ing and that the tragedy followed a party at the farm house.

The death of the girl who popularized the song, "What Is This Thing Called Love" in the show "Fifty Million Frenchmen" in which she was co-featured with Betty Compton (Mrs. James J. Walker) was first reported as suicide.

Followed Quarrel, Rogers said there was an argument during the night and that the girl, who won Broadway prominence playing the lead in "Yours Truly" opposite Leon Errol, went upstairs alone.

"We heard a shot," Rogers said, "and when we ran upstairs we found her lying on the floor."

A single bullet had entered the left side of the 25-year-old girl's head, passed completely through and embedded itself in the wall.

At her feet police found a .45 calibre, pearl handled pistol. On the bed was an automatic covered with blood, and in a corner of the room was a sawed off shotgun.

Rogers, whose 29 years have been packed with adventure seeking, was taken to the Chester county prison. Chief of Police Chester Gilson and Detective Francis Grubb were the officers who said Rogers had been drinking.

Chauffeur Tells Police, Word of the Minneapolis-born actress' death came from Frank Catano, Rogers' chauffeur. He drove to nearby Guthrieville early today and said a suicide had taken place at the Indian Run farm of Rogers.

Catano first told his story to Dr. Thomas Richmond, and he declined to make the journey to the farm when his wife objected on the grounds that she disliked the reputation of the place.

It was then that Catano came here and notified Chief Gilson. While the police chief was awaiting the arrival of Deputy Coroner Harvey Cox, Rogers' attorney, Joseph Clark, rushed into the office and also reported a suicide at the farm.

When the party of police officials arrived at the Rogers place they found Rogers and a companion, William James Kelly of Union City, N. J., in little condition for questioning, due, the chief said, to intoxication.

Just Another Party, Detective Grubb remarked later that the events preceding the tragedy apparently were "just another party."

All the persons at the farm were fully clothed. Chief Gilson said he was told that Rogers, an hour before the shooting, had ripped the telephone from the wall. The fact that it was disconnected delayed notification of authorities about 45 minutes, he said.

There was evidence of much drink-

"Knox seems to be able to build up some sentiment for himself, but he has never been a national figure."

"Borah stands out by himself, a giant oak in a vast prairie... however, his age and physical condition eliminate him."

"London is just an ordinary Kansas governor."

"If Ogden Mills were nominated as necessary to defeat him would be a good Democratic slogan such as 'Mellon Time Has Come Again'."

"However," Holloman wrote, "Steiwer is a good pick. He is in the prime of life, of outstanding ability and personality that appeals."

"Within constitutional limitations."

Roosevelt Backs Hopkins Program For Work Relief less he regards it necessary to provide quick jobs under the works legislation of congress.

These quick jobs he apparently does not believe can be satisfied by the huge permanent undertakings under the care of Ickes, because of the length of time required to start them.

He is aiming at removing 3,500,000 persons from relief rolls to work by November and has set a dead line for applications under the new fund of September 15.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Belief that Secretary Ickes' eleventh hour appeal to President Roosevelt would result in some kind of a lump sum work relief allotment for PWA projects was expressed today by high officials.

The conference of the work relief high command with the president at Hyde Park on proposed fundamental changes in administering the $4,500,000,000 work relief appropriation coincided with today's final deadline for submitting applications of all kinds.

The total of PWA applications stood at more than $2,000,000,000, with several western towns still to be heard from, while the work progress application administration tallied up to more than $3,000,000,000.

What proportion of these would be rejected depended in large measure on today's deliberations.
