Delphian Society Launches Chapter.
At a meeting at the Town club Monday morning, the Beta chapter of Delphian society was officially organized for Medford. An enthusiastic audience of 40 Medford women who had been assembled by Nelle H. Woodward, field secretary, greeted Mrs. Lena Goble of Los Angeles, Pacific coast director of the society, who was the principal speaker at the meeting.

Mrs. Goble's address included discussions of world affairs, historic backgrounds and inspiration toward individual thinking.

Interest was so wide-spread that a second chapter will be organized. Enrollments are now being taken by Mrs. Woodward at the Hotel Medford, and by Mrs. Jonas Wold, who is assisting. This second chapter will be the Chi Delta of Medford.

HOOVER CHARGES NEW DEAL SAPPING LIBERTY STRENGTH

working plan of a great federation of states under representative government. There is embedded in it also the vital principles of the American system of liberty. That system is based upon certain inalienable freedoms and protections which not even the government may infringe and which we call the bill of rights.

Provisions are Clear
"It does not require a lawyer to interpret those provisions. They are as clear as the Ten Commandments."

Men throughout the world, he declared, are in despair, "sundering their freedom for false promises of economic security."

He branded as false the idea that sacrifice of personal freedom can add to the economic efficiency, gain economic security, "find a single job" or "give a single assurance in old age."

The truth of this, he asserted, had been tested by practical experience "under the American system."

Asserting that "always groups of audacious men in government or out will consolidate privilege against their fellows, Mr. Hoover termed the "bill of rights" portion of the constitution "the invisible sentinels which guard the door of every home from invasion of coercion, of intimidation and fear. Herein is the expression of the spirit of men who would be forever free."

Hits at Centralization
A shaft aimed at the growing centralization of governmental powers was contained in a declaration that "liberty is safe only by a division of powers and upon local self government."

The former president denied that respect for the safeguards contained in the first ten amendments to the constitution can be regarded as a "fetter upon progress."

"It has," he said, "been no dead hand that has carried the living principles over these centuries."

Although stating that "new inventions and new ideas require the constant remodeling of our civilization," he declared that the nation's fundamental law can be changed and the functions of government adjusted from time to time "to restrain the strong and protect the weak" without violence to the principles of freedom which the constitution safeguards.

He declaring that "liberty comes alone and lives alone where the hard-won rights of men are held inalienable," he asserted.

"The nation seeks for solution of many difficulties. These solutions can come alone through the constructive forces which arise from the spirit of free men and women."

Must Purify Liberty
"The purification of liberty from abuses, the restoration of confidence in the rights of men, from which came the release of the dynamic forces of initiative and enterprise, are alone the methods through which these solutions can be found and the purpose of American life assured."

In perhaps the most outspoken words which the former president has used since he left the White House he expressed his scorn of the fruits of revolution abroad.

"Whether it be Fascist Italy, Nazi Germany, Communist Russia, or their lesser followers," he said, "the result is the same."

"Freedom of worship is denied. Freedom of speech is suppressed. The press is censored and distorted with propaganda. The right of criticism is denied. Men go to jail or the gallows for honest opinion."

"Here is no right in one's savings or one's own home which the government need respect."

Form of Servitude
"Here is a form of servitude, of slavery—a slipping back toward the middle ages."

The former president said that even in America there are many, honest in their beliefs, the freedom of the individual cannot be maintained in a machine age.

"Even in America," he said, "where liberty blazed brightest and by its glow shed light on all the others, it is besieged from without and challenged from within. Men, in honest belief, hold that we cannot longer accommodate the growth of science, technology and mechanical power to the bill of rights and our form of government."

"With that I do not agree. Men's inventions cannot be of more value than men themselves. But it would be better that we sacrifice something of economic efficiency than to surrender these primary liberties. In them lies a spiritual right of men."

Business Places Burn In Oakridge

OAKRIDGE, Ore., Sept. 18.—(UP)—Four business houses were destroyed last night by fire which started at 5 p. m., presumably from defective wiring in the McAtee grocery store.

The store, pool halls operated by George Burnett and W. G. Sutton and a restaurant operated by Dick Damon were swept by flames. Damage was between $15,000 and $20,000, and little insurance was carried. The fire was controlled within a half hour with aid of Willamette National forest and Southern Pacific railroad equipment.

Visits Brother Here—Miss Ida Barry of Seattle left last night by train for her home, after spending the first of the week visiting here with her brother, B. L. Barry.

IRONRITE

The Ironer That Has Two Open Ends

Unusual Ironrite Features!

DOUBLE OPEN ENDS—which means that tubular garments, like dresses and skirts, can be slipped over either end of the feed-board, just the same as on an ironing-board, so that they can be ironed without creases.

STATIONARY FEED BOARD—which means that garments can be fed into the machine without touching the revolving roll.

POINTED IRONING SHOE—which means that pleats, folds and ruffles can be ironed just as perfectly as with a hand-iron. No left-overs to finish by hand.

IRONING SHOE UNDERNEATH THE ROLL—which means that the Ironite costs less to operate than ironers with the ironing shoe out in the open so that a large portion of the heat is wasted.

ROLL REVOLVES AWAY FROM OPERATOR—which means that the steam from the garment that is being ironed is ejected at the back of the ironing roll, instead of in the operator's face.
