ASHLAND BOY DIES IN CAR CRASH

3 COMPANIONS IN DEATH CAR HURT IN DITCH PLUNGE

Everett Baughman, 17, Crushed Neath Auto—Driver Claims Forced From Highways By Truck—Party All High School Students.

Everett Harding Baughman, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Baughman of 110 Laurel street, Ashland, was instantly killed shortly before 8 o'clock last night when the car in which he was riding, a light coupe, was crowded from the highway one mile south of Phoenix and turned over, crushing young Baughman's skull, and throwing the other three occupants, Earl C. Neely, Route 1, Talent; Dorothy Mathis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Mathis of Talent, and Dorothy Borg of Talent, free and out of the auto.

Neely, who was driving the car from Ashland to Medford to spend the evening in this city, told state police officers that an approaching car had crowded him, and that he had lost control of the light coupe in the ditch alongside the road. With Neely in the front seat was the Borg girl, who was brought to the Medford Community hospital, and was last night suffering with a broken clavicle, bruise, laceration and several other injuries. Dorothy Mathis was riding in the rumble seat with Dorothy Mathis, who was also brought to the Community hospital here, suffering from head and knee injuries, bruises, lacerations and shock. Both were still unconscious last night.

Neely was taken to the Ashland Community hospital, where, besides a severely injured shoulder and bruise and cuts, he was suffering from strong mental shock.

All four were students of the Ashland high school and all were believed to be about 17 or 18 years of age.

State police arrived at the scene shortly after the accident, and gave artificial respiration to Baughman, but to no avail. The body was taken to the Dodge undertaking parlors in Ashland last night, where John Dodge, deputy coroner for Jackson county, stated that death had been instantaneous, due to a crushed skull. Dr. Harvey Woods of Ashland treated the injured shortly after the accident.

Police stated that none of the party had been drinking.

There is no description of the car that crowded the Baughman death car from the road, but residents of the district stated that at about the time the accident happened a car traveling at a high rate of speed, with high, glaring headlights, was seen. Since no description of the car was available, and since there were no witnesses to the wreck, state police were helpless in instigating a search for the machine last night.

IL DUCE REJECTS ANY COMPROMISE TO AVERT CLASH

Canada And Russia Voice L. Of N. Approval—Veiled Challenge To England Seen—Italy's Action Stirs.

(By the Associated Press)
The Italian cabinet in an official communique announced Saturday it would accept no compromise in its dispute with Ethiopia.

The communique also asserted Italy is prepared to meet "any measure from whatsoever direction it may come."

Other developments:
Geneva.—Delegates to the League of Nations assembly were stunned by word of the Italian communique. A number of nations, including Russia and Canada, pledged full support of the league.

London.—Socialist speakers warned workers in 17 cities against the danger of an "imperialist-capitalist war."

Paris.—French officials wondered how they could retain the friendship of Italy if economic and financial sanctions are invoked in an effort to prevent war.

GENEVA, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Word of Italy's rejection of any "compromise solution" in the Ethiopian dispute burst like a hand grenade in the assembly of the League of Nations.

The news came as an impressive procession of great and small powers, including Soviet Russia and the Dominion of Canada, proclaimed from the platform their fidelity to the league covenant.

Shortly afterward the Ethiopian delegation submitted a detailed answer to the charges contained in the Italian memorandum laid before the council last week by Baron Pompeo Aloisi.

The answer asserted that if conditions in Ethiopia were really evened in the favor of Italy as the Italian complaint asserted, foreign legations

HITLER PARADED AS NEW MAHOMET AT NAZI CONFAB

New German Religion With 'Mein Fuehrer' As God's Agents Loom—'Leave Us Alone' Powers Warned.

NURNBERG, Germany, Sept. 14.—(AP)—A new German religion with God manifesting Himself in an invincible German nation with Adolf Hitler its modern Mahomet appeared in the making tonight at Nazi party convention events and utterances could be taken as indications.

"You, mein Fuehrer, have given us an exalted and holy religion," said Dr. Robert Ley, Hitler's trade union commissioner, in welcoming the Reichstag members today on behalf of 20,000 workers of hand and brain assembled for the third annual demonstration of a German labor front.

"Twenty-one boys who gave their lives for the Nazi cause died with faith in you; fidelity in you is our faith to immortality," exclaimed the Reich's youth leader, Baldur von Schirach, to Hitler in presenting him to 50,000 Nazis.

In turn, Dr. Fuehrer told his young adherents: "Germany will not stand for harm from anybody," and that she desires to be first, not last, in the "concert of nations."

Last night, before a women's demonstration, Gertrude Scholtzki, Reich women's leader, stated: "Out of the seriousness and pride of our age we want to carry a conception of God to our people through which every one will rise, work, be happy, and sleep; a conception that is within him, living and active."

"This faith seems to me to be more important than to quarrel about the form in which some believe they must present God to their fellow men."

Further emphasis on the evolution of a new national German religion was laid during the Hitler youth rally by the premier presentation of an oratorio-like performance involving band music, speaking choruses, individual speakers and singing.

"Holy Fatherland" and "Flag to which we all pledged our lives—flag which is our beginning and our end," were two of the themes.

Der Fuehrer was told in musical rhyme:

"When you, our Fuehrer, call us for storm or attack, we shall begin that attack jubilantly and ready for victory."

One of the speakers in this hitting drama exclaimed:

"If we have not time to pray—
"Whereupon the whole chorus joined in:

"God will nevertheless understand us, for whoever consecrates his life to his nation will be honored by a blessed stand next to the Lord."

Plane Flies Too Close to Roosevelt Train, Quiz Looms

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 14.—(AP)—President Roosevelt arrived home tonight at 9:50 p. m. (E. D. T.), by train after an all-day visit to public projects in up-state New York.

The presidential train stopped en route at Troy, where Mr. Roosevelt appeared in response to a crowd and band.

A greeting from the air to President Roosevelt by an aviator caused some concern among aides on the trip.

The cabin plane swooped down by the presidential train near Lake George, flying low near the plane. Governor Lehman, who was aboard, ordered an investigation. Mr. Roosevelt enjoyed the incident.

LOUISIANA RUNS HIGH FEVER OVER COMING ELECTION

Long Forces Near Split—Preacher Aide Of Huey Hurls Harsh Words In Share Wealth Drive.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Louisiana was in a political whirl tonight with politicians of every rank in a fever over the approaching January elections.

A senator, all congressmen, a governor and state officials will be nominated in the Democratic primary election, the equivalent of election in Louisiana as the Republican party has a light following here.

While political lines were being drawn the district attorney's office announced an inquest into assassination of Huey P. Long would be resumed Monday, with Long's bodyguards and eye-witnesses summoned.

Leaders of all factions were working on plans of candidates but they have produced squabbles among the conflicting groups.

Huey Long ran his machine alone and took to his grave the secret of his future plans.

As a result, a schism was threatened between the conservative and liberal wings of the organization, which Governor O. K. Allen is seeking to hold together. The selection of a candidate for governor has caused the conservatives to square away with the liberals.

As the Longs and anti-Longs prepared their armies for the opening campaign, the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, national organizer of the "Share-the-Wealth" societies, has started a campaign in behalf of the Longs. He has taken the position that the "share-the-wealth" movement did not die with Long and from the radio microphone he has sought to arouse interest.

He used many of Long's violent expressions against his political opponents in which he denounced the anti-Longs, the press and particularly Senator Theodore G. Bilbo, Mississippi. But Bilbo came back in kind in a statement.

Smith called Bilbo a "low down politician" and Bilbo called Smith a "damnable, self-made liar."

Besides Long's bodyguards, high state officials and a number of private citizens have been summoned by District Attorney John Fred Odom at Baton Rouge to testify at the hearing on the assassination of Long and the shooting of Dr. C. A. Weiss Jr., who shot the senator.

Weiss was killed by Long's bodyguards after the 30-year-old eye specialist wounded the senator in the state house last Sunday night.

Meanwhile, Mayor T. Semmes Walmisley whom Long tried unsuccessfully to oust from the city administration of New Orleans left today for Washington by airplane.

SEN. M'ADOO, 71, TAKES BRIDE, 26, HER DAD FROWNS

Colonial Simplicity Marks Ceremony—To Fly To Coast After Honeymoon—Bride's Father Talks.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Senator William Gibbs McAdoo, 71, drove his 26-year-old bride to "Bealla Pleasure" in Maryland today in his own small coupe for a wedding like those in Washington's time.

The small, prettily-proportioned Miss Doris L. Cross, a nurse in a public health service, and the tall senator made their vows in the intimacy of a quaint living room authentically colonial.

A huge golden harp tinkled the Mendelssohn wedding march. A distinguished guest admitted most distinguished guests to "Bealla Pleasure," the century-old ivy-covered colonial brick home of McAdoo's son-in-law, Eric Claggett.

McAdoo wore a blue-gray business suit. His bride was in a dark blue crepe tulle travelling dress, her dark blue off-the-face hair softened by a mere suggestion of a veil.

Their voices came clearly through an open window, into the country quietude as the lines were read by the Rev. Russell J. Cunniff of the Mount Pleasant Congregational church, the senator's as unpunctuated as when he speaks in the senate; hers very low indeed, but unhesitating. The wedding prayer asked for them "great and high adventure on the way of life" as well as "peace, joy, and abundance."

There was the briefest pause in the ceremony as dignified, elderly Miss Mary Addison Ingle, at whose unpretentious home lived the girl chosen by McAdoo as his third wife, gave the bride away.

A second soft twanging of the harp told that the five-minute ceremony was over. Then the old house was filled with wedding gaiety.

Miss Cross and McAdoo were first on the wedding scene, an hour before the ceremony, to get the picture-taking and license-making detail over.

Asked the story of their romance, the senator jovially said: "You can't expect a man to talk about his love affairs." Miss Cross said never a word, but smiled in a friendly fashion.

Good-naturedly and a bit self-consciously they walked together from doorway to grand garden settee under an old honey locust tree, the bride taking the bridegroom's arm, and there sat closer when the cameramen told them to. Not an ornament did Miss Cross wear with her dark blue ensemble, which included blue purse, pumps, and gauntlet gloves.

Then, "Boys, I think this is enough, really," said the senator, with a gesture of finality, and the bridal couple went indoors. Senator McAdoo had kept his immediate plans quiet. He made a statement that after a brief honeymoon, he and his bride, also a flying enthusiast, will fly to the Pacific coast "to be present during the forthcoming visit to California of President Roosevelt" and will "spend the interval before the reconvening of congress at their home in Los Angeles."

CITY THAT BIDS MOST COIN GETS BOURBON PARLEY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Men close to the Democratic party leadership forecast today that the 1936 national convention will be held in some city of adequate size in the north central states.

Minneapolis, Chicago and Cleveland received prominent mention.

San Francisco, which had been mentioned as a possibility, has lost ground because of its remoteness, despite pleasant recollections of the treatment received in 1920.

Atlantic City, another possible location, still has a chance because, although a coast point, it is nearer the homes of a larger number of delegates than San Francisco.

Because of confidence that the session will be brief, party leaders are represented as feeling that the convention city should be at a central point.

It was emphasized, however, that the question of money is of prime importance. Party leaders are said to believe that a city should offer at least $200,000 to obtain the convention and its resultant trade for hotels and stores.

Such funds usually are managed by a local citizens' committee. It was said that should San Francisco be the high bidder, it would have an excellent chance for the convention.

SOCIALISTS WARN BRITISH WORKERS OF WAR INTRIGUE

LONDON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Warnings against the dangers of an "imperialist-capitalist" war were really evened in the ears of workers in 17 cities.

Orators at rallies organized by the socialist league drove home the realization of potentialities in the Italo-Ethiopian dispute.

At the same time, David Lloyd George, World war premier, speaking at a meeting not connected with the socialist rallies, longed for peace seeking nations. He said they were idling while Premier Mussolini was "barring his teeth, ready to bury them in Ethiopia's throat."

Officials disclosed the British government had made official representations to Italy concerning alleged anti-British propaganda broadcast by the Italian radio station at Bari. One of the broadcasts castings the action was reported to have included the statement:

"All the world knows the rest of Islam is suffering under the British rule in Egypt and Palestine."

BRITISH ARMADA CONCENTRATED IN ETHIOPIAN ZONE

LONDON, Sept. 14.—Upward of a hundred British warships—about the third largest navy afloat if compared with the entire fleet strength of the United States and Japan—were believed by diplomats to be concentrated tonight in the serene waters of the Mediterranean.

The officers, bent over navigators' charts, awaited developments in the Italo-Ethiopian crisis.

Dangerously near, it appeared from reports, were about 250 units of the lighter Italian navy, ready to lend their force to the declaration of the Italian cabinet that it was prepared to meet any resistance that might be offered from whatever direction to Il Duce's moves.

Since the first of September, the pick of British fighting ships have been assembled in this troubled section.

Belief of the diplomatic observers was that more than 75 British fighting ships were gathered at Alexandria, Port Said, Malta, Gibraltar, Port Sudan and Haifa, while ten more were cruising the Mediterranean and a fleet of about 25 ships, which sailed from Portland August 31, and was presumably still at sea, could have been concentrated in the vicinity of the Mediterranean.

PRESIDENT ASKED TO INTERGE IN NEW COAL STRIKE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—A last-minute appeal for President Roosevelt's intervention was planned tonight by Edward F. McGrady, labor department mediator, in a desperate effort to avert Monday's threatened coal strike.

He announced this step after operators had rejected a presidential proposal for a 15-day extension of the present Appalachian wage agreement which expires Sunday night with a clause making wage increase in any new agreement retroactive.

McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, told newsmen he would ask the industry and United Mine Workers to appoint a joint committee to sit with him while he discussed the situation by telephone with Mr. Roosevelt. He expected the president to make another plea for a truce.

Union officials berated the producers for turning down the 15-day extension plan with a retroactive clause proposed by the union and McGrady as spokesman for the president.

The operators sat silent.

"In effect, you are saying there saying 'To hell with you, Mr. President,'" said G. W. Sawyer, secretary of the miners' Ohio district.

"You are placing yourselves in the same position as the communists—defying the government of the United States."

DAN HOWARD HURT WHEN PLANE FALLS TEACHER KILLED

Motor Trouble In Isolated Idaho Region Causes Accident—Injured Man Well Known Here.

GRANGEVILLE, Idaho, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Pilot Dan Howard, of Medford, Ore., injured in the plane crash which killed Mrs. Mildred Eliza Stanberry in an isolated region of central Idaho, was given an even chance for life today.

Howard still was at the Red River CCC camp tonight, but reports reaching here said he would be taken to the Cottonwood hospital by ambulance tomorrow for an x-ray examination.

The crash occurred on the farm of Con Nitz, county commissioner, additional reports reaching here indicated. Two Nitz boys witnessed the tragedy. They said the plane gained a 200-foot altitude on its takeoff, nosed over and fell.

Mrs. Stanberry, 23-year-old school teacher, apparently was killed instantly.

LEWISVILLE, Idaho, Sept. 14.—(AP)—A woman school teacher was killed and a Medford, Ore., aviator was seriously hurt when their plane crashed in the isolated Red River area Friday.

AGED TRANSIENT POUNDED, ROBBED HID IN ICE CHEST

Charges of assault and robbery with a dangerous weapon were scheduled to be filed against Pete Chavez, 17-year-old Mexican youth from Stockton, California, Chavez is charged with the alleged brutal beating and robbing of an aged transient, with an iron ice spike while the two were riding on the outside of the south-bound Oregonian passenger train enroute here Friday night, it was said by state police. Chavez is held in the city jail.

Chavez was arrested by city and state police while hiding in a box car in the yards here Saturday morning, after Slater had been discovered, his head badly lacerated, in the ice bunker of an express refrigerator car on the train. According to a state police report, Chavez and Slater were riding on the train together. A second youth who he believed, from the look of the elderly man's clothes, that he had Eugene H. Chavez, got off the train, and secured the iron spike. When the train started out again, he followed Slater into the ice bunker at the end of the car and attacked him with the spike, beating him about the head, the state police say. The Mexican

PWA CURTAILMENT WORRIES STATES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Widespread repercussions based on fears that thousands of local public works projects might be scrapped today enveloped President Roosevelt's revulsion of the $4,880,000,000 work relief program.

Inquiries by the score fell upon public works officials, who were unable to give definite assurances as to the fate of individual projects. There were indications, however, that Secretary Ickes would decide which projects would go forward immediately.

Whether this was involved in the president's settlement of basic differences in viewpoints of Ickes and Harry L. Hopkins, central figures in administering the expenditures of the billions, was not immediately ascertained.

QUARRRELING PAIR IN SUICIDE PACT

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—(UP)—Frank Abinanti, 43, San Francisco grocer, and his wife, Pearl, 42, were near death tonight as the result of self-inflicted gunshot wounds fired in a double suicide pact.

It was the second attempt of the couple to end their lives. Mrs. Abinanti told authorities.

She told police she and her husband had quarreled so frequently he recently asked her to permit him to shoot her and then end his own life. She had him jailed for the threat.

Later, she reluctantly agreed to a similar proposal and they attempted suicide by inhaling fumes from the exhaust of their automobile in the garage of their home. Neighbors, ignorant of their intentions, warned them of the danger from the fumes and halted the death try.

SLAYER LOCATED IN PRISON CELL

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 14.—(AP)—The trail of killers in their hunt for the ruthless officer of a Spokane drugist six weeks ago led to the state penitentiary today, and a justice court murder warrant was issued here against Tom Eskeridge, prison inmate.

Prosecutor Ralph Foley said Eskeridge's release from the prison at Walla Walla will be sought, so he can stand trial here.

Eskeridge is serving a maximum term of 20 years for grand larceny. He pleaded guilty to the theft of two typewriters from the Spangle school near here, Foley said. The theft was July 31, the day after the slaying of Harry J. Phillips in an attempted holdup of any outlying Spokane pharmacy.

It was Eskeridge's over anxiety to plead guilty to the larceny charge and his evasiveness in answering questions, Foley said, which first aroused suspicion. The officers have worked quietly on the angle for a month.

FEAR POLITICAL PLOT, TYPHOONS

MANILA, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Typhoon weather and talk of assassination plots complicated the Philippine political picture tonight as the islands' first presidential election campaign moved toward its close.

A storm of moderate intensity lashed the Tayabas province, south of here, and moved northwesterly across Luzon island.

The atmospheric disturbance was expected to pass north of Manila but accompanying heavy rains were preventing final campaign rallies elsewhere on Luzon and it was predicted they would continue until after the election Tuesday.

Official preparations to meet potential election trouble have focused attention on the rumors of violence in the offing.
