhaustion last night forced Paul Chotteau, French violin playing distance swimmer, to give up his fourth attempt to span the 22-mile Catalina channel three miles from land.

The rotund conqueror of the English channel was taken from the water at 5:02 p. m. as he began floundering and signaled for a physician from one of the convoy boats to come to him. Chotteau was taken from the water and rushed to a Santa Monica hospital for a medical examination.

The Frenchman, coated with heavy grease to keep him warm, dove into the Pacific at 4:37 p. m. Wednesday at Cherry Cove, near Santa Catalina island isthmus.

He swam steadily and apparently with little effort throughout the night, while the 135-foot yacht Mariner followed a few dozen feet behind.

At noon Thursday he had progressed 20 miles and was confident he would be successful.

A late afternoon tide began sweeping Chotteau south of his scheduled destination, Santa Monica pier. After fighting the current for several hours he gave up the swim.

Rain Postpones Tennis Classic

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 6—(AP)—For the fourth successive day, rain forced postponement of play in the national singles tennis championships.

Officials, harrassed by the steady downpour, hope now to complete the tournament by Wednesday.

Iowa Blue Grass Abundant.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia. — (UP) — Machines and hand tools are busy in every section of southwestern Iowa, stripping bluegrass seed from fields which were drouth-seared in 1934. Seed companies have sent crews into the area and government estimates place the seed yield at five times that of 1934.

FIELD OF SIXTY AFTER P. T. A. CUP

Judging from advance entrants in the qualifying rounds of the annual P. A. T. tournament at Rogue Valley course, there will be a field of approximately 60 players when the match competition starts next week, Pro Jack Hueston announced this morning. All wishing to enter are urged to qualify before Sunday night.

Caddies of the golf club were competing today in the annual caddies' tournament, with Alva Merritt, Lowell Bingam and Shorty Murphy outstanding in a field of a score of club carriers. Ray Offord, winner last year, is not among the contestants in the current tourney.

Forest Creek

FOREST CREEK, Sept. 6.—(Spl.)—School opened here September 3, with six children, under the direction of Mrs. Alice O'Byrne of Talent. Pending the arrival of her sister, Mrs. O'Byrne is staying with Mrs. Emma Moore on the old Bowden place.

Leslie and Theron Boyd of Los Angeles vicinity have moved with their father, Ernest Boyd, into a cabin on the Pearce place, and are cutting wood.

Mrs. Ivan Davies and children, Patsy and Louvelle, visited at the home of Mrs. James Davies Tuesday, the children remaining for a few days' visit.

Paul and George Pearce have returned to work at the Sterling mine.

Mrs. Alice O'Byrne attended the Applegate Grange barbecue and Labor day celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hill of Phoenix and Isabell Black were Sunday visitors at the Lee Black home.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pearce and family enjoyed a swimming party at Jackson Hot Springs Saturday.

Mr. James Davies went to Medford last week where he will be under a doctor's care for a short time.

Two men from the Applegate CCC camp were stationed last week on the Mt. Isabell emergency lookout for the remainder of the fire season. John Black makes a bi-weekly trip with water for the men.

Donald and Lottie Jean Hill of Phoenix, who have spent the past few weeks at the home of their grandfather, Lee Black, returned home September 5.

Miss Grace Pearce, who spent the summer visiting relatives here, returned to Klamath Falls, where she will substitute for a friend in the public schools there a few weeks.

The severe wind and rainstorm which swept the Applegate valley August 28 left this creek practically undisturbed except for a moderate three-hour rain.

Long Mountain

LONG MOUNTAIN, Sept. 6.—(Spl.) Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Lawson spent Sunday at the Townsend picnic in the Shady Cove park.

Mr. Holcomb of the Holcomb Springs was an overnight visitor at the George Stowell home Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Holcomb and Mr. and Mrs. Stowell also enjoyed the Townsend picnic.

Miss Irene Stowell is spending several days in Eagle Point, visiting friends.

Mrs. Julia Stinson of Medford is spending several days at the Holman home.

Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth Stowell and daughter Bonnie Jean, and Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Mongold spent Sunday at the 4-L picnic which was held at the Elks' picnic grounds on Rogue river.

Mrs. Lily Cingcade spent Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. M. L. Pruitt and Mrs. Woods, who is staying at the Pruitt home.

Mrs. Tom Stanley spent Monday at the M. L. Pruitt home.

The Long Mountain school opened September 2 with four pupils, Miss Moller as teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Holman returned home Wednesday from a several days' trip, taking in the rodeo at Lakeview September 2 and coming back by way of Paisley and Summer lake and through the sagebrush country. They passed the ZX ranch, where they counted about 200 haystacks. Twenty mowers were busy cutting more hay, and acres and acres of bunched hay were ready for stacking. Thousands of stock cattle are fed there in the winters. They spent Tuesday night with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller in Fort Klamath, coming home by way of Crater Lake and Diamond lake Wednesday.

SCHUMANN-HEINK SIGNS FOR FILMS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 6. — (UP) — Just a week after the newly formed Pickford-Lasky film organization announced one of its leading stars would be Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink, the elderly singer signed a three-year contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Lasky's statement was hardly on the wires when Levee packed his bags and caught an airliner for Chicago, a three-year contract in his pocket.

He met the diva in Chicago, got her signature on the dotted line and caught the return plane just as Lasky was dismounting in the midwestern city, intending to sign the singer.

WOMEN SWIMMERS SET NEW RECORDS

LONG BEACH, Calif., Sept. 6.—(UP)—Two world's records for women were set here last night by Washington Athletic club swimmers in an exhibition meet preliminary to the far western A. A. U. championships to be held in Los Angeles Saturday.

Mary Lou Petty swam the 200-meter free style in 2:32.2 to break Helene Madison's mark of 2:34.3. Bea Lenon of the Los Angeles Athletic club finished second.

The Washington Athletic club relay team, composed of Betty Lea, Doris Buckley, Olive McKean and Miss Petty broke their own 200-yard free style relay mark when they defeated a Los Angeles Athletic club team in 1:52.6. Their old mark was 1:55.3.

Strip Golfers Don Excess Clothing To Spare Blushes

SILVERTON, Ore., Sept. 6. — (UP)—Ladies of Silverton Country club played their long-publicized "strip" golf tournament Thursday followed by a small gallery grumbling because of their excessive modesty.

Each fair golfer wore enough extra dresses, coats, stockings and unmentionables to have lost 36 holes straight and still remain well clothed, one fan complained.

They played only nine holes and not a single blush appeared.

Fourteen women entered. Heaviest loser was Mrs. Ralph Bityeu, who stripped of six layers when she lost six straight holes to Mrs. Frank Syring, class B victor. Mrs. Alfred Adams and Mrs. Robert Goetz removed four articles of clothing from their opponents, tying for the class A strip title.
