Distillery Chief Classifies Taste Of Whisky Buyers

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 17.—With less than two years elapsed since repeal, distillers are already finding that the public taste in whiskeys can be confined to a half-dozen or less classifications, according to Frank B. Thompson, president of the Glenmore Distilleries.

"A study of public reaction to the thousands of blends and brands on the market today has led our organization to believe that a fine old bonded whiskey, two good blends, and two or three wholesome straight whiskeys, just about cover the field of public taste," says Mr. Thompson.

"The public will benefit through the eventual elimination of the many of the thousands of in-between blends and below-standard straight whiskeys that are offered today is a fact readily seen.

"The tremendous expense to all concerned in manufacturing, distributing and advertising the large assortment of brands that have been featured since repeal has naturally resulted in a greater cost to the retail dealer and the consumer," Mr. Thompson points out.

"Because in many instances the same whiskey is being marketed under a dozen different aliases, this confuses the public, does not improve the whiskey in any particular, and adds considerably to the price.

"Dealers and jobbers who, under the present system, are forced to keep complicated stock records as well as maintaining substantial supplies of each of the numerous variations in the brands they feature, can realize a substantial savings through elimination of the 'excess baggage' now on the market.

Maurice Chevalier Here Wednesday

MAURICE CHEVALIER in "FOLIES BERGERE de PARIS"

The most famous of the world's famous musical extravaganzas is brought to the screen in "Folies Bergeres," starring Maurice Chevalier at the Craterian for tomorrow only, and also being shown tomorrow night only at the Holly theatre.

Chevalier is seen not only as Charlier, charming, singing, straw-hatted star of the Folies Bergeres, but as the amorous, bemused, benighted French baron whom Charlier impersonates in his act as well.

The scenes of the original Folies Bergeres, so familiar to visitors to the famous music hall, the Folies bar and all the rest of the colorful settings, have been reproduced in this magnified screen adaptation.

Merle Oberon is the seductively beautiful wife of the baron, while Ann Sothern is cast as Mimmi, the jealous partner and sweetheart of Chevalier.

Several sensational dance numbers, featuring a hundred beautiful dancing girls, five tuneful song numbers including "Rhythm of the Rain," "Singing a Happy Song," "I Was Lucky" and "Au Revoir, L'Amour," are a few of the many features of the film.

Marking an innovation in motion picture presentation for Medford, "Steamboat Around the Bend," starring America's beloved humorist, Will Rogers, will be given its southern Oregon premiere at both the Craterian and Holly theatres Thursday.

Due to the tremendous amount of interest being shown in this film, it was decided to give everyone in Medford a chance to see it—and for that reason "Steamboat Around the Bend" will not only be shown at the Craterian for the regular matinee and evening performances, but will also be shown evenings at Roxy theater.

Remarking upon the story, and the star, Liberty magazine said it was "not only one of the best pictures Will Rogers has brought to the screen but one of the best pictures of the year."

A remarkable supporting cast includes Anne Shirley, Irvin S. Cobb, Eugene Pallette and Stepin Fetchit among others.

CONSTITUTION IS NEWBURY'S TOPIC AT ROTARY MEET

Don Newbury, Medford attorney, presented an interesting address upon the American constitution as a feature of the Medford Rotary club's Constitution Day program this noon at the Hotel Medford.

While Mr. Newbury's discussion of the constitution was of a non-political nature, his remarks were based upon the present-day problems facing the United States which have a direct relation to the famous document.

The overlapping authority and actions of the three departments of the nation—legislative, executive and judicial—which have been the source of considerable controversy during the past few months, were discussed by the speaker in his comments concerning the New Deal's relation to the constitution.

Among guests at today's meeting was William Dinamore, former first district governor for Rotary.

Daring Film Comes To Screen at Roxy

One of the oddest, most gripping and daring films of the year is at the Roxy theater today and tomorrow. It is "Werewolf of London," with Henry Hull and Warner Oland, two of the screen's best character actors, in leading roles.

Based on the fabled werewolf legend handed down through the ages, and still prevalent in central Europe, "Werewolf of London" tells the story of a man who becomes transformed into a wolf each night during the full of the moon. Upon taking the form of the wolf, he is filled with the desire of taking human life, and it is from this weird situation—man becoming wolf—that the picture takes its many thrilling situations.
