Communications

George Yields to Public Demand To the Editor:

I am being asked continually why I don't write any more articles; the reason is that I do not want to meddle into any subjects but taxes, Town Township plan and rentals. I do not know any more about Russia or the New Deal than the writers who write on those subjects, so I figure I better keep still.

I have an article to write on each of my subjects and will take taxes this time.

I have noticed several articles lately as to how fine the various departments are getting along, etc., and that is fine, too.

But why shouldn't they get along fine. They are getting everything they ask for and more money every year, so everything is lovely and the goose hangs high, for the public official.

But now what of the poor devil who has to pay the fiddler? I take one of my own properties as a sample. Two years ago the tax was $46.77, last year $52.01, this year $56.12—next year it will be $60.

People who have no ties whatever; no property, no taxes, etc., are getting all the work they can handle at fine wages—relief work, of course, but it buys the same groceries, while the man who got ahead and by scrimping managed to get himself a home cannot get a day's work and has taxes staring him in the face with prospect of losing his home because he cannot pay them.

I have just compared the city budgets for the past three years. The operating expense in the 1934 budget was $98,673.80, for 1935 it was $107,766.24, and the new 1936 budget calls for $121,150.95.

Why, of course, they get along fine; an increase of $22,000 in that short a time just to operate city departments. Well, here's to the well-fed public official. The taxpayer is too lazy to object, so you should worry.

GEO. IVERSON.

FOODCASTS

by Pearl W. McElhatten.

Do you know the Golden Rule for soups? Heavy soups for light meals and light soups for heavy meals.

Don't forget that milk loses none of its nutritive values even when it sours, and there are many excellent cooking uses for sour milk.

Left-over vegetables can really be a blessing in disguise. It's no trick at all to turn them into an interesting purée by mashing the cooked vegetables through a strainer and thickening, if too thin, with crumbled Krispy Crackers.

You can easily make your dinners as dramatic as a three-act play! The first act (appetizers) should arouse interest... the second act (soup) should intensify the curiosity... and the climax comes in the third act (main course). Dessert is the epilogue. But don't fail to have Krispy Crackers usher you to your seat!

"I say it's spinach and I like it" will be the new version of the spinach joke, if you serve this delicious loaf:

SPINACH LOAF
1½ pounds raw spinach
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2½ teaspoons lemon juice
18 Sunshine Krispy Crackers, rolled fine
1 egg
1 tablespoon butter
¼ pound mushrooms, cut small (chopped ¼ cup grated cheese may be omitted)
¼ cup buttered Krispy Cracker crumbs

Wash spinach thoroughly. Cook slowly without water 15 minutes. Use all liquid and season with salt, pepper and lemon juice. Add Krispy Cracker crumbs, beaten egg and mushrooms which have been sautéed in butter for five minutes. Mix together and fill into greased loaf pan. Sprinkle with grated cheese and top with crumbled Krispy Crackers which have been buttered. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) for 30 minutes. Serves 6.

HUNTING IS MADE BETTER BY RAIN IN ROGUE VALLEY

Because of rainfall, hunting conditions have improved considerably in all parts of the Rogue River national forest, all districts reporting enough precipitation to dampen the forest cover, a U. S. forest service bulletin today said.

Reports from the Dead Indian district reveal that hunting seems to be best in the south end of the district. Several large bucks have been killed around Brush Mountain and Surveyor Peak. It is reported that one party got four large bucks in one bunch. A large number of bear have been seen in various parts of this district and it is believed there will be quite a few hunted after the first of November.

Ducks are reported to be plentiful around Upper Klamath lake. These, however, are all local, but the arrival of the northern geese indicates that the northern ducks will start coming soon.

The report from the Rogue River district shows there have been but four hunting parties in that sector the past week. However, with rain still falling in this district, it is believed that a large number of hunters will be out the next day or so. Indications are that hunting conditions are best above the 4000 foot elevation.

There were two large bucks brought out from the Hershberger Mountain country, and two more taken by local hunters who were in the Trail and Elk creek watershed.

The dry weather most of the time since the hunting season opened seems to have worked a hardship on the hunters in the Butte Falls country; although it is known that four bucks have been killed around Cathill and Blue Rock the first part of this week. Several bucks have also been killed in the vicinity of seven lakes.

A few deer have been reported seen around Innabath and Rustler Peak. Reports also show that quail are quite numerous this season around Butte Falls. The season for these birds will open October 15.

With rain predicted for the Applegate country, along with the showers which occurred this morning, hunters are expected to be quite numerous over the week-end. The roads in this section are in fine condition, with little difficulty encountered in reaching good hunting country.

There have been several bucks killed the past few days in the vicinity of Yellow Jacket, Red Mountain, Skiyoy Gap and Donomore Mountain.

Fishing conditions at present are poor but with the rain they are expected to be greatly improved, especially at Squaw Lake, the forest service bulletin concluded.

Large Frog Order Placed GUELPH, Ont. (UP)—An order for 1,000 frogs a week has been received by the board of trade here from a Detroit man.

PORTLAND PROBE MAY BE WIDENED

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 11.—(AP)—The possibility was seen today that state and even federal officials might be asked to aid in the Portland gambling investigation.

Charles P. Pray, superintendent of state police, and Carl C. Donough, United States district attorney for Oregon, appeared before the inquisitorial body yesterday. Neither would state his mission, although Pray admitted to newspaper men that he knew nothing about gambling in Portland.

Superintendent Pray had just returned from Klamath Falls, where he made a survey of gambling conditions for Governor Charles H. Martin.

Special Prosecutor L. A. Liljeqvist of Marshfield would not comment on the significance of the visit to the grand jury chamber of the high state and federal officials.

The grand jury continued to pore over police records.
