

REGENT OF D. A. R. TO BRING WORD OF PILGRIMAGE PLAN

Mrs. Mark Weatherford of Albany, state regent, Oregon Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, in addition to presenting her annual message to the 28 chapters throughout the state on her official visit this fall, will report on the establishment in Oregon of the D. A. R. good citizenship pilgrimage, by which a high school girl selected for her outstanding qualities in citizenship, will be rewarded with a pilgrimage to Washington next April when the Daughters assemble for their 45th continental congress. Mrs. William A. Becker of New Jersey, president general of the national society and chairman D. A. R. Good Citizenship Pilgrimage committee, announces that provision has been made for every state to send its pilgrim in April, 1936. "We are choosing one girl," says Mrs. Becker. "But we are training many in good citizenship." The pilgrims will arrive in the national capital Friday, April 17th, in order to start out Saturday morning. Three full days will be given over to sight-seeing and the girls will depart for home on Tuesday, April 21st. The expense will be borne by the national society, Daughters of the American Revolution, through a per capita tax. Under the chaperonage of Mrs. Charles J. Rutledge, of Cambridge, Mass., and her able assistants the girls will be entertained at the Hotel Martinique.

The state committee is comprised of the state chairmen of the same committees, with the regent, Mrs. Weatherford as chairman; National Defense Through Patriotic Education, Mrs. J. W. McIntire, Marshfield; Approved Schools, Mrs. C. A. Sprague, Salem; Press Relations, Mrs. Pearce Davis, Portland, and Transportation, Mrs. Samuel H. Knox, Portland. Mrs. John Y. Richardson of Portland, a member of the cabinet of the national society and national vice-chairman of national defense, is also a member of the committee and plans to arrange for the winners from the eight states in the Pacific coast division to meet and make the pilgrimage to Washington together. An outstanding girl is to be chosen from each high school by the graduating class in collaboration with the faculty. The girl to represent the state is selected from this group in a manner to be decided by the members of the D. A. R. state committee in co-operation with the state superintendent of schools. The selection will be based on the choice of the best citizen, the girl, who through dependability, service, leadership and patriotism, has shown the highest qualifications of citizenship. No essay contest is required. A good citizenship medal will be presented to the winners who do not go to Washington.

According to Mrs. Weatherford, the contest for the first pilgrimage will be held in high schools of cities in the state only where there are D. A. R. chapters established, and will be under the supervision of the individual chapter regents. The list of chapters, regents, and date of Mrs. Weatherford's official visit this fall includes Mt. Ashland, Ashland, Mrs. John Oadnow, October 16; Rogue River, Grants, Miss Salinas Van Cott, October 17; Crater Lake, Medford, Mrs. F. J. Newman, October 17.

Rev. Dawes to Give Series of Sermons on Book of Romans

For several weeks the Sunday morning of Rev. Wolford A. Dawes of the First Baptist church will be on the book of Romans. Each sermon will be complete.

Romans is one of the great books of the Bible. Luther said: "The books of John and Romans are a guide for life. The more one reads Romans the more will be gotten from it. In this book one learns that God is no respecter of persons."

Written at Corinth about 58 A. D. on Paul's third missionary journey. "Paul," said Rev. Dawes, "at the beginning of his letter told who he was and why he spoke as he did."

"Those who do not claim to be denominational are generally connected with some unknown sect. Not ashamed to be a Baptist."

"Not ashamed is to be a fundamentalist, when it means to believe the whole truth and nothing but the truth."

"Not ashamed to be a Christian, Paul, a minister of the Gospel, explained the gospel that God has given to us: 'Truth saith the Lord.'"

"The Lord Jesus Christ a pure, righteous and holy founder of the gospel. The founders of other gospels have passed on. Jesus Christ, the Son of God, with power by resurrection from the dead. A challenge to the false religions."

Desire for Power Strong in Man is Word of Minister

Speaking from the Church of the Nazarene pulpit, Sunday morning, Fred M. Weatherford, pastor-angelist, used as his text Acts 1:8—"But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you; and ye shall be witnesses both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth."

"Christ was here addressing the twelve disciples in general," said the pastor. "They had become partakers of the new birth. Christ had chosen them as His ministers, but they had not as yet been baptized with the Holy Ghost. This, He said, would be accomplished not many days hence."

"The time limit expressed creates an eager anticipation of joyful faith expectancy, for the promise is not out there in the dim distant future."

"There probably is no instinct so strong in man as his desire for power. It is the dominant passion of the human race. Man's carnal thirst for power is chargeable for more than half the world's bloodshed. Mussolini's invasion of Ethiopia; without the slightest provocation, is an illustration."

"Man was created to have dominion, to fulfill his destiny without power, but he must first be aligned with God before supernatural power is available to him in the sense of God-authorized dominion. God created him for a throne; Satan promised him a kingdom; but there is a vast difference between God's purpose and Satan's promise. Satan's promise reminds one of a political demagogue who gains your interest to serve his selfish objective. Satan's way is self-assertive. God's way is self-denial and submission to His will."

"God's way to the badge of authority is by the rule of obedience. A study of Pentecostal power reveals a startling contrast between the promise of power and its absence in the church today. Is it not a fact that the diminutive outreach of the church is due to the decay of its intensive faith? If that be true, then the failure of the church today is the poverty of the spiritual life of its people."

Mr. and Mrs. William Dunn, who have spent the past three weeks as guests of Mrs. Dunn's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Tong, will leave this evening to spend a few weeks in California before returning to their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. Day will be hosts this evening to their dinner club at their home, entertaining about twelve guests.

Schoolboys to Build Garages

The trades and industries class of the senior high school, under the direction of Leland Mentzer, embarked yesterday morning on a building program. The class, numbering 24, has been divided into two groups of 12, each of which will build a garage on the school grounds. The garages will be portable, and upon completion will be put up for sale. This is the first time a dual building plan has been used, and Mr. Mentzer believes that the competition made possible by duplicate work will prove valuable to the students.

The class will also construct a bicycle shed for the Jackson school, which will be built on the Jackson school grounds. Several boys in Mr. Mentzer's classes are working as apprentices in downtown shops, under his supervision, and receive school credit, as well as wages for their work.

Girl Scout Camp Provides Happy Vacation Weeks

Have you ever had the privilege of visiting a Girl Scout camp? Groups of girls in their pleasing uniforms of apple green shorts with blue and white collared blouses— all happy and busily engaged! A wind blows through the woods around them, showering their green outdoor costumes with bright colored leaves. We hear laughter, sometimes a snatch of singing!

What happier vacation place than this to which girls can come of their own free will, live together 24 hours a day in a community made up of members of the same age and interests, with a selected group of trained and understanding adults.

Through the efforts of the local Girl Scout council, 50 Medford Girl Scouts had the opportunity of camping this summer at Lake of the Woods. Camp McLoughlin was operated very successfully for two weeks under the direction of a very splendid staff of counselors. The aim of the camp was to see that the girls enjoyed themselves and that they learned new things.

Adventure called! Whether it was a hiking trip to the top of Mt. McLoughlin, evenings around the campfire, singing songs or dramatizing, a treasure hunt, a water carnival, archery tournaments, song service along the lake shore in "Scouts Own," a study of the stars through the telescope. The girls had the satisfaction of exploring new trails, managing their own little unit, fixing up their own home and sharing in the activities and duties of the camp.

Truly this was a trying out place where each girl had the time and opportunity of finding some definite time of study. Here she may have found the first step leading to a chosen career.

Ashland High School Doors Jimmied Open; Burglars Get Nothing

ASHLAND, Oct. 8.—(Sp.)—Fingerprint locks on five heavy doors at Ashland high school were jimmied by unknown persons Sunday night, in what city police think was a futile attempt to rob the school of the receipts from the Damamuir-Ashland football game Saturday.

With a rail chisel and a straight screw-driver which may have been pilfered from the railroad yards, the prowler battered through the side door into the gymnasium, jimmied another lock to gain access to the dressing room and pried open a third door to get into the main hall.

Nothing seemed to have been stolen, according to E. C. Fogarty, principal.

The invader broke into Forsythe's office and looked into a closet, disarranging the contents, which included a quantity of athletic equipment.

The school safe is kept in the office of Superintendent George A. Briscoe, but no money is ever kept there and the safe is always unlocked. A sign to that effect hangs on its door. This office was not entered. The would-be robber also broke open the front door into the assembly room. Students' lockers in the dressing room were opened. Police found the tools near the first door entered and started an immediate check of the railroad yards. A freight train left town while police officers were at the school, and they think they might have frightened the prowler out of the building, who could have caught the freight at the end of Mountain avenue. Cost of replacing the damaged locks on the doors is estimated at $15 each. Use Mail Tribune want ads.
