SONS' ONLY HOPE LIES IN PASSES BY MAX GILINSKY

Eberhart's Green Outfit Expects to Take to Air Against Ducklings—Hard Scrimmage During Week

ASHLAND, Oct. 11.—(Sp.)—Coach Jean Eberhart's green Southern Oregon Normal school SONS will pound into the field in Medford Saturday with but one faint hope stirring in their respective hearts for a victory over what is called the greatest University of Oregon freshman team in the past 20 years.

It will be through the air with sharp-shooting little Max Gilinsky doing the tossing, that the SONS will stake their chances and hopes for their first victory of the year, and revenge for the 7-0 beating at the hands of the Ducklings last year.

Defeated 6-0 by Pacific and 20-0 by the Oregon State Rooks, the SONS, without a veteran in their ranks, will shoot all the works Saturday, and pray that one of those beautiful heaves of Gilinsky's finds the arms of a receiver.

Dangerous Offense.

With Gilinsky, a former Medford high star, sparking the unit—now futile attack, the SONS nevertheless will present a dangerous offense that with a few breaks, some slam bang blocking and aggressive offensive play in the line, might really go to town.

Against the baby Webfoots, who are as yet untested, but who are three deep in man-power at every position, that passing attack of the SONS is the greatest and probably the only real threat to the honor of mighty Oregon.

Another one of Medford's sons will be seen in action when the two teams clash. Bob Hinman, last year's Red and Black wingman, will be at the same post for the Oregon Fresh.

See Hard Scrimmage.

After a tough scrimmage week, Eberhart has just about decided upon his starting lineup, although a change or two may be made before game time. It is the same that has seen most of the action in the SONS two previous games. Percy Williamson, lanky 178 pounder from Hayward, California, and Darrell Levens, 180-pound former Franklin high of Portland star, will be at the wing posts; big Warren Okeson, 194-pound batter from Hayward, and Cliff "Red" Strom, 190, from Bend will take care of the tackle berths; Fred Carlson, last year's Oregon Fresh flash, and Johnny Paasaga, 180 from Klamath Falls, will be at the guards and another Hayward, California, giant, Forest Arlington, will bend over the ball.

To the light, fast-stepping backfield, Medford's Max Gilinsky will be in the ball carrying left halfback position with southpaw Virgil Horne, 155, from Cottage Grove, in the other halfback spot; John Chipley, 170, last year's SONS reserve, will bark the plays and John Shumway, 168, from Redmond, will be at the line cracking fullback position.

May Use Gault.

A last minute change may see Jerry Gault, 240-pound former SONS star shoved into a tackle berth and Red Strom, who last year

He's Tough SON

John Shumway is noted as the toughest man on the 1935 SONS grid squad. He weighs 168 pounds, plays either full or half, and hails from Redmond.

was named All-Eastern Oregon fullback, pulled from the line to take Shumway's place in the backfield.

It will be a battle of two teams using the same colorful, shifting, passing, reversing system of attack as taught by Prink Callison. Honest John Warren, who made history at Astoria for many years and who is handling the Duckling reins at his alma mater for the first time, has coached his team into a small scale replica of what Callison turns out with his varsity, and Eberhart, for four years at University high, uses the same method of attack.

BEAVER, GONZAGA TILT PITS TEAMS POINTED FOR OFFENSIVE STYLE

CORVALLIS, Ore., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Two out-and-out offensive football teams will clash here tomorrow night when Oregon State college and Gonzaga university play.

Gonzaga, always an offensive team showing plenty of forward passes and concentrating on speed, will find its style of play matched by the new offensive used by the Beavers. In addition to frequent passes, the Beavers plan to use more deception, featuring a short punt formation. Coach Tom Stiner said.

Concentrating further on offense in this week's practice, Coach Stiner shook up the starting lineup to give the team more speed in the backfield. Lynn Jackson, recovered from early season injuries, was shifted from left half to fullback.

Still another sophomore, Bill Duncan, replaced Woerner at guard. Duncan is a splendid pass receiver, and speedy.

Gonzaga's sparkling young triple-threatener, Karamatic, caused University of Oregon plenty of worry and will be closely watched by the Beavers. Fullback Tom McNeese of Gonzaga also is a dangerous broken field runner.

KANSAS CITY—Roland Kirchmeyer, Oklaboma, 235, won on a foul from Karl Davis, 240, New York.

Fishing continues excellent along the Rogue in this sector. Fishing at the Shady Cove bridge earlier in the week, L. E. Cleverberg of Medford hooked and landed nine fine trout, and Al Knutsen, who ties his own flies, hooked four steelhead and landed three of them. The best fly is probably the March brown, with the royal and bucktail coachman also favorites.

Salmon are now through spawning, and will occasionally take a fly. All in all, the fishing has been better than for the past several weeks, ever since the recent rain. Water sent down from above Savage Rapids dam on Monday caused fresher conditions on down the river and stimulated runs to that point, and the effect is now being felt in this section. Sea-run cut-throat trout are plentiful in the river, even more so than in the past, and many of the variety have been reported.

17 'NATIVE SONS' ON WEBFOOT SQUAD READY TO SHOW HOME STATE

EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Seventeen "Native Sons" on the University of Oregon football squad will be ready to show their home state a few things when the Webfoots play the University of California in Portland Saturday.

Stan Riordan, end; Ed Farrar, center; and Bud Goodin, left half, are three California youths who will be in the starting lineup for Oregon. Another may be John Engstrom, a transfer from St. Mary's who is sure to see action before the game is over.

Possibly more than half of the California lads on the Oregon squad will see action and they are keyed up to a high pitch.

Ken Skinner, 215-pound sophomore, probably will start at right tackle in place of Engstrom. Another sophomore to crash the starting lineup is Tony Amato at right guard in place of Goodin.

Luckily Oregon has been able to win its two pre-conference games without showing all its plays, but will open the bag wide against the Golden Bears who have a light but exceptionally fast team.

Young Jackson Wins Nod Over Frenchman

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Young Peter Jackson, 140½, Los Angeles negro, who wears the California lightweight championship crown, today held a 10-round decision won in last night's main event here over Gaston Le Cadre, 142½, of France.

The only knockdown came in the seventh round when Jackson's right uppercut sent Le Cadre down for a no count.

Commerce, Grant In Scoreless Tie

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 10.—(AP)—In another upset, Commerce high held the big Grant high school football team to a scoreless tie here yesterday.

Each team made several sustained drives, all of which halted short of the 10-yard line. Grant made 19 first down and Commerce nine.

The Dalles had one in 1923 or before, and other schools have followed this through.

Medford will have a grass field next year, with seeding due in the near future. Klamath Falls, with a fine athletic plant already installed, is talking of further improving their set-up with turf for next year, indicating another rivalry between Medford and the Pelican City. The Klamath field now has a fine grandstand, running nearly the entire length of the field on one side, although it is not covered, being really a bleacher. They have a large and impressive looking brick field house, with dressing rooms, lavatories and showers. They have overhead lights, although it remains to be seen whether these will be an asset or a liability.

At present, Medford has few of these advantages, but by next year the plant will be well under way with a large covered grandstand, ample bleachers, a field dressing room under the stands, a turf field, and probably a running track. (Klamath has a running track, possibly accounting for the increased speed noted in their team.)

GREENBERG WRIST IN PLASTER CAST

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Hank Greenberg, the big first baseman of the world champion Detroit Tigers, fretted today at the delay to his activities caused by a plaster cast encasing his left wrist, fractured a week ago in the second game of the series with the Chicago Cubs.

The third set of X-rays of the wrist disclosed the fracture last night. Previous photographs, made after Greenberg's collision with Catcher Gabby Hartnett in the seventh inning, had not disclosed the minute cracks. Dr. William E. Keane, Tiger physician, said.

Dr. Keane said the injury was not serious, and that the wrist would be "as good as new" after six weeks of treatment.

ALBINO BUCK SIGHTED IN PROVOLT DISTRICT HAS HUNTERS' INTEREST

Odities among the wild animals of this district are being continually noted. Last week Jack Hemstreet spotted an entirely white robin in his yard on Pennsylvania avenue, and several of his neighbors have noted the bird since.

About two years ago Sgt. Ed Walker, of the game department of the state police, killed a doe deer, fully equipped with a fine spread of antlers.

Antlers does are not entirely uncommon. Fry Diamond having also killed one several years ago. Almost any old timer in this district calls to mind at least one such instance, but very few records of albino deer are on record.

Now comes this story from Esther Bristol, Mail Tribune correspondent at Provoit: "A beautiful snow-white buck, of magnificent size, has been seen in this district. Glen Hunter of Provoit, hunting with two guests from Portland, Stephen Mayer and Verle Bonebrake, sighted the unusual animal while hunting along the top ridge of Bruskey creek near Provoit Sunday afternoon."

An albino deer killed near Roseburg about eight years ago was considered such a prize that several local nimrods hope to try for a chance at the Provoit buck.
