

Local and Personal

To Portland—Olen Ampinger and Frank Farrow left last night for Portland on the Oregonian.
From Trail—R. Bowman of Trail in Medford this week engaged in completing a plumbing job.
Visit Eagle Point—Mr. and Mrs. John Rader of Eagle Point had as a guest Sunday, Mrs. George Garrett of this city.
Special Student—Lee Valentine left for Eugene the end of last week to enroll in the University of Oregon as a special C. P. A. student.
Weekend Guest—Mrs. Vera Merdon of Medford spent last week-end as the guest of Mrs. Orville Henderson at her home in Eagle Point.
Goes to School—Miss Dorothy Young of this city left this morning on the Shasta for Eugene, where she will enter the University of Oregon.
Inspecting Fisheries—Frederick F. Fish of Seattle, a member of the federal bureau of fisheries arrived this morning to inspect the bureau of fishing at the Butte Falls hatchery.
Business Visitor—Thomas P. Guerin, northwest district passenger agent for the Holland-America line, was in Medford yesterday and last night on business.
Entomologist Here—Among business visitors in Medford recently was H. R. Offord, a member of the bureau of entomology, U. S. D. A., who left last night for Berkeley after transferring business here.
Methodist Cleric Here—The Rev. Mr. Hall, Cascade district superintendent for the Methodist church, spent part of yesterday and last night in this vicinity on official business, leaving on the Shasta this morning for Wilderville.
From Cave City—Mrs. E. M. Husae of Cave City was a Medford visitor Tuesday. She reports Cave City building up rapidly and a number of business places open. The establishment of a bank is expected soon, she says.
To Give Lecture—A. B. McCloud of Spokane, publicity director for blaster rust control in the national forests of the coast, is scheduled to give a lecture before the Medford high school assembly at 10 o'clock tomorrow. He will explain the work being done to control blaster rust in the forests.
Placed on Exhibit—A porcupine caught by Robert Porter, Cooper's men, on Giesberg mountain, was placed on exhibit today in a window of Fick's hardware store. The animal, about half grown, was shy of on-lookers and most of the time hid its face in a corner of its cage.
Roseherry to Kansas—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roseberry of local fame, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Madden, left recently on an extended trip which will take them as far as Kansas, where both couples will visit their former homes. The party expects to go through Idaho and Colorado, but will probably return by the northern route.
Mendenhall Operated On—S. G. Mendenhall, manager of local theaters, was taken to the Josephine General Hospital Monday where he underwent a minor operation on his hand. Mendenhall is suffering from blood poisoning—Greta Pass Courier. Mr. Mendenhall is well known in Medford, where he formerly managed the Rialto theater.
Goes to Eugene—James F. Bone of the domestic trade department, Los Angeles chamber of commerce, was in Eugene today after conferring here with officials of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce. The purpose of his visit was to interest Medford merchants in an expansion of trade between this city and southern California.
Return from San Francisco—Fred Scheffel, Bill Allen and L. C. Taylor returned to Medford yesterday afternoon from San Francisco, where they had been for several days on business. They drove back to Medford in a new Dodge truck which will replace two ancient model T Fords as city equipment. While in the Bay city the trio visited the site of the two new bridges, and also a new Danish ship that was in dock there.

TIGERS, ALUMNI CLASH SLATED FOR SATURDAY

The Medford high school football squad will receive their first real baptism of fire Saturday, when they meet the Alumni organization at Van Scoyoc field on West Second street. There has been considerable delay in arranging the game, and Coach Bowser has tried all over southern Oregon to get a "filler" for that date. On the following Saturday his team will probably meet an all-star eleven from all of the CCC camps of the Medford district, he said this afternoon. Negotiations are not yet complete, but the game looks assured. Bowser is not yet ready to announce his starting line-up, but is grooming a set of sophomore backs to take the place of nearly his entire old backfield, out with injuries. It's a gloomy picture, indeed, that Bowserman paints, Jim Bagliss, flashy little quarterback, is out with an injured knee sustained last year when he fell from a balcony at the school. He may not see action again. Koswo Maruyama, a shifty halfback and quarterback, will be out for at least two weeks. Bowserman stated, the little Nipponese had injured a shoulder in scrimmage last night. To top those injuries off, Smith, southpaw right half who would ordinarily be the work horse of the attack, injured a foot in scrimmage; Ray Lewis, regular left half, has chronic shin-splints; Leo Sakraido, who backs the line has a charley-horse, and Grov and Busey in the line both have sprained ankles.

"Diamond Jim" Brady Here Thursday

One of the most outstanding personalities this country has ever known was "Diamond Jim" Brady, who died last night. The film follows the career of this amazing man, through his smooth-talking introduction to his first acting job, through the early parties he would throw for his friends, through a financial panic in which he lost his fortune, through another unshakable rise to power again, through his spectacular proof of the feasibility of steel railroad cars and the wreck that almost cost his life, to the final closing of a career that was as colorful and rich as it was full. It shows his enormous appetite, as great as that of six ordinary men; his backing of Lillian Russell and the thousand and one other amazing incidents with which his life was endowed. The supporting cast includes Binnie Barnes as Lillian Russell; Jean Arthur as the girl with whom he was so in love; Caesar Romero, Robert McWade, Eric Blore, Hugh O'Connell, Tully Marshall and a host of others.

HUNTER WHO SHOT PAL HELD TO FACE TRIAL

CHEHALIS, Wash., Sept. 25.—(UP)—L. W. Foster, 39, Salkum, Wash., hunter who killed his companion, Lloyd Barnes, Napavine, mistaking him for a deer, was jailed today on an information charging manslaughter. A charge of manslaughter was required by law since both men were violating the state game laws in hunting for deer before the season opens, October 20.

SILVER DOLLARS PAY MORTGAGE ON HOME

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—(UP)—Mrs. B. Fiescher, 81, paid off a $1000 mortgage on her home recently in silver dollars. S. J. Finch, holder of the mortgage, was offered a cashier's check on a local bank for the amount of his mortgage, but refused, asking that he be paid in legal tender. Mrs. Fiescher returned to her bank and obtained the sum needed in coin. Because Finch could not deliver an abstract after the mortgage had been paid, attorneys for the aged woman deducted $25 to be held by the county clerk until the paper was delivered. Finch was forced to call upon his bank for an armed messenger to carry the silver there for depositing.

CATHOLICS DISAPPROVE ANNA KARENINA FILM

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—(UP)—The Catholic Legion of Decency has declared Anna Karenina, movie adapted from Tolstol's classic novel, indecent, immoral and unfit for public entertainment. It was announced today. It stars Greta Garbo and Frederic March.

SYDNEY SUFFERS FIRE LOSS OF FIVE MILLION

SYDNEY, Australia, Wednesday, Sept. 25.—(UP)—The city's greatest fire did an estimated $5,000,000 damage today. Many buildings at Darling Harbor were destroyed. The Goldborough Mart wool stores and large quantities of wool were consumed. Eight firemen were injured by falling debris.

Edmund Lowe Stars In Rialto Picture

"Black Sheep" found a most receptive audience at the Rialto theater last night when it plays until tomorrow night. As the story zipped merrily along in a fast comedy vein, with drama coming frequently to the surface, the romance between Edmund Lowe and Claire Trevor is one of the most refreshing seen on the screen. Edmund Lowe, a professional ship gambler, teams up with Claire Trevor, an actress who is returning from her first trip abroad. Adrienne Ames, a wealthy kleptomaniac, is blackmailing Tom Brown, a wealthy Boston youth, to smuggle in some pearls. Eugene Palette and Jed Prouty, rich playboys, play cards with Lowe and Miss Trevor, the latter always winning. Lowe then learns that Brown is being used by Miss Ames. He also learns that he is the father of young Tom. In spite of the fact that the ship's detective, a very comical chap, keeps an eye on Lowe, he clears Brown and turns Ames over to the police. He then falls in love with Miss Trevor and matrimonial complications turn him from his gambling course forever. Everything ends the way you want it to, with one of the best supporting casts ever assembled for a picture. With Edmund Lowe at his best, and a snappy dialogue that allows him to wisecrack his way to the climax, "Black Sheep" is entertainment, plus!
