

MARINE MATCHED WITH LONDOS ON ARMORY PROGRAM

The "Mad Marine", Bob Kennaston of Gold Hill, after beating the venerable Karasick of Ruista into submission last Monday, has earned his right to a top main event spot at the Armory next week, according to Promoter Mack Lillard, who today announced that he has signed Jack Londos, 210 pound cousin of the former world champion, Jim Londos, to meet the marine.

In his only appearance here, two weeks ago Londos lost by a close margin to Toots Estes in a close hard match, displaying a distinct knowledge of how to conduct himself in the ring. During that match he had no occasion to become dirty, and Estes breaking clean on only a word from Referee Friebe, but those who have seen him in action against "meanies" state that he is a wildcat when he gets his hair rubbed the wrong way. Very few believe that Kennaston can meet anyone without doing just that.

Chief Thunderbird, large Canadian Indian, tossed Toy Albo about with such ridiculous ease last week that the fans have demanded that he be matched against a good opponent, so Lillard has obliged by signing Babe Smolinsky, Polish war-horse who has appeared here before. Smolinsky's popularity is about of the same caliber as that extended to Kennaston so the match should be a wild-fire affair. Smolinsky is the type of grappler who gets huge delight in smacking an opponent in the face with his ample feet, and if a few blowups go by the board during the party, the more the merrier for the Babe.

As yet Lillard has not been able to sign any more tweak and twitch artists for the opening bout, but stated today that he will have two good men signed by tomorrow. Lillard announced when he changed the wrestling date from Thursday to Monday that he would make up for the irregularity by supplying better cards, and to date has kept his promise.

SALISBURY, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Governor Martin told the state agricultural board today he would recommend an appropriation of $15,000 by the special session of the legislature for improvements on state fair buildings, but that he would not sponsor a bill for the appropriation.

Expensive Pastime WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 15.—(AP) Bob Bieri, the golf pro, figured it cost the duffers $100 last year to play the water hazard at Oglebay Park's fifth tee. Bieri helped wild life league members drain the pool to get some bass from it and recovered 265 golf balls.

Large posters setting forth aviation progress are also displayed at the postoffice. The week was set aside to observe aviation development by proclamation of President Roosevelt.

G. P. EAGLES FUND PROBE PROMISED

GRANTS PASS, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Grand jury hearing on charges of embezzlement filed by D. D. Hall, state organizer of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, against Earl Thompson is expected in about two weeks, the district attorney's office said today.

Thompson, former officer of the Aerie, former placement manager of the county BERA and now with the WPA, was accused last week of collecting $549.80 belonging to the Grants Pass aerie, and converting it to his own use. Hall has been several times conducting an investigation relative to funds in the Eagle state convention held here in July.

Brought before Justice of the Peace E. W. Madison, Thompson waived preliminary hearing and was bound over under $1000 bail, which was furnished.

COUNTY'S BUDGET SAME AS BEFORE; HEARING NOV. 6TH

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Includes Indigent relief, Miscellaneous relief, Mothers' aid, Old age pension, Burials, Hoopstallion, Hospitalization of indigents.

The hospitalization of indigents fund is the only one in the current year beyond the last budget allowance. It is overdrawn $440.74. Arrangements are under way for the state to care for this fund for the balance of the present year. All other funds are well within the budget allowances and no excess is expected in them.

County Judge Day is in Portland attending a session of the county judges of the state to consider plans to have the state take over payment of the indigent fund. If successful the counties will be relieved of the burden.

Offices Within Budget The resume for September shows all county offices within their budget allowances. Up to October 15, the county has expended 74.1 per cent of its allowance; the circuit court 55.2 per cent; the sheriff, 74 per cent; the clerk, 70.2 per cent; the treasurer, 60.6 per cent; school superintendent, 77.1 per cent; the assessor, 82.3 per cent; court house add, 100 per cent; 78.5 per cent; and the county jail, 60 per cent. The same ratio prevails in other offices and departments.

Table with 2 columns: Office, Amount. Includes County court, Circuit court, Clerk, Assessor, Sheriff, Jail, District attorney, Surveyor, Home demonstration agent, Fruit inspector, Court house expense, Health department.

For bridges $30,000 is allotted and for bridge and road maintenance $25,000.

The budget committee completed its work in a half dozen sessions extending over a period of two weeks, and all members signed the budget yesterday evening. The budget is regarded as conservative and fair.

The budget committee composed of J. W. McCoy, banker, Ashland, chairman; H. A. (Bert) Thieroff, lumberman, Medford, secretary; and M. B. Chase, orchardist, Table Rock, as the appointive members, and County Judge Earl B. Day and County Commissioner Ralph Billings and Otto Caster.

It is $300,000 Not $30,000 To the Editor: There are some facts concerning the proposed reservoir bond issue which I think the voters are entitled to know, before they cast their ballots, which I am sure they do not know.

Many are under the impression that if we authorize this bond issue that it will increase the city's bonded indebtedness only $30,000 and that no additional taxes can be levied. This is far from the true facts, and I believe the people should be informed before they vote.

The facts are, the city council is asking for authority to bond for EIGHTY THOUSAND DOLLARS, and that they are authorized to levy a tax upon the property in Medford to pay these bonds.

Under Section 3 of the city ordinance published in the Mail Tribune under date of October 8 calling a special election for October 26 to vote upon this bond issue of EIGHTY THOUSAND dollars to build a new reservoir, the following is one paragraph verbatim of said section 3:

"The council is hereby authorized to levy taxes in addition to all other taxes on the taxable property of the City of Medford in an amount sufficient to pay the principal and interest on the bonds authorized."

The inference which has been put out through some of the news and editorial columns would lead us to believe that the voting of these bonds is merely a formality which we must go through with to enable the water commission to build and pay for a new reservoir. This is not the case.

Medford, October 16. Ed. Note—There has been no attempt to create the impression the people will vote on a bond issue of $30,000. They will vote on a bond issue for $80,000. The fact remains that several years ago the people authorized the bonds for $80,000, which have never been sold, and if the $80,000 bonds are voted, these $80,000 bonds will be cancelled. In other words, only a net increase of approximately $50,000 in the total bonded indebtedness AUTHORIZED BY THE PEOPLE will be involved.

The bonds, of course, are protected by the taxing power of the city—this is necessary to legalize the bonds—but by an arrangement with the water commission, the $80,000 bonds, if voted, will be paid off from water receipts, at the present rates, and therefore will not involve any increase in the property tax levy, nor any increase in the present water rates.

her from her modest home and slung her on the head, later shooting her. He is then said to have dumped her body from his car near where East was in their car.

Witnesses Killed The killer shot Mrs. East, thinking her a witness, and then fired upon the husband. Both died instantly.

Bloody clothing was found in Boyer's Salt Lake apartment and police say that he returned there to change clothes and care. Later, several persons identified Boyer as one of a crowd which gathered around the death scene.

The fourth and fifth victims, George Reith, 33, and Keith Scriat, 26, were struck by bullets while riding past the spot. Two other cars are known to have been hit without injury to passengers.

Drunk When Arrested Boyer was arrested in Salt Lake by police. He was intoxicated.

The former San Diego man said he changed his name in 1922 following his marriage and bankruptcy in Oklahoma, Okla. He said he bought the death gun in Cheyenne, Wyo., but steadfastly maintains his mind is blank regarding any shootings.

Police are checking the theory that he may be implicated in two atrocious attack cases against women in San Diego, and the disappearance Sunday of a Rock Springs, Wyo., hitchhiker he picked up.

In May, he ran down a woman and two children in Winnemucca, Nev., and later paid a $500 fine for drunken driving and $500 damages to the woman.

Mrs. Boyer left here recently for Rochester, Minn., to undergo an operation.

RIFLE MEN SEEK PERSHING AWARD

With only two weeks left for outdoor firing in competition for the General Pershing award, members of the two local national guard companies are putting in all available time this week on the Medford rifle range.

Several members were to practice this afternoon and tomorrow and another full day will be put in on the range Sunday.

Capt. Carl V. Tengwald, commanding officer of Company A, said today that the Medford unit has an excellent chance to be near the top when the national competition closes on October 30 if not to be the actual winner.

The award is made to the regiment that qualifies the greatest number of men in marksmanship.

TWINKLING STARS PROVED REALITY BY ASTRONOMERS

NORTHFIELD, Minn. (UP)—Twinkling stars, once believed only a fantasy of childhood, today are a proven reality, according to astronomical findings just published by Dr. E. A. Fath, of Carleton college here.

Dr. Fath and his assistant studied three stars, finding brightness variations in all three, his report said. The variations, however, can not be seen with the naked eye.

The apparent twinkling of the stars, which we can see, he said, is caused by the action of the atmosphere on light. A perfectly steady light may seem to twinkle under such conditions, as shown by the appearance of a distant electric light or lantern at night.

And to Star Study The variations observed by Dr. Fath coincided with variations in the star's diameters ranging from 6,000 miles in one of the smaller stars to as high as 6,000,000 miles in another. Dr. Fath's discovery may give a new clue to the exact nature of stars, now undetermined, astronomers believe.

In his report, the Carleton astronomer states that small and more or less irregular variations in the light of some of the brighter stars have been detected previously by astronomers, but have been suspected of being either accidental or due to errors of observations.

Measurement of the brightness, which was carried on at the Lick Observatory at Mount Hamilton, Cal., was done with a photo-electric photometer designed by Dr. Fath. Three of the brightest stars in the heavens were studied—Vega, in the constellation Lyra; Beta, in the constellation Canis Major; and Alpha Cygni, the constellation Cygnus, or the Swan. These stars are about 40, 1,000, and 10,000 times, respectively, as bright as the sun.

Radial Velocity Checked While brightness measurements were made, the radial velocity of the stars also was studied. The radial velocity is the speed at which the surface of the star is approaching or receding from the earth.

When these two separate observations were checked, it was discovered that the stars were brightest when the radial velocity was the smallest.

Dr. Fath interprets the coincidence to mean that these stars must be pulsating, that is, expanding and contracting in size. The contraction in the case of Alpha Cygni amounts to about 6,000,000 miles.

SEMON IS SLATED FOR SPEAKERSHIP SPECIAL SESSION

Special session which starts here next Monday. Governor Not Adverse Governor Charles H. Martin is not adverse to the election of Semon. While he again reiterated today he was taking no part in the fight for leadership, he said he considered Semon a fine legislator and a leader in the house. It was indicated the governor would not place any handicaps in the way of Semon's election.

Semon early yesterday had announced himself a candidate for speakership at the request of the younger democratic members of the house. His announcement was made public by Roscoe Krier of The Dalles. During the democratic caucus sessions in Portland, held daily since last Thursday, Semon did not commit himself until it was apparent some upstate member was the only solution.

The new candidate will succeed John E. Coater of Toledo who was named speaker of the regular session over Latourette and Graham Coater was from the first congressional district while Semon is from the second district. Since Harry L. Corbett of Portland is president of the senate

AAA PLANS PURCHASE OF SURPLUS POTATOES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(AP)—The AAA is planning to buy surplus potatoes in an effort to raise prices 15 to 20 cents throughout the country. Five meetings of growers have been scheduled by farm administration officials at which details of the program will be discussed. Approximately $5,000,000 will be spent, it was estimated today, to buy about 12 per cent of the surplus crop and distribute it to the needy or possibly divert it to commercial channels.
