What the Girl Scouts Are Doing Girl Scout activities are again in full swing. Scouting is thought of in terms of a happy, busy occupation. It summons the energetic, eager and up-to-date girl who wants help in keeping her leisure time happily and healthily occupied. Girl Scouts themselves think they have found the simplest, most practical and entertaining way of handling the problem of the growing girl. Members invite all girls to join a Girl Scout troop in their vicinities, to find out for themselves the joys of Girl Scout adventures. A few changes have been made in the Girl Scout troops and their programs: Troop 2, with Mrs. Gray as captain, meets Monday afternoon at the Girl Scout office; troop 4, Ruth Meusel captain, meets Monday evening at Girl Scout headquarters; troop 5 with Mrs. Yae Valasa as

JUSTICES READY TO MOVE MONDAY WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The untiring efforts of the late Chief Justice William Howard Taft were credited today with having played a major part in promoting the $11,500,000 building in which the supreme court will meet for the first time Monday. While he alive to see the massive white marble edifice, court attaches said, some special ceremony probably would have been arranged in his honor by today's colleagues. As it is the nine members of the nation's highest tribunal are expected to assemble, step from behind red velvet drapes and quietly go to work on more than 400 cases, several of them involving key new deal legislation.

Next Friday evening, October 11, an old fashioned Harvest Sale of produce, combined with an old time box social will be conducted by the Salvation Army in the Sparta building, Main and Riverside streets. According to Captain Durham, a great variety of fruits, vegetables, canned goods, pies and cakes will be auctioned off and he suggests that housewives who have not completed their canning of tomatoes, prunes, grapes, etc., attend and make their purchases. Following the auction sale of produce an old fashioned box social will take place. It is expected that about 60 boxes of food, furnished by the ladies, will be auctioned off to the men. After all boxes are sold the good things provided in the boxes. Captain Durham says that all and sundry are invited to this party and that so long as there is standing room none will be turned away. Any lady who wishes to fill and decorate a box may do so—just bring it to the Sparta building before seven o'clock next Friday evening. Special music will be provided throughout the evening.
