

AMERICA FACING MORAL ISSUE IS ECONOMISTS VIEW

Sir Josiah Stamp Says Italian Action Calls for Protest From Whole World—Clear Issue for League

By SIR JOSIAH STAMP, Economist and Director of the Bank of England. (Written for the Associated Press.)

LONDON, Oct. 9.—(AP)—America today is facing the biggest moral issue of her history in view of the grave turn of events in the international situation.

It is the difference between active participation in measures necessary to save the world and merely a state of letting things take their own course, perhaps profiting by them for a time.

Definite Situation. If Italy intended to go to war it is as well the situation is now definite. We are no longer dealing with a hypothesis. The situation is definite in a way that enables the world to judge very simply and clearly the issues involved. It is not clouded by any doubts about intentions or justification.

Any nation which signed the Kellogg pact and has solemnly undertaken not to use war as a weapon of force for the settlement of disputes, and breaks that undertaking, faces a protest from the whole world. This gives the league a clear issue, though there may not immediately be a clear program for dealing with it.

Obviously any action which league members may take to show their disapproval and prevent Italy from being assisted will depend on the extent to which non-league nations realize the jeopardy to the world and behave sympathetically.

Non-league nations may not join in actual formal acts of the league, but if they allow their individuals to step in and take personal advantage of the economic situation so created they will be acting not only against the interests of the league but their own interests—in the civilization to stand.

Moral Issue Drawn. America could be only cynically indifferent at the price of Europe in ruins and Europe in ruins can never be of moral to America.

The moral issue from America is the difference between active participation in measures necessary to save the world and a state of letting things slide.

"Camels don't get your Wind"

SAY THE DETROIT TIGERS 1935 WORLD CHAMPIONS

Here's the line-up on the smoking preference of the new world champions:

19 OUT OF 22 OF THE TIGERS SMOKE CAMELS

MICKEY COCHRANE (below): "The boys say Camels are milder." PETE FOX (below): "Camels don't get my wind. That proves how mild Camels are."

THE TIGERS "BIG FOUR" PITCHERS

BILL ROGELL (right): "Camels never jangle my nerves, and I smoke all I want. Camels taste better too."

ELDEN AUKER (left), SCHOOLBOY ROWE (next to Elden), ALVIN CROWDER (next to Schoolboy) agree with TOMMY BRIDGES (right), who says: "I smoke Camels because I can smoke as many as I like. Camels don't affect my wind or give me jumpy nerves."

Today Detroit glories in its first World Championship! These 1935 Tigers have punched out a story of courage and energy that stands among the masterpieces. They could "take it"! What do the Tigers say about smoking? Here's Mickey Cochrane, dynamic Tiger manager: "One thing the team agree on is their choice of cigarettes—Camels. The Tigers say they can smoke all they want because Camels are so mild that they don't get their wind or upset their nerves." How about taste? Jo-Jo White says: "Camels always taste better." You'll like Camel's mildness too. Camels never upset your nerves or tire your taste.
