

DISTANT READERS CONTINUE ORDERS FOR MAIL TRIBUNE

Advantage Is Taken of Low Rates by Subscribers in Remote Cities—Praise Is Given for Carrier Service

Subscriptions for the Mail Tribune are coming in from distant centers under the low annual rates now in effect.

The most distant subscriber thus far to order the newspaper for another year during the bargain day period is Lincoln McCormack of Irving-on-the-Hudson, New York.

Next farthest removed from Medford is J. T. Little of Dixon, Ill., and following him is E. C. Coppin of Phoenix, Arizona.

All three of these subscribers were former residents of this city and all sent notes with their renewal subscriptions stating that they are depending upon the Mail Tribune to keep them definitely linked with their old home town.

In renewing their subscriptions for another year under the bargain rate plan, many readers state that they have been patrons of the Mail Tribune since it was launched more than a quarter century ago. Among these enthusiastic supporters are Judge F. L. Tou Velle of Jacksonville, Harry Smeal of motor route A and Mrs. L. Alming of 317 East Jackson.

Along with orders for the paper have come numerous compliments for the carriers, their faithful service being described as most courteous and efficient.

Bargain days will end October 1. Until then subscribers may order the daily and Sunday paper for a year for less than two cents a day. Regular rates will become effective again at the end of the bargain period and then no reductions will be available for another year.

REPUBLICAN PARTY RETURN TO FAVOR SEEN BY LEADERS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Republican party chieftains gathered here today to discuss finances for the 1936 presidential campaign, reported "a decided trend in our favor" in popular sentiments.

Chairman Henry K. Fletcher of the Republican national committee told newspapermen after the morning session of the executive committee, that means of raising funds for the campaign had been discussed but no decisions made either on finances or strategy.

Asked what reports committee members had brought of popular sentiment in their areas, Fletcher said there had been little discussion of that, but added:

"As far as we have gone, everyone had noticed a decided trend in our favor in every state we have discussed."

Fletcher said he was already pledged to open a western headquarters in conjunction with the "grass roots" conference "as soon as practicable."

"We did not discuss candidates and we will not, nor did we discuss platforms," Fletcher said.

Most of the morning session, Fletcher said, was devoted to consideration of a report by George F. Clete of Illinois, national treasurer, and the prospects for raising funds.

"The prospect is good for getting a substantial campaign fund, and it is not going to be secret, either," Fletcher reported to the newspapermen.

The statement evidently was in reply to assertions of Postmaster-General Farley that Republicans should be required to list receipts of a corporation he said was being formed to acquire funds secretly.

BUSINESS WOMEN HEAR BANWELL

At a meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club last night at the Medford Hotel, A. H. Banwell addressed the group on "Women's Civic Responsibility." He enlarged on the theme, and pointed out that women have a definite place in civic activities, and may play an important part in community projects, illustrating this by presenting suggested projects to the club.

Announcement was made of the invitation extended the Medford organization by the Grants Pass B. P. W. to attend a social meeting in Grants Pass Thursday night. Members wishing to go may call Ethelwyn B. Hoffmann, at 82, or Mrs. Weidman, at 1222-B.

The prize animals came here direct from the Washington state fair, just closed at Puyallup. Many of the stately animals bore blue ribbons already won this season.

LA GRANDE, Ore., Sept. 25.—(AP)—Harvest of the early varieties of apples was underway today in the La Grande orchard district with one carload of Winter Bananas apples already prepared for shipment from Elgin.

Suicide Theory Upset

A coroner's jury tonight returned the unexpected verdict that glamorous Evelyn Hoey (above), star of several Broadway musicals, was shot to death by persons unknown in the bedroom of Henry Huddleston Rogers, Jr. (inset), at his Pennsylvania country place a fortnight ago. The open verdict means the case will go before a grand jury for further investigation. Rogers and William J. Kelley, a house guest, are under technical charges of suspicion of murder.

BUCKHORN LODGE HEALTH RESORT TO BE DEVELOPED

The company, incorporated in this state, is capitalized at $35,000, all of the organizers having an equal interest. Mr. Wahl explained. The first formal organization meeting will be held within ten days, at which time officers will be elected and plans of operation perfected, he said.

The McGrews will vacate the lodge as soon as their new home, now being built on the property, is completed. The property has an area of 100 acres and is situated 28 miles south of Medford on Emigrant Creek, six miles from the Klamath junction off Green Springs highway.

No stock in the new company is being publicly offered at present as ample capital has been provided to complete the first unit of improvements, Mr. Wahl stated.

The medicinal qualities of the waters at Buckhorn Mineral Springs have been known throughout the west for many years and indeed the place has a rich heritage in historical lore.

Long before the white man penetrated into the west, the Indians sought cure for their ills at the springs. Seeing the red skins bathing in the mineral waters gave an idea of their curative value to J. C. Tolman, first judge of Jackson county. Mr. Tolman acquired the property and erected the present lodge about a quarter century ago, the place becoming familiarly known as Tolman Springs.

The property changed hands several times and finally Mr. and Mrs. McGrew acquired ownership.

In addition to the curative waters there is also upon the property a natural carbon-dioxide well which is said to afford beneficial results in cases of asthma, sinus, catarrh, zema, arthritis and rheumatism. The gas issues from the well in a vapor.

Carbon-dioxide gas has nearly 60 commercial uses, the latest of which is the manufacture of dry ice. The newly-formed company does not plan to develop the commercial possibilities of the gas, though any proposition advanced by industrial concerns for its commercialization will be carefully considered, Mr. Wahl said. It was recalled that an engineer who made a survey some years ago reported that $2500 worth of the precious gas was being wasted daily.

"Many southern Oregon people have encouraged the development of these springs into a health resort," Mr. Wahl said. "Improvements now under way consist of several new cabins completely furnished, bath house for hot mineral and hot mud baths, gas bath house, electric lighting, water and sanitary system, improvement of the present lodge, landscaping of grounds and many other developments required to make the resort a pleasant and beneficial place to stay are on our immediate program of modernization. Every convenience for the comfort and welfare of the patients is being considered."

COUNTY BUDGET COMMITTEE WILL MEET THURSDAY

The first meeting of the 1935 budget committee, composed of J. W. McCoy of Ashland, banker; H. A. (Bert) Thierolf, Medford, lumberman, and M. B. Chase, Table Rock, orchardist, and the county court, will be held tomorrow to elect a chairman, a secretary, discuss procedure and "get acquainted." The chairman and secretary will be chosen from the appointive members.

County Judge Day announced ten days ago that the main problems before the budget committee would be the road fund and relief appropriations. The latter fund the past year was listed at approximately $80,000, and is one of the largest items. The road fund is also important, as many of the county routes are beginning to show the effects of travel, with the minimum of upkeep over the past five years, and are in need of improvement. A number of districts have asked for new roads. Commissioner Otto Casler said this morning, and are receiving consideration.

The first regular meeting of the budget committee is scheduled for about October 1, with a public hearing scheduled for early in November.

WHERE COMPARISON DETERMINES VALUE

TARZAN TROUSERS STOLEN BY BUTLER

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 25.—(UP)—The leopard-skin pants which Johnny (Tarzan) Weissmuller used to cover his graceful physique, had a fatal fascination for Vivian L. Hirsch, 24-year-old butler, he admitted in police court today.

So did the silken what-you-may-call-it with which Lupe Velez, Tarzan's wife, adorned her equally graceful—but in a different way—figure. So he swiped those, too.

Hirsch, who has huddled all around the film colony, also had a few keepsakes from Mary Astor, whom he worked for her, but these were limited to cocktail shakers and silverware.

He pleaded guilty on two counts of petty theft, and was ordered to appear before Judge William Tell Agler for probate.
