Wilmot Honored
By Farewell Parties
Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Wilmot, who are leaving tomorrow for Corvallis, where they will take up their permanent residence, have been honored at many lovely affairs given them by their friends here.

By way of saying farewell, Dr. and Mrs. I. H. Gove entertained, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Gove entertained, in honor of the Wilmots with a dinner party Sunday evening at their summer home on Wagner creek. Covers were laid for eighteen guests. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Baird, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Curry, Mr. and Mrs. David Good, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Ray, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hemstreet, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Hon, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Eads, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Wilmot and the host and hostess.

Mrs. Jack Hemstreet was hostess Monday afternoon to Mrs. Wilmot and members of the executive missionary committee. Each guest brought a glass of jelly in a flowerette, which was presented to the honor guest, Mrs. Wilmot. Mrs. Everett Eads assisted the hostess in serving.

Mrs. Herbert Berrian, of San Bernardino, was an out of town guest at the affair.

Town Club Plans
Farewell Dance
Members of the Town Club are planning a dance to be held at the clubhouse Saturday night. It will be in the nature of a farewell party honoring Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Williamson who are leaving shortly to make their home in Haeberg. In all probability the affair will be one of the largest gatherings of the waning summer season, as both Lloyd and Margaret Williamson have a host of friends.

Departing Students
Guests at Luncheon
Miss Betty Vilim was hostess yesterday afternoon at a dessert bridge to a group of friends who will be leaving soon for various schools and colleges. Guests were Misses Betty Ann Thornby, who will attend O. S. C.; Pat Young and Virginia Lindley, who will also study at Corvallis; Faylla Phyllis, who will be a student at Willamette; Margaret Mary Mann, who is leaving tomorrow night for Mills college; and Amy Elliot, who will enroll in the University of Oregon.

Officers of Eastern
Star to Give Program
At the regular meeting of Reames chapter, O. E. S., officers of the chapter will present an unusually interesting program. One feature will be an exposition of selections from Oregon literature, which will be presented by Mrs. One.

Kathryn Larison and Mary Ann Gates will be vocal soloists. Refreshments will be served after the program.

St. Mark's Guild
Holds Autumn Meeting
St. Mark's Guild will hold its first meeting of the autumn season at the parish hall next Friday with a one o'clock cafeteria luncheon, and at this gathering plans will be formulated for the fall activities. A good attendance is desired. Mrs. M. M. Herman will be chairman of the luncheon hour.

Daughters of Nile
Will Meet Saturday
Zulema Temple, Daughters of the Nile, will meet in the Masonic Temple at Grants Pass Saturday. Luncheon will be served at the Cave Shop reception to be given at the supreme queen, who will pay an official visit to Grants Pass September 26.

Leavertons Have
Montana Visitors
Mr. and Mrs. Claud Leaverton of Columbus, Mont., are house guests at the home of Mr. Leaverton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Leaverton. Mrs. Augusta McCormick, of Ashland, is also visiting at the Leaverton home.

California Guest
At Sparrow Home
Miss Carlina Sheridan, of Santa Barbara, arrived on the Shasta this morning to be a guest of Miss Harriet Sparrow for two weeks at Kirtland Farm, home of Mrs. Alex Sparrow.

Chrysanthemum
Meeting Postponed
The meeting of the Chrysanthemum thimble club, which was to have been held tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ernest Belden, has been postponed until September 26.

LOUISIANA PLANS IMPRESSIVE RITES FOR DEAD LEADER

Senator Long's country-wide "share-no-wealth" movement. The clergyman was close by when Dr. Carl A. Weiss, Jr. Baton Rouge physician, mortally wounded the senator and was riddled with bullets by Long's bodyguards.

A site on the capitol grounds for the burial place will be selected by a committee of the legislature. This was the final day of a special legislative session called to act on bills presented to it at the senator's bidding before he was shot down.

None but members of Senator Long's family and close friends were permitted to view the body before it was removed under a heavy guard of state police from a funeral home to the capitol.

Plan Impressive Rites
Long's associates planned to make his funeral one of the most impressive in Louisiana's history.

Arrangements were in the hands of the senator's closest friends, headed by Governor Allen, to whom the Long leaders have turned for temporary leadership in the crisis brought on by the assassination.

In Washington, Senators Caraway of Arkansas, Overton of Louisiana, Thomas of Oklahoma and Schall of Minnesota were named to represent their colleagues at the funeral.

Hundreds of persons poured into Baton Rouge, taking hotels and private dwellings to accommodate the throngs.

Politicians Speculate
The sense of shock that gripped the city on first news of the shooting and held it in somber silence after the death of Senator Long yesterday gave way to a subdued flurry of speculation over that would become of the all-powerful Long state political machine.

Whether Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley of New Orleans, Long's bitterest political foe, or the square deal association, anti-Long organization with which his troops clashed on the streets of Baton Rouge last January, or others would come into power and break the Long machine entered the speculation.

The fate of the "share-no-wealth" movement, which Long built to nation-wide proportions and hoped to use as a stepping stone to the presidency of the United States, also was considered uncertain. Leaders here announced Governor Allen would direct its activities; others predicted that without Long it would break up.

Responsibility Unfixed
The inquest called to establish the cause of Senator Long's death resulted in a verdict from the East Baton Rouge parish coroner's jury that he "came to his death from gunshot wounds of a homicidal character. As is customary in Louisiana, the verdict did not fix responsibility for the act.

Inability to round up the bodyguards, who pumped their guns into Dr. Weiss until they had riddled him with sixty-one bullet holes forced postponement until next week of the inquest into the eye specialist's death. The general impression among officials was that the bodyguards would be absolved.

Sponsored jointly by the Craterian theater and the Mail Tribune, the contest held considerable interest as the 40 contestants were eliminated over a period of two weeks, and the final last night drew exceptionally large crowds. Each contestant was required to learn and dance "The Dance of the Stars" with Gene LaVerne, its creator.

PLAN OPEN HOUSE
LONE PINE FRIDAY
An "open house" will be held at the Lone Pine school Friday. Defying all superstition the patrons and the public are invited to attend and view the new building with its many improvements.

A short program will be held at the close of the evening which includes several prominent school people of Jackson county and of the state. Invited guests are E. H. Hedrick, superintendent of Medford schools; C. R. Bowman, county superintendent of schools; Mrs. Una B. Inch, rural supervisor of county schools; and Dr. Walter Bedford, president of Southern Oregon Normal school.

REDS' BATTING ACE
SOLD TO DODGERS
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—(UP)—The Pacific Coast league had unofficially lost its leading hitter and one of its most consistent pitchers today when Mission team officials announced they had sold Oscar Eckhardt, Texas slugger, and Wayne Osborne, right-hand hurler, to the National league Brooklyn Dodgers on option.

Meanwhile, Charlie Graham, manager of the San Francisco Seals, confirmed the New York Yankees' acceptance of their option on Joe DiMaggio, who has dogged Eckhardt's footsteps for top batting honors in the league throughout the season.

Eckhardt's transfer to the Dodgers will constitute his fourth tryout in the big leagues.

THIRD QUARTER TAX
PAYMENTS ARE BRISK
Third quarter tax payments are due on or before next Sunday, September 15. According to the tax collection department of the sheriff's office, remittances are coming in briskly both by mail and in person. None of the large payments have been received, but they are scheduled to arrive the end of the week. Unless the third quarter payments are made, the taxpayer loses the two per cent rebate, which expires with the third quarter. Tax remittances this year, according to Sheriff Syd L. Brown have been the best in five years.

FOUNDER OF FAMOUS
ALASKAN PAPER DIES
YAKIMA, Wash., Sept. 11.—(UP)—Pioneers of the roaring days of the Klondike gold rush talked mournfully of old times in the northland last night for George M. Allen was dead. He died at 89 in a hospital at the little town of Tappanish, where he published a weekly newspaper for 25 years, far away from the violent, glamorous Yukon country.

In 1898 Allen, with his brother, Gene, young printers, packed a press and a few cases of type on a north-bound steamer at Seattle, unloaded at Skagway with a mad, hysterical mob of gold seekers.

They packed their equipment on their backs and by dog sled over White Pass to the waters of the Yukon river, floated it down on a raft to the boom town of Dawson.

Word was received here today of the death Monday in Beverly Hills, Cal., of Edward Soutter, member of a pioneer southern Oregon family, who leaves a wide circle of acquaintances in this vicinity. He was a long-time resident of Medford, and was active in the Medford Elks lodge and as a member of St. Mark's church.

Funeral services were scheduled to have been held this morning at Beverly Hills.

RESERVE OFFICERS TO
BANQUET ON THURSDAY
Capt. Carl Tengwald of Co. A, 126th Infantry, announced today that supplementing the first fall meeting of Reserve Officers of this district, a dinner will be held tomorrow evening at 6:15 at Hotel Medford.

Those in charge are anxious to learn the number planning to attend and will appreciate reservations being made with Lieut. Harold Woods of Woods Lumber Co.

STATE AERONAUTICS
INSPECTOR TO QUIT
PORTLAND, Sept. 11.—(UP)—Major Howard C. French today confirmed reports of his retirement as inspector of state aeronautics. The new state aeronautics board probably will appoint his successor as the next meeting, Saturday and Sunday in Pendleton. French served since November, 1931.

Huey Satisfied With Dub Rating On Golf Course

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—(AP)

Huey Long was one golfer who never aspired to "break 90."

The Louisiana senator argued that when a player became that good, golf took first place and business second in his thoughts.

Although he liked the game he insisted he played it more for exercise than sport. He seldom cracked a hundred.

His greatest sport enthusiasm, however, was football. And tops in his heart was the football team of Louisiana university, "my own" college, as he called it.

ROBINSON CASE FIRST
WHEN COURT RESUMES HERE IN COMING WEEK
Resumption of circuit court here is scheduled for next week, with the damage suit of Robertson Robinson, 15, against Fire Chief Roy Elliott and Fireman Ed Kanose, for $50,000 first on the list of cases to be heard.

Circuit Judge H. D. Norton has completed a term of court at Grants Pass, and returned here. He is reported to be slightly indisposed.

Robinson seeks the $50,000 damages, for injuries received, which necessitated amputation of one of his legs, during a fire on the evening of August 3, 1934 in the Hotel Medford. His leg was caught in the sight of hose the fire truck was unrolling. The plaintiff charges the injury was due to alleged carelessness and negligence on the part of the defendants.

The defense filed a counter charge of contributory negligence on the part of Robinson, alleging he failed to seek a place of safety when the fire struck by his bicycle in front of the hotel, when the vehicle was struck by the hose, and he sustained injuries.

The defendants further set forth that they were engaged in the performance of their duty as agents of the city of Medford. In an amended answer, they cite that Robinson, through his guardian, upon the payment of $10,000 signed release of the city from all liability.

IRON WORKS SOLD
TO JOSEPH GLATH
Joseph E. Glath, manager for the past several years in iron works shops, including the Dallas Machinery and Locomotive company at Dallas, Oregon; the Salem Iron Works, and the Klamath Falls Machinery and Locomotive Works in Klamath Falls, announced today that he has completed negotiations to purchase the Medford Iron Works, 1155 North Central street, and will take possession immediately.

For several years he has been anxious to purchase the Medford plant, he stated. Before deciding on this city, he considered buying a business in Groville, California, but high summer temperatures in that district discouraged him, he said. He considers Medford an ideal spot, both for a home, and a business, and his wife and daughter will join him here from Klamath Falls Monday.

Work will start immediately in repairing the plant, and installing heavy machinery, so that repair of sawmill and milling machinery can start as soon as possible.

FEW BOYS IN BLUE REMAIN TO MARCH

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Jan. 11.—(AP)—The "boys in blue" marched again here today.

Not less than half of the 450 civil war veterans here for the national G. A. R. encampment tramped the full three-quarter mile parade route. A few "just as young as we ever were," capered and exchanged jokes with spectators who police said numbered 50,000. Those too infirm rode in automobiles.

Three army planes roared over the line of march, while confetti showered down on the veterans as they went through the business section.

Five states had just one marcher each—Virginia, Oregon, Tennessee, Montana and Texas. Maryland and Arkansas had banners but no marchers.

Business sessions began today. Tomorrow officers will be chosen.
