Reserve Officers To Meet Thursday At Tengwald Cabin

A meeting of U. S. army reserve officers will be held at 7 p. m. October 10, at Captain Carl Y. Tengwald's summer cabin on Crater Lake highway. It was announced yesterday. Maj. C. S. CHEST COMMITTEE ALLOTS FUNDS ON EQUITABLE BASIS

The executive committee of the Community Chest for 1935, comprised of M. N. Hogan, chairman; Leonard Carpenter, Raymond R. Reter, M. D. Field, A. J. Hauk, C. D. Bean and W. S. Bolger, has been faithfully working for the last five weeks with some fifteen night meetings lasting from two to three and a half hours, consulting with the budget committees of the participating organizations as to their needs and as to what they have done in the past.

In a statement Saturday, Eugene Thorndike, president of the chest, said: "It is necessary that this work be done before the Community chest drive and, as of past years, this executive committee has performed its task very efficiently."

"Another interesting fact about the Medford community chest is that our chest has the largest number of individual contributors of any of the same per capita in the United States."

Further, it has been commented upon many times as to its efficient operation and the total results from the association's activities.

"If you have noticed in this paper under the heading, 'Where the Chest Dollars Go,' you will have read just a very few of the incidents of relief and character building that are taking place in Jackson county through the Community Chest every day in the year."

"A further fact of interest is that there are over one hundred citizens that throughout the entire year give voluntarily of their time and, in many instances, automobile expense, to investigate cases, to move children and the sick to hospitals, and the delivery of food and clothing."

"Therefore, it is without apology that your Community Chest executive committee asks you in 1935 to give to the limit of your ability."
