INSURANCE SAVING HOPE OF MEDFORD INSPECTION WORK

A possible saving of from $15,000 to $25,000 a year to Medford residents and business men, through a reduction in their insurance rates, was visioned today by O. M. Thurber, manager of public relations for the General, First National and General Casualty insurance companies of America, in a noon address before the Kiwanis club.

Thurber, with three specially trained safety engineers, is conducting a thorough inspection of the downtown area, the industrial park section, and traffic hazards. The work will be done carefully, from cellar to attic in the buildings, and with rigid observation of traffic hazards in and near the city, with the cooperation of the building department, water department, police and fire departments, and the Chamber of Commerce.

When the results are tabulated, they will be submitted to the city council for their inspection. Such a program has recently been completed in Eugene, Thurber stated, and pointed out to the city council there how the insurance rates for the city could be lowered by at least 15 per cent, by only minor changes in city ordinances and building regulations. The matter was submitted to a committee for action.

The same thing is to be done here, Thurber said. He stated that Medford has a 4-grade rating at the present time, and with changes that will be suggested, it is probable that this rating can be bracketed in the 4-grade group. The cities of Klamath Falls, Ashland and Grants Pass now have the 5-grade rating, he said.

The individual ratings of the various departments of the city show that the Medford water system ranks with the highest in the state, at a 2-grade. The building laws and the police are ranked at 3, while traffic hazards are given at 4, structural conditions and fire at 5, while the fire alarm system is given at 7, for an average 3-grade. Reduction of any hazard bracket will result in a lower insurance premium rating, he said, according to the state fire underwriters' ratings.

While here the safety engineers will also inspect all city buildings, county buildings and school buildings. Some time during the week Thurber will address the student body at the Senior high school on "Safety Measures."

The fall home demonstration program will start with leader training meetings on clothing projects next Wednesday and Thursday. Mrs. Azalea Sager, clothing specialist and Mrs. Mabel C. Mack, county home demonstration agent are the instructors for these meetings.

On Wednesday, Sept. 18, at 10:00 a. m., project leaders on buymanship from the eighteen units of the county will meet at the courthouse auditorium for the study of new materials. Thursday, Sept. 19, at 10:00 a. m., the project leaders on guide patterns and the members of the Jacksonville home extension unit will meet in the courthouse auditorium for a training meeting on the construction of guide patterns. Friday, Sept. 20, the trail extension unit will meet at 10:00 a. m. at Trail for a demonstration on the uses of the guide pattern by Mrs. Sager and Mrs. Mack. This demonstration will be given in the other units during September and October.

Another horse to appear here jumped out from under his rider at Salem. An Oregon man was outstanding, Frank Smith, throwing his steer in six seconds. He will appear here with the rodeo, as will Floyd Peters, Canadian roping champion, who roped and tied a calf in 16 3-5 seconds at the state fair.

It has been announced that the Medford rodeo is to be the last of any kind on the coast, and many rodeo stars will be here from the other circuits, now closed.

Woman Wanted

Action is the watchword of today's entertainment! "Woman Wanted," starring Maureen O'Sullivan and Joel McCrea, starting tomorrow at the Rialto theatre for a three-day run, its action plus hair-raising excitement, thrilling drama, tender romance and baffling mystery.

The entire, fast-moving melodrama takes place within a period of eight hours, from late afternoon to early the next morning. Amid lightning-like action they elude the police and finally turn the real mischief over to the district attorney.

Lewis Stone celebrates his twentieth year in pictures by giving his best performance. "Welcome Home," the knockout comedy, has its final showing tonight.

Sparkling Humor in Craterian Picture

In a story that fairly bubbles with comedy, Joan Crawford and Robert Montgomery came to the Craterian theatre last night in "No More Ladies."

Adapted from the Broadway stage hit, the film retains all the fine drama and sparkling humor of the original—with the addition of one of the finest screen casts of the year.

Prominently featured with the costars are Charlie Ruggles, Franchot Tone, Edna May Oliver, Gail Patrick, Reginald Denny and many others. Each anguished cast, these polished experts have created a beautiful photoplay from the rich material granted them.

When Marcia Townsend (Joan Crawford), marries Sherry Warren (Robert Montgomery), she knows his past; but they are sure that, in spite of their many "happily divorced" friends, they can make marriage work.

When later, Marcia discovers she may have made a mistake, she decides to dry her tears and throw a party. And what a party! All Sherry's ex-sweethearts are invited with their new swains and ex-husbands. That it doesn't turn out exactly as Marcia planned, shapes the drama of the picture.
