In a friendly golf tournament between the Medford and the Grants Pass Rotary clubs following the regular weekly meeting yesterday afternoon, the Medford delegation of club artists managed to mark up an 11-8 win over their Cavenem rivals at the Rogue Valley links.

George Hunt of Medford and C. J. Bemon of Medford both defeated their opponents, Ray Cowden and Jimmy Christensen, by scores of 3 to 0, while George Henselman of Medford defeated Harold Voorhis of Grants Pass, 2 and 1.

O. W. Ellis of Medford and Ole Hansen of Grants Pass divided honors with a point and a half apiece. Walter Leverette dropped his match to M. D. Clark of Grants Pass, 2 and 1, and Charles Cooley of Grants Pass defeated Orin Schenk 2 and 1.

The matches were so successful that it was decided to continue them.

2000 K. F. FANS AT OPENING GRAPPLE

Before a packed house of over 2,000 excited spectators, the Klamath Falls Army was officially opened last night by Promoter Mack Lillard who presented an all-star wrestling card, featuring a battle-royal of five coast heavyweights as the finale.

"Toots" Estes tangled with Danny Savich in the final of the battle-royal, after the two had eliminated Joe Hubka, Harry Demaral and Al Karasick. The two had a terrific battle in getting rid of Karasick, who battled valiantly against the two for over five minutes. There was something gallant in the way the grizzled old fighter withstood their pummeling for so long. Estes took the final fall with his famous flying-slingshot tackle.

As usual "Marine" Kennaston bulldozed his way to a win over a smaller opponent, "Babe" Estes, twin brother of Toots, two out of three falls, and as usual, the referee handed the match to the opponent on a foul. Floyd Wolfgang of Medford beat his way to a win over Curly Woods of Medford in the opener.

Lillard stated last night that he has not yet lined up the matches, to be held here next Monday night, but indicated that the two Estes brothers will appear, with a probability that Savich and Hubka will also be on the card. He will make a definite announcement in the next day or two.

HOG PRICES DIVE AS WHEAT SOARS

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Hog prices tumbled $1.35 a hundred pounds today below the 1935 peak established at $12.25 less than a month ago, despite the smallest September receipts here since 1927.

Yesterday's top price of $10.90, brought quotations below the $11.00 mark for the first time since July. Average prices in Chicago were around $10.00, compared with $11.15 a week ago and only $9.00 a year ago.

While hog prices remained on the soboagan, wheat in Chicago spurred upward almost four cents a bushel on rumors that war in Ethiopia would break out within a week. Wheat for December delivery stopped at $1.02 1/2 a bushel, a new top for the season.

LENHART TOO MUCH FOR YOUNG GIBBONS

SEATTLE, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Fred Lenhart, Tacoma light heavyweight, proved too much of a trial horse for Jack Gibbons of St. Paul in their 10-round boxing battle here last night, and the son of the famous Mike Gibbons failed to earn a match with Freddie Steele, Tacoma's sensational middleweight. Lenhart sealed 17 1/2 and Gibbons 12 1/2.

Gibbons piled up about a four-point lead in the first seven rounds, but took a bad lacing in the last three, two officials giving the decision to Lenhart and one calling it a draw. With his extra weight advantage, the Tacoma battler walloped Gibbons down, and landed several hefty punches in the closing round.

CALIFORNIAN LANDS 10-POUND STEELHEAD

GRANTS PASS, Oct. 2.—(Sp.)—C. W. Courtney, Los Angeles fisherman, landed a 10-pound 4-ounce steelhead at Feather Chase Monday, after 45 minutes of hard fighting, according to fishermen here. He used a Professor Fly, Courtney, with F. A. Barnes, also of Los Angeles, made a boat trip down to Helgate Monday and each caught the limit of steelhead, which is 15 pounds and one fish.

ON THE FOOTBALL FRONT

By the Associated Press.

CORVALLIS, Ore., Oct. 2.—(AP)—Unusually keen competition for line berths has developed at Oregon State College, where a number of sophomores are making the going tough for veterans.

The starting line averages just 200 pounds, but many of the replacements run heavier. Frank Ramsey, sophomore tackle from Aberdeen, Wash., is heaviest at 235 pounds. He may see action either at tackle or center against UCLA at Portland Saturday, Coach Lon Stiner indicated.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Coach Bill Spaulding today leads 31 U. C. L. Bruins on a football regime that will pit them against Oregon State at Portland next Saturday and Stanford at Palo Alto the following week-end.

EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 2.—(AP)—University of Oregon's half of the "pinch-hitting" Patrick twins lived up to expectations in last Saturday's game and probably will see action here next Saturday against University of Utah.

It was a big day for the Patricks Saturday. Bill figured prominently as a reserve ball packer in University of Oregon's win over Gonzaga. His twin brother, Bob, at Oregon State College, carried the ball from midfield to a touchdown in three plays against Willamette.

Both depend on speed rather than size, and are good pinch-hitting ball carriers to send in against a tired team.

SEATTLE, Oct. 2.—(AP)—With no injuries reported from the Idaho game, Coach Jimmy Phelan's Washington Huskies were tearing into heavy-duty workouts today in preparation for their clash with the Santa Clara Broncos here Saturday.

SANTA CLARA, Calif., Oct. 2.—(AP)—To simulate conditions that may face the Broncos in their engagement with University of Washington at Seattle Saturday, Coach Clippert Smith sloshed water on the ball before the centers slipped it to the quarterbacks in practice yesterday.

MOSCOW, Idaho, Oct. 2.—(AP)—The University of Idaho football team today began tapering off practice for the Gonzaga game at Spokane Saturday with all but one of its players recovered from injuries. The exception was Earl Ritzheimer, varsity reserve fullback last year, who had been counted on for much action this season.

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 2.—(AP)—It looked today as if Sophomore George Karamatic would do the kicking for Gonzaga when the Bulldogs meet the University of Idaho Vandals here next Saturday in a non-conference football game.

Ray Olson, regular punter, is suffering from a leg injury.

ROGUES, PROSPECT TO PLAY WINDUP

The Medford Rogues baseball team, tired of inaction, will play the last game of the season Sunday when they meet the Prospect Townies at Prospect. It was announced today. Some of the regular Rogue players have departed for the hinterland, but the backbone of the team, with Bauman on the mound, Gilbert behind the plate, and such stars as Arnie, Currell, Haffard, George Smith, Demoran, Reinking and Bud Coelin, will be on hand.

The team has been out of uniform most of the time since the break-up of the Southern Oregon league, and will disband for the season after this game. Already plans are afoot for a bigger and better baseball season next year, and a concerted effort will be made to bring the league pennant to Medford. It has been away for so long now that most have forgotten the feeling, but the Rogues feel that if they enter the season next year with the pick of the players that appeared under their colors at various times this year, they will have a fine chance of bringing home the bacon.

FIRST TURKEYS GOING EAST SOON

PORTLAND, Oct. 2.—(AP)—The season's first carload of Oregon turkeys is being prepared here for shipment to New York, probably Friday.

G. W. Norton, head of the Northwest Poultry and Dairy Products Co., which is assembling the shipment, said the turkeys were of fine quality and large this season, with a slightly larger crop in sight than last year.

Norton said only five birds were being received for the shipment, so they could be dressed and placed at once into the desired refrigeration.

This is the earliest that any material supply of new crop holiday birds has been offered.

Tonight is "Bloody Wednesday" for Coach Bill Bowerman's charges. Once a week, particularly after the regular playing season, the new coach will run his men through an hour of intense scrimmage. On Monday and Tuesday the boys are generally still sore from the game of the week before, so heavy drilling is not advisable. On Thursday and Friday some care must be taken to avoid bumps and pulled muscles that might keep a player out of Saturday's game, so "Bloody Wednesday" was born. We believe the heavy scrimmage first got its name when Prink Callison was coaching here, and it was well named. It probably will be again.

We sometimes wonder why the Catholic colleges on the coast, at least those located in the larger cities, are changing their names, and with the name of the school also changing the nickname of the team. A few years ago the present University of San Francisco was known as St. Ignatius. A much better name, we believe. And their teams were known as "The Grey Fog." Dressed in all-grey uniforms, the name indicated theraith-like qualities of the shifty backs for which the teams were noted, and "fog" was a criticism enough to suggest a change. Except the San Francisco chamber of commerce. Apparently the civic pride was badly bruised when such press dispatches as this appeared along the coast: "The 'Grey Fog' rolled out of San Francisco this afternoon and completely obscured the sun. It was from the sunnier part of the state."

A delegation from the chamber put it up to the students of the school, and now the picturesque name has gone into limbo, and the teams are posted as the San Francisco Dons. A real loss to the color and pageantry of football, two of the intangible qualities that bring out as many as 80,000 spectators in a single afternoon.

Last year the Columbia university of Portland sent its name by the southern Oregon experimental station near Talent was to be inspected this afternoon by a group of Medford men, comprising Mayor George W. Foster, B. E. Harder, president of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce; H. A. Thieroff, chamber vice-president; A. H. Bennett, chamber manager; Moore Hamilton, W. H. Lydard, County Judge E. B. Day, Commissioner Ralph Billings, Commissioner L. O. Caster, O. O. Alenderfer, W. F. Isaacs and J. Verne Shingle.

Floyd House, Medford speedboat pilot and enthusiastic nimrod, has caught the big mule deer he shot last week in the Albert Lake rim district, in the Peters Ammunition Co. "big buck" contest. The animal, which dressed 201 pounds, had six points on one side and four on the other. Three others in the party, Clyde Scott, and Lawrence and William Meeks of Grants, had also brought back a buck each.

Seaman Acquitted Portland Bombing

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 2.—(AP)—Howard Scroggins, union seaman, was acquitted of bombing a Standard oil service station during last spring's tanker strike, in a verdict returned last yesterday by a circuit court jury. The vote was 10 to 2 in acquittal.

Joseph G. O'Brien, tried in July on the same charge, also was acquitted.
