ALPHONSO DICKEY IS LAID TO REST

Funeral services were held in Ashland Friday for the late Alphonso Dickey, with the Rev. M. L. Edwards of the Presbyterian church officiating. Final honors were paid the well-known Civil War veteran at the graveside.
Mr. Dickey died at his Ashland home Thursday. He was entering his 89th year. His passing leaves only three veterans of the Civil War in Ashland. Mr. Dickey served under General Sherman in the famous march to the sea and was wounded in line of duty at Atlanta, Georgia. Born July 24, 1847, near Belfast, Maine, Mr. Dickey migrated to Wisconsin. He continued westward and came in 1889 to Ashland where he resided until his death. He is survived by his wife and three children, Miss Nellie Dickey and Floyd Dickey of Ashland and Mrs. H. P. Kervin of Los Angeles.

THE DAILES, Ore., Sept. 28.—(AP)—Word was received here today from Senator McNary's Washington, D. C. office that the public works administration has approved a grant of $108,400 for construction of a port terminal on the Columbia river here.

PILGRIMS HOLINESS CHURCH
Rev. C. Edwin Cox, Pastor
Res. 540 South Fir St.
East Jackson St., and Bessie, near Roosevelt School.
"The conies are but a feeble folk, yet make their houses in the rocks," said Solomon and those words could readily be applied to the spiritual habitation of the children of God and the little faithful band of The Pilgrim Holiness church in this city. The church had its beginning in this city about six years ago when a few folk sent to the headquarters of the organization of this district, in Pasadena, Calif., and asked for some of its ministers or superintendents to come and hold a revival meeting, which was conducted in a gospel tent on East Main street, near the old S. P. depot. From this meeting a small group was organized into the church.
The members have struggled to maintain the places of worship which was held in the hall upstairs on East Main street, in the large house on Haven street, which was used for services and the place for the pastor to live, and in the members' homes, until at last the church council gave them a building in the Keno district. This was taken down and moved to Medford. Many know the struggles which have followed.
Today the present structure on the site is the result of long hard struggling, prayers and sacrifice, on the part of all, and the reward of patience in well doing when everything goes hard.

The present building was dedicated Sunday, Sept. 15th, out of debt.
The work on the building was all donated service, and was superintended by Robert Snider, a contractor and builder of the church.
Many men from other churches have given their work and to them we are more than grateful.
The church board decided on the location after many attempts had been made to get a lot elsewhere, and failed. Then too on the East Side of the city there is but one other church

REV. HARDING TO ADDRESS YOUNG PEOPLE'S RALLY

Rev. U. E. Harding of Portland, Ore., will be the speaker Sunday night. He is speaking under the auspices of the young people's auxiliary which is sponsoring an outstanding program. Three young people will also speak during the evening program, including Miss Lois Snyder, Mrs. Ethel Kornstad and Miss Helen Wilson. They will speak from the following respective topics: "Why a Young People's Crusade for Christ," "What Makes a True Christian Different," and "What I Believe, and Why." Those appearing on the musical program include Misses Mabel, Anna and Flora Scheel; Mrs. Beatrice Youakim, Miss Ruth Schoville, Mrs. Ethel Kornstad and Fred Hall, and Vernon Keck, violinist.
Fred M. Weatherford, pastor-evangelist, will be heard at the 11 o'clock morning worship, speaking from the topic, "What Will the Harvest Be?" A reception of new members will be a feature during the morning worship.
Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Arnold Kornstad, superintendent. We invite friends and strangers to study the Word of God, which is the bulwark of the nation.
Young People's society: Miss Helen Scheel, president. The young people's crusade rally to be held in the Presbyterian church at the corner of Holy and Eighth streets, will take the place of the usual young people's meeting. Miss Scheel will deliver a brief open-

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 28.—(AP)—Religious leaders of Portland and other Oregon points today received letters from President Roosevelt in which he asked their counsel on the progress of the administration's social security and works program.
Inquiry revealed the letters were sent liberally to Protestant ministers, Catholic priests and Jewish rabbis.
Clergymen who were reached for comment were disposed to take the matter seriously, they said.
Dr. Raymond B. Walker, chairman of the commission on social and industrial betterment of Portland council of churches, decided to call a special conference of pastors of the city at which the letters will be discussed. The meeting will be held on next Tuesday.
A report containing the "average" expressions of the pastors will be sent to the president, although this will in no way preclude the right of the clergymen to make individual reply. Use Mail Tribune want ads.
