

Belcastro Meets Strong Man in Main Event at Armory Tonight

SAVICH AND ESTES PITTED IN SECOND HALF OF PROGRAM

Opener Between Bad Boy Soos and Meanie Marine Also Interests Fans — Opening Gong at 9 P. M.

With his chin clean-shaven and his mind made up for a royal farewell party, Dynamite Pete Belcastro arrived yesterday from a hunting and training expedition into the Weed wilderness, and announced that he thinks his match tonight at the armory with Rocky Brooks, famous Canadian strongman, is going to be a push-over. In order to allow the fans who are working in the fruit to attend the three-ply card, Promoter Tallard has postponed the starting gong until 9 o'clock.

Proudly displaying a sizeable buck, his second of the current season, Belcastro said that his latest sojourn into the hills of northern California has netted him a few additional pounds and that he is now in even better shape than when he successfully defended his Pacific coast title last week against Toots Estes. "There's nothing like roughing it and hill-climbing to get the spark back, according to the fiery Italian.

"I'll admit that Brooks is pretty strong," Pete said, "but what good will that do if he can't get hold of me?" Judging from that statement, Pete plans figuratively to put on his ballet slippers tonight and kick the tattooed champion, which is not at stake.

Speed will be the feature of the first half of the double main event, and if Danny Savich of Salt Lake City tries a few of his racing dives out of the ring, this bout promises as much action as the other. Savich will be pitted against Toots Estes, fiast from Honolulu.

Estes, still shimmering from his defeat last week by Belcastro, says he is through with lolly-pop wrestling, and is going to show the boys how it's done when a Hawaiian works up a temper. That promise does not necessarily mean unorthodox muscle menaging, but probably is a forecast for more of the spectacular maneuvers that have given Estes a top notch here in popularity.

Johnny Soos, amateur and amateur from Indiana, will take a crack at Bob Kennaston, ex-champion of the marines, in the 20-minute opening bout. Ray Frisbie, local firebrand, will be referee.

SHOTGUN PRACTICE OFFERED AT TRAPS

Practice for the upland bird shooting season will commence at the grounds of the Medford Gun club at 10:30 a. m. Sunday. Both sixteen yard and skeet targets will be thrown and the club invites all southern Oregon shooters, whether members of the club or not, to participate in the practice.

Every year preceding the pheasant and quail season large numbers of non-members of the club avail themselves of the club's hospitality to practice for the elusive chinks and a large turnout is expected for Sunday. The club charges the non-members the same price for targets and shells as the members pay, 60 and 65 cents for shells and two cents for targets. The gun club is strictly a non-profit organization.

PORTLAND PROS PLANNING TOUR

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Prospecting for gold, Al and Emory Zimmerman, Portland's touring golf professionals, will dig their sticks into a number of fairways in the east this fall in competition for prize money. Their ultimate goal will be the National Professional Golfers' association championship at Oklahoma City. Both qualified for the tournament from the northwest.

Leaving September 27 by automobile, the Zimmermans will compete in the $5000 open at Indianapolis October 3, 4 and 5, and the Louisville open on October 11, 12, and 13.

ECCLES CHOICE FOR BANK LAW DIRECTION

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Marriner S. Eccles, exponent of "conscious monetary control," is President Roosevelt's choice to direct the new banking reform law. Eccles, head of the federal reserve system, will become the first chairman of the reorganization system when it goes into effect with increased powers next February.

ON THE FOOTBALL FRONT

CORVALLIS, Ore., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Oregon State college has three prize offensive threats for this season's football team, and each threat is a triple-threat.

The early season favorites for the ball-carrying halfback position are Bob Mountain, 165, of Burlington, Cal.; Joe Gray, 175, Portland, and Lynn Jackson, 165, Alhambra, Cal. None is a veteran, but watch these sophomores.

EUGENE, Ore., Sept. 19.—(AP)—The first action under fire was given the University of Oregon football squad yesterday in a stiff scrimmage involving three full squads.

Coach Frank Callison found his players in good condition so did not wait until the end of the week for the first scrimmage, as previously planned. Brief scrimmages will be the order daily until the opening game against Gonzaga Saturday night, September 28, in Portland.

Deer season is almost upon us. In contemplating that fact it is a sickening reality to know that it is almost certain that at least one in southern Oregon will be killed for a deer. It's hard to understand why men will shoot into brush wherein they believe a deer to be lurking, in violation of every law of hunting and human decency. Yet it's a fact that men who in the city may be as considerate as the next, let a 30-30 slug tear into another man and never bother to think of the appalling consequences until it is too late.

When the army of shooters leaves the city Saturday, the names on the guns they carry will sound like those stacked outside a league of nations meeting. The Springfield and the Krag will represent the United States, the Lee-Enfield the British Isles, the Mauser, Luger, Mannlicher and others the Germans, the Lebel the French. Why this preference for army rifles? Does an army rifle present so much more in speed, shocking power and accuracy over the stock sport rifles in this country?

It's hardly that. An old army rifle, or a new army rifle, can be picked up for a song. With a bit of whittling on the stocks, shortening of the barrel, and removal of a few unnecessary gadgets, the army gun can be cut down into a very neat sporting rifle. While the 8mm. Lebel, the 30-30 Springfield, and others may be a bit too heavy for the Columbia backtrail we have here, they are supreme for muletrail and other big game. The cost of firing them is greater than the smaller gun, but it is a peculiar hunter indeed who fires a box of shells in a year.

The football squad at the high school scrimmaged last night. And for this early in the year, it was a good scrimmage. No theatrics, no grandstanding, but good, honest work, with each man doing his best to produce. Hopes of finding another end to pair with Kunzman, who seems assured a first string berth, went up after looking at the efforts of Eldon Grow, a nicely built lad from Eagle Point. Grow is only a sophomore, with three years more competition, and the way he was taking men out of the play, getting into other plays himself, and snagging passes gives promise of future greatness.

That wasn't the only pleasant surprise, however. Floyd Baker, a member of last year's Tiger Cub basketball squad, turned out for a job at guard. And if he works as well as he did last night, he's going to make several of the bigger men look to their laurels. And the tackle situation is looking up. By some sort of abracadabra, Coach Bowerman has produced two large young men from out the ether, who, when they learn the ropes, should be valuable. They are Carr and Blair. Both are new to football.

Lanky "Stretch" Ettinger, substitute center last year, has found himself at tackle, and is one of the handsiest men in the line to move. His little brother, Bob, playing at blocking quarter last night was also doing a nice job. His scythe like blocks in the field were moving down opposing backs in mid-season form. Ettinger went into the quarter post when Al Zerner, big back from the northern part of the state, was having some trouble at the post.

Bowerman may give Zerner a chance at the tackle post. Unless our guess is far wrong, he will be one of

BOWLING ADDICTS READY TO START SEASON'S SPORT

Bowling, which has rolled into the limelight here in the past few years to one of the most popular indoor sports in the city, will be starting again soon. On Friday of this week, a pickup team from the Smokehouse, composed of Walt Antle, Roy Pruitt, George Eads, Claude Saylor and Nap Main will start the ball rolling with a journey to Grants Pass for an evening's fun.

The traveling league, consisting of two teams each from Klamath Falls, Grants Pass and Medford, will start shooting the 25th of this month. As last year, the traveling league will play only on Sundays, one of the two teams either at Smokehouse or the Mail Tribune, playing in one of the other league cities each Sunday, and one engaging an outside team here.

The regular city league will boast 12 teams, probably the Standard Rooters, two Active club teams, Jugglers Tire, Economy Lumber, Rogue Valley Golf, Al Piche, Owen Oregon, Walter Abbey, Inc., Eagles, Timber Products and the Mail Tribune, and possibly one or two others. In preparation for the approaching season, Walt Antle has been repairing the Smokehouse alleys, with all four courses now completely resurfaced, and with a new grandstand capable of seating 50 spectators behind the alleys. To make room for the grandstand, the bar has been moved to one side, and rebuilt.

It is the intention to have two leagues in the city this year, a class A and a class B, so that the older hands will not have a large advantage over the beginners. This is expected to make the games closer, and consequently more interesting. Added prizes this year will make the city league more exciting. Al Piche has offered a prize of $25 for the first perfect score of the year, and $5 for high score in the city league each month. Both will be merchandise prizes, and it has been announced that there will be additional prizes put on the list before long.

The Elks club bowling contingent is also growing restive as time for the schedule drawing and team allocations looms. Talk has been heard about the club installing an additional alley as over seventy bowlers enjoyed the sport last winter, making it difficult to handle the matches on the two present alleys.

Last winter saw bowling interest growing among the lady Elks and it is expected that an even larger number of women will enjoy the healthful and interesting game this winter.

Series Broadcast Again This Year

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—(AP)—All games of the 1935 world series again will be broadcast by radio under the sponsorship of the Ford Motor company. Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis announced today. The network for the broadcast will be the Columbia Broadcasting system and the National Broadcasting company.

The Ford Motor company paid $100,000 for the broadcasting rights, the same as last year. Commissioner Landis said.

HANLEY INTERRED IN HARNEY HILLS

BURNS, Ore., Sept. 19.—(AP)—On a hillside overlooking the Harney valley which he loved, and the great "Bell A" ranch which he owned, Bill Hanley has been buried. Funeral services were held yesterday for the sage old philosopher and rancher, the last of Oregon's cattle kings. He died at Pendleton Sunday a few hours after the large round-up crowd had given him a tremendous ovation.

The Rev. Frederick Crane, pastor of the Episcopal church here, conducted the funeral service, at which B. F. Irvine, Portland editor and long-time friend of the rancher, delivered eulogy.

MAX GETS MEAN IN TRAINING CAMP

SPECULATOR, N. Y., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Max Baer is a little "odgy" today, a little argumentative.

If you take those signs as indications of perfect physical condition, which fight handlers do, then the erratic Californian is ready to duel Joe Louis in the Yankee stadium Tuesday night.

For instance, a reporter from a New York newspaper whose sports editor favors the other fellow, got a little close to the big curly head, Baer casually dropped a short right hand punch on the writer's shoulder. "Take that back to your editor," he growled.

Now the reporter can't write on a typewriter. He has to dictate his stories.

NOTHING CAN HALT CUBS' PROCESSION SAYS BILL TERRY

By Charles Dunkley Associated Press Sports Writer CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Bill Terry, manager of the vanquished Giants, favors the Cubs to conquer the Cardinals in the final furious stretch drive for the National league championship.

He can see nothing but the Cubs playing the Detroit Tigers in the world series.

The leader of the Giants made this prediction today as his players faced the Cubs in the first and fourth game of a series, in which they have been beaten three straight games. Asked his choice between the Cubs and Cardinals, Terry replied: "Why, the Cubs they way they are going. They are playing way over their heads. They are 'hot' right now just like the Cardinals were last year. Everything they do turns out in their favor. It's just a matter of time before they can explain."

The Cubs walloped the Giants in ten of their last eleven games, and yesterday's brutal 15-3 lacing, the worst of the season, virtually knocked the Giants right out of the National league championship picture.

The Cubs having tied the National league's best winning streak in the last 11 years, Brooklyn's 15 in a row in 1924, were supremely confident of walloping the Giants again today and then tearing after Pittsburgh in the final two games of the year at Wrigley field, Saturday and Sunday.

Charles Leo "Gabby" Hartnett, 34 year old sparkplug of the Cubs' defense figures that if the Cubs can divide St. Louis with a lead of one and one-half games and then beat the Cardinals just once, it will be all over for the gas house gang.

"Those guys are worried, now," Hartnett yelled. "They're wondering if we are ever going to lose a game. I'll bet the Cardinals go daffy every time they see another victory posted for the Cubs."
